Just Another Car Factory? James Rinehart, Christopher Huxley, David Robertson, 2018-09-05 This study of CAMI Automotive a unionized joint venture between General Motors and Suzuki is the most comprehensive ever undertaken of a lean production plant James Rinehart Christopher Huxley and David Robertson address a topic that has inspired fierce debate in industrial relations sociology labor studies and human resource management Heralded as a model of lean production when it opened in 1989 CAMI promised workers something different from traditional plants a humane environment empowerment and cooperative labor management relations However the enthusiasm workers felt during the orientation and early phases of production steadily declined as did their involvement in participatory activities Workers came to describe CAMI as just another car factory Union challenges and shopfloor resistance to key elements of the lean system grew capped by a five week strike in 1992 The authors attribute workers disillusionment to lean production itself rather than to North American managers inadequate implementation

Alternatives to Lean Production Christian Berggren, 2019-01-24 The Swedish auto industry has developed a distinct production design and work organization exploring alternatives to the assembly line and to the traditional shop floor hierarchy with a model of teamwork that increases independent decision making and elicits strong union commitment Berggren evaluates in detail the reorganization of work within the Swedish auto industry from 1970 to 1990 In his introduction to the new edition he explores the significance of Volvo's decision to close its two most innovative plants

Training For What? Nancy Jackson, 1992-01-01 Are government sponsored training programs a route to greater management control of the workplace or to labour freedom Today as at the time of the book's publication in 1992 training is prominent in public policy and political life The authors in this collection maintain that it is central to management initiatives aimed at the restructuring of the workplace and that governments rely on it as a substitute for coherent industrial policy On the other hand it can enhance workers skills improve working conditions and build a more a more democratic working life Training for What is a collection of papers examining occupational training as a tool of ongoing political struggle in the workplace An Our Schools Our Selves book

States Against Markets Robert Boyer, Daniel Drache, 2005-08-15 This work challenges the popular view that globalization threatens the role of the nation state in determining national policy It examines the fundamental issue of competitiveness and market power in an increasingly borderless and co dependent world Despite this increased threat to the nation state as an effective manager of the national economy the authors argue that there are a number of options and alternatives open to governments to protect themselves from the global business cycle

Asian American Librarians and Library Services Janet Hyunju Clarke, Raymond Pun, Monnee Tong, 2017-12-08 What are the library services and resources that Asian Pacific Americans need What does it mean to be an Asian Pacific American librarian in the 21st century In Asian American Librarians and Library Services Activism Collaborations and Strategies library professionals and scholars share reflections best practices and strategies and convey the critical need for diversity in the LIS field library programming and resources to better reflect the rich and varied experiences and information needs of Asian Americans in the US and beyond The contributors show that they care deeply about diversity that they acknowledge that it is painfully lacking in so many aspects of libraries and librarianship and that libraries and the LIS profession must systematically integrate diversity and inclusion into their strategic priorities and practices indeed in their very mission such that the rich diversity of experiences and histories of Asian Americans in library and archival collections services and programming are not only validated and recognized but also valued and celebrated as vital components of the shared American experience The volume recognizes and honors the creative and intentional work librarians do for their constituent Asian American communities in promoting resources services and outreach

Canada and the Global Economy John N. H. Britton, 1996 A collection of essays by twenty three of Canada's leading economic geographers Canada and the Global Economy is a comprehensive study of the evolving economic and geographic patterns of Canadian development It provides a benchmark for research on the spatial development of the Canadian economy The contributors explore four central themes the locational impacts of the openness of the Canadian economy Canada's relatively simple economic geography in terms of regional variations in resources and urban development the problems of keeping pace with rapid advances in technology and the role of government in maintaining a national market and assisting economic development They outline the essential elements of Canada's contemporary economic geography and highlight the origins and spatial imprint of change in the Canadian economy in particular they provide an assessment of Canada's participation in significant international patterns of economic change Canada and the Global Economy is concerned not only with the economic size and location of consumption and production but also with institutional changes and shifts in employment the sectoral composition of economic activity and the organizational structure and locational behaviour of particular industries and firms Special attention is given to the technological development of both established industries and new service and manufacturing activities A timely addition to the field it provides a geographic perspective on significant changes in jobs and types of work that result from the transformation of economic activities
