The Oxford Handbook of the African Sahel Leonardo A. Villalón, 2021-10-15 Long on the margins of both scholarly and policy concerns the countries of the West African Sahel have recently attracted world attention primarily as a key battleground in the global war on terror This book moves beyond this narrow focus providing a multidimensional and interdisciplinary assessment of the region in all of its complexity The focus is on the six countries at the heart of the Sahelian geographic space Senegal Mauritania Mali Burkina Faso Niger and Chad Collectively the chapters explore the commonalities and interconnections that link these countries and their fates while also underscoring their diversity and the variations in their current realities The Sahel today is at an important crossroads under multiple pressures of diverse kinds environmental political demographic and economic as well as rapidly changing social and religious dynamics It is also marked by striking dynamism and experimentation drawing on a long history of innovation and cultural transfer In many ways the Sahel is today on the cutting edge of grand natural experiments exploring how humans will adapt to climate change to technological innovation to the global movement of populations and the restructuring of world politics to urbanization social change and rapid demographic growth and to inter religious contact The region is a weathervane on the front lines of the forces of global change In nine thematic sections the chapters in this book offer holistic analyses of the key forces shaping the region Including scholars based in Africa Europe and the United States the authors represent an exceptional breadth and depth of expertise on the Sahel

Nomadic and Indigenous Spaces Judith Miggelbrink, Joachim Otto Habeck, Nuccio Mazzullo, Peter Koch, 2016-05-06 This volume is devoted to aspects of space that have thus far been largely unexplored How space is perceived and cognised has been discussed from different stances but there are few analyses of nomadic approaches to spatiality Nor is there a sufficient number of studies on indigenous interpretations of space despite the importance of territory and place in definitions of indigeneity At the intersection of geography and anthropology the authors of this volume combine general reflections on spatiality with case studies from the Circumpolar North and other nomadic settings Spatial perceptions and practices have been profoundly transformed by new technologies as well as by new modes of social and political interaction How do these changes play out in the everyday lives identifications and political projects of nomadic and indigenous people This question has been broached from two seemingly divergent stances spatial cognition on the one hand and production of space on the other Bringing these two approaches together this volume re aligns the different strings of scholarship on spatiality making them applicable and relevant for indigenous and nomadic conceptualizations of space place and territory

Global, Regional and Local Dimensions of Western Sahara's Protracted Decolonization Raquel Ojeda-Garcia,Irene Fernández-Molina,Victoria Veguilla,2016-11-30 This book explores the traces of the passage of time on the protracted and intractable conflict of Western Sahara The authors offer a multilevel analysis of recent developments from the global to the local scenes including the collapse of the architecture of the UN led conflict resolution process the advent of the War on Terror to the the Sahara Sahel area and the impact of the Arab Spring and growing regional security instability Special attention is devoted to changes in the Western Sahara territory annexed by Morocco and the Sahrawi refugee camps in Algeria Morocco has adapted its governance and public policies to profound socio demographic transformations in the territory under its control and has attempted to obtain international recognition for this annexation by proposing an Autonomy Plan The Polisario Front and Sahrawi nationalists have shifted their strategy and pushed the centre of gravity of the conflict back inwards by focusing on pro independence activism inside the disputed territory

Beyond Timbuktu Ousmane Kane,2016-06-07 Timbuktu is famous as a center of learning from Islam s Golden Age Yet it was one among many scholarly centers to exist in precolonial West Africa Ousmane Kane charts the rise of Muslim learning in West Africa from the beginning of Islam to the present day and corrects lingering misconceptions about Africa s Muslim heritage and its influence

Inventing the Berbers Ramzi Rouighi,2019-08-02 Before the Arabs conquered northwest Africa in the seventh century Ramzi Rouighi asserts there were no Berbers There were Moors Mauri Mauretanians Africans and many tribes and tribal federations such as the Leuathae or Musulami and before the Arabs no one thought that these groups shared a common ancestry culture or language Certainly there were groups considered barbarians by the Romans but Barbarian or its cognate Berber was not an ethnonym nor was it exclusive to North Africa Yet today it is common to see studies of the Christianization or Romanization of the Berbers or of their resistance to foreign conquerors like the Carthaginians Vandals or Arabs Archaeologists and linguists routinely describe proto Berber groups and languages in even more ancient times while biologists look for Berber DNA markers that go back thousands of years Taking the pervasiveness of such anachronisms as a point of departure Inventing the Berbers examines the emergence of the Berbers as a distinct category in early Arabic texts and probes the ways in which later Arabic sources shaped by contemporary events imagined the Berbers as a people and the Maghrib as their home Key both to Rouighi s understanding of the medieval phenomenon of the berberization of North Africa and its reverberations in the modern world is the Kit b al ibar of Ibn Khald n d 1406 the third book of which purports to provide the history of the Berbers and the dynasties that ruled in the Maghrib As translated into French in 1858 Rouighi argues the book served to establish a racialized conception of Berber indigenoussness for the French colonial powers who erected a fundamental opposition between the two groups thought to constitute the native populations of North Africa Arabs and Berbers Inventing the Berbers thus demonstrates the ways in which the nineteenth century interpretation of a medieval text has not only served as the basis for modern historical scholarship but also has had an effect on colonial and postcolonial policies and communal identities throughout Europe and North Africa

Un néolithique Ouest-Africain Sylvain Ozainne, 2013 English summary This work provides a better understanding of settlement and population associated with the adoption of agriculture and animal husbandry in Africa during the Neolithic period Gathering information from many years of excavations and research specifically in Mali Sylvain Ozainne establishes a much needed cultural and chronological framework for understanding not just the history of the West Africa but also interactions between nature and society at a time of important economic and technological transition French description Le débat récurrent concernant la définition du Néolithique en Afrique requiert une meilleure connaissance des phénomènes de peuplement associés à l'adoption de l'élevage et de l'agriculture sur le continent A partir d'une synthèse des données archéologiques issues de plusieurs années de prospections et de fouilles cet ouvrage établit une séquence de référence pour l'Holocène récent du Pays dogon Mali entre 2500 et 500 av J C Dans un contexte de recherches pluridisciplinaires ce travail a été réalisé avec l'objectif d'élaborer un cadre chrono-culturel permettant non seulement de restituer l'histoire du peuplement de la région à la fin de la préhistoire mais également d'aborder les interactions entre nature et sociétés au cours d'une période marquée par d'importantes transitions économiques et techniques En decryptant les variations de la séquence du Pays dogon à travers une fenêtre de compréhension étendue à l'échelle ouest-africaine Sylvain Ozainne propose un scénario de peuplement de la bande sahélo-soudanaïenne pendant l'émergence des économies de production et apporte de nouveaux éléments à la discussion sur le Néolithique africain
