Alternative Assessments in Malaysian Higher Education Farrah Dina Yusop, Amira Firdaus, 2022-03-04 This book offers an overview of five categories of alternative assessments used by established and emerging faculty throughout Malaysian institutions of higher education namely peer and self assessment group based assessment performance based assessment portfolio and technology based assessment It features 29 innovative case studies of alternative assessments serving as both inspiration and practical guide for educators planning to design and implement alternative assessments in their own classes Each chapter showcases viable examples of authentic holistic meaningful and effective assessments as practiced by educators in major universities throughout Malaysia This book also provides readers a greater appreciation of the varied forms of alternative assessments that are possible limited only by the individual s innovation and motivation

A Complete Guide to Rubrics Audrey M. Quinlan, 2012 This book takes a developmental perspective at the use of scoring rubrics to assess student work Citing developmental characteristics of each age the author presents examples and adaptations of assessment rubrics on a variety of subjects for teachers from kindergarten through adult college After a presentation of foundation information on rubrics separate chapters are devoted to each grade level from primary through adult Written so that each chapter can be addressed independently the book provides additional chapters devoted to assessing technological topics and using rubrics with students with special needs The final chapters provide practical information to help teachers to create their own rubrics and to covert rubric scores to letter grades An updated annotated listing of recommended rubric websites is included

Confronting Hunger in the USA Adam M. Pine, 2016-07-01 Food insecurity in the US is a critical issue that is experienced by approximately 15% of the population each year Hunger is not caused by an inability to produce enough food for the population but is instead a manifestation of federal agricultural policies that support the overproduction of commodity crops and neoliberal social policies that seek to lower the amount of benefits dispersed to those in need This book focuses on how four different food based community programs address both the physical sensation of hunger as well as the political and economic disempowerment that work against the ability of people experiencing food insecurity to mobilize as a political force Confronting Hunger in the USA argues that most food programs do more to create community among their volunteers than among program participants and tend to reinforce neoliberal understandings of citizenship Community food programs reach out to the most vulnerable members of society in caring and gentle ways and often use the language of alternative economies to articulate a different relationship between the individual and the state However the projects in this study act as individual pieces of the state s insufficient social safety net and are only beginning to articulate a new relationship between food and society

Food Transgressions Michael K. Goodman, Colin Sage, 2016-04-22 Reconnecting so called alternative food geographies back to the mainstream food system especially in light of the discursive and material transgressions currently happening between alternative and conventional food networks this volume critically interrogates and evaluates what stands for food politics in these spaces of transgression now and in the near future and addresses questions such as What constitutes alternative food politics specifically and food politics more generally when organic and other quality foods have become mainstreamed What has been the contribution so far of an alternative food movement and its potential to leverage further progressive change and or make further inroads into conventional systems What are the empirical and theoretical bases for understanding the established and growing transgressions between conventional and alternative food networks Offering a better understanding of the evolving position of the corporate food system vis a vis alternative food networks this book considers the prospects for economic social cultural and material transformations led by an increasingly powerful and legitimated alternative food network
