My Dear Mrs. Roosevelt:

I chanced to glance at an article of yours written some days ago, and was simply astounded to think that anyone could be nitwit enough to wish to be included in the so called social security act if they could possibly avoid it. Call it by any name you wish it, in my opinion (and that of many people I know) nothing but downright stealing. If the individual had any choice in the matter that might not be true but as it stands it certainly is.

The calmness and nerve with which Mr. Roosevelt proceeds to tell the people what is good for them is almost unbelievable. One would think they were so many animals with no opinions or judgment of their own. The only people who could possibly need such domination are those so incompetent and thriftless that they cannot manage any of their private affairs satisfactorily.

There are over 300 awards for English language titles alone but despite the profound impact of children's book awards scholars have paid relatively little attention to them. This book is the first scholarly volume devoted to the analysis of Anglophone children's book awards in historical and cultural context. With attention to both political and aesthetic concerns the book offers original and diverse scholarship on prizing practices and their consequences in Australia, Canada, and especially the United States. Contributors offer both case studies of particular awards and analysis of broader trends in literary evaluation and elevation drawing on theoretical work on canonization and cultural capital. Sections interrogate the complex and often unconscious ideological work of prizing the ongoing tension between formalist awards and so-called identity-based awards all the more urgent in light of the We Need Diverse Books campaign the ever-morphing forms and parameters of prizing and scholarly practices of prizing. Among the many awards discussed are the Pura Belpré Medal the Inky Awards the Canada Governor General Literary Award the Printz Award the Best Animated Feature Oscar the Phoenix Award and the John Newbery Medal giving due attention to prizes for fiction as well as for non-fiction poetry and film. This volume will interest scholars in literary and cultural studies social history book history sociology education library and information science and anyone concerned with children's literature. Through My Eyes Ruby Bridges, 1999 Ruby Bridges recounts the story of her involvement as a six-year-old in the integration of her school in New Orleans in 1960. Integrating Literature in the Disciplines Sharon Kane, 2020-04-22 The Second Edition of this practical and comprehensive resource offers a multitude of ways to incorporate literature into teaching and learning across a range of disciplines.
