

Pharmacology Practice Quiz correct answers 100% 2024

Following the administration of sublingual nitroglycerin to a client experiencing an acute anginal attack, which assessment finding indicates to the nurse that the desired effect has been achieved?

- A) Client states chest pain is relieved.
- B) Client's pulse decreases from 120 to 90.
- C) Client's systolic blood pressure decreases from 180 to 90.
- D) Client's SaO₂ level increases from 92% to 96%. - Correct Answer Client states chest pain is relieved.

Rationale: Nitroglycerin reduces myocardial oxygen consumption which decreases ischemia and reduces chest pain (A). (B and D) would also occur if the angina was relieved, but are not as significant as the client's subjective report of decreased pain. (C) may indicate a reduction in pain, or a potentially serious side effect of the medication.

Following heparin treatment for a pulmonary embolism, a client is being discharged with a prescription for warfarin Coumadin. In conducting discharge teaching, the nurse advises the client to have which diagnostic test monitored regularly after discharge?

- A) Perfusion scan.
- B) Prothrombin Time (PT/INR).
- C) Activated partial thromboplastin (APTT).
- D) Serum Coumadin level (SCL). - Correct Answer Prothrombin Time (PT/INR)

Rationale: When used for a client with pulmonary embolus, the therapeutic goal for warfarin therapy is a PT 1½ to 2½ times greater than the control, or an INR of 2 to 3 (B). A perfusion might be performed to monitor lung function, but not monthly (A). APTT is monitored for the client receiving heparin therapy (C). A blood level for Coumadin cannot be measured (D).

A healthcare provider prescribes cephalexin monohydrate Keflex for a client with a postoperative infection. It is most important for the nurse to assess for what additional drug allergy before administering this prescription?

- A) Penicillins.
