Universal Remote Control Owner's Manual

PLEASE READ CAREFULLY, AND THEN CLOSE COVER
Remote control will sometimes learn that programming when you change the battery. When you do, the remote will learn that it is a new device and will not learn the code for the device you are using.

Do Not remove or insert programming or special code. If you remove or insert programming, the remote will not learn the code for the device you are using. Do not remove or insert programming. Do not remove or insert programming. Do not remove or insert programming.

Step 1: Install your batteries

Your universal remote requires two AAA alkaline batteries (not included).

To install the batteries:

1. Remove the battery compartment cover.
2. Insert the batteries, matching the polarity to the + and - inside inside the battery compartment.
3. Push the battery cover back into place.

Battery Cautions:

- Do not use old and new batteries.
- Do not mix alkaline, standard battery, and rechargeable battery (NiMH or NiCd).
- Always remove old and new or used and batteries completely and remove or replace if there is a possibility of fire, smoke, and electrical explosion.

Battery Tester

Your universal remote control uses battery power to automatically lock up if it has any problems for more than 60 seconds. This means your battery life should be tested at a place where the battery should be replaced, such as a remote code website.

Step 2: Program your remote

To use this universal remote with your home entertainment system, first you need to program it to control your device. There are four ways you can program the universal remote to control your device.

1. The Auto Code Search goes automatically through all the codes for the device you're trying to control. It's the easiest method, but it can sometimes take longer than some of the other programming methods.
2. The Manual Code Search searches through the codes for your device or device. It's an easier way to the auto code search, but it can be faster.
3. The Manual Code Entry lets you enter a code from the programming code list for your device or device. It's not as easy as the other methods, but it's probably the fastest method.
4. The Manual Code Search lets you manually go through all the codes for the device you're trying to control.

Auto Code Search

The Auto Code Search goes automatically through all the codes for the device you're trying to control. When you find the code that controls your device, you can stop the search and save the code.

Do Not interrupt during a code search or you could lose the Auto Code Search. Please see the Auto Code Search.

1. Manually turn on the device you want to control.

2. If you're programming the TV, a VCR, or a DVD, see the TV, VCR, or DVD.

If you're programming the VCR, see the VCR. If you're programming the VCR, see the VCR. If you're programming the VCR, see the VCR.

When you find the code, you can stop the search and save the code. When you find the code, you can stop the search and save the code. When you find the code, you can stop the search and save the code.

3. Press and hold the device's power button to program. While you're holding down the device's power button, you can stop the search and save the code. When you find the code, you can stop the search and save the code.

4. Test and the device's power button on the device. If the device turns on, the code is correct.
