PREPATORY NOTE All sciences are characterized by a close approach to exact measurement How many of them could have made much progress without units of measurement generally understood and accepted it is difficult to imagine In order to determine the pressure of steam we do not take a popular vote we consult a gauge Concerning a patient's temperature we do not ask for anybody's opinion we read a thermometer In economics however as in education though the need for quantitative measurement is as great as in physics or in medicine we have been guided in the past largely by opinions and guesses In the future we must substitute measurement for guesswork Toward this end we must all agree upon instruments of measurement
