The Dispositif Valérie Larroche, 2019-04-10 The notion of the dispositif/dispositive is particularly relevant for understanding phenomena where one can observe the reproducibility of distributed technical activities operational or discursive between human and non human actors This book reviews the concept of the dispositif through various disciplinary perspectives analyzing in turn its technical organizational and discursive dimensions The relations of power and visibility enrich these discussions Regarding information and communication sciences three main uses of this concept are presented on the one hand to illustrate the heuristic scope of issues integrating the dispositive and on the other hand to demonstrate its unifying aspect in this disciplinary field The first use concerns the complexity of media content production the second relates to activity traces using the concept of the secondary information dispositive finally the third involves the use of the dispositive in contexts of digital participation

The International History of Communication Study Peter Simonson, David W. Park, 2015-10-14 The International History of Communication Study maps the growth of media and communication studies around the world Drawing out transnational flows of ideas institutions publications and people it offers the most comprehensive picture to date of the global history of communication research and education This volume reaches into national and regional areas that have not received much attention in the scholarship until now including Asia Latin America Africa and the Middle East alongside Europe and North America It also covers communication study outside of academic settings in international organizations like UNESCO and among commercial and civic groups It moves beyond the traditional canon to cover work by forgotten figures including women scholars in the field and those outside of the United States and Europe and it situates them all within the broader geopolitical institutional and intellectual landscapes that have shaped communication study globally Intended for scholars and graduate students in communication media studies and journalism this volume pushes the history of communication study in new directions by taking an aggressively international and comparative perspective on the historiography of the field Methodologically and conceptually the volume breaks new ground in bringing comparative transnational and global frames to bear and puts under the spotlight what has heretofore only lingered in the penumbra of the history of communication study

Mapping Communication and Media Research Juha Koivisto, Peter D. Thomas, 2010 Communication and media research is analysed in this study as a hegemonic apparatus or a terrain of conflicting forces and organisation forms upon which social cultural and political projects and values are produced criticised and challenged Drawing upon a series of detailed reports covering communication and media research internationally from Germany France Belgium The Netherlands Finland Estonia the USA Australia Japan and South Korea the study provides a global overview of the contemporary situation and assesses future challenges and opportunities Key information includes university departments professorships and research centres doctoral studies gender relations research funding internationalisation and publishing and the impact of university reform

Digitalization of Society and Socio-political Issues 1 Éric

George, 2020-02-26 Digitalization is a long and constant sociohistoric process in which all areas of society's activities are reconfigured. Digitalization of Society and Socio-political Issues 1 examines the transformations linked to the development of digital platforms and social media which affect the cultural and communicational industries. It analyzes the formation of Big Data, their algorithmic processing and the societal changes which result in social monitoring and control in particular. Through critical views it equally presents the various ways in which technology participates in relations of power and domination and contributes to possible emancipatory practices.

Mediation Jacqueline Deschamps, 2019-01-23 Mediation is a very old practice that has been reborn to meet the needs of the contemporary world. It is thus increasingly present in today's societies. This book presents the theoretical foundations of mediation as well as the way in which teachers and researchers in Information and Communication Sciences (ICS) have taken up this concept. Whether it is communicational, informational, cultural, organizational or societal, mediation belongs to a field of research instituted by ICS which sees in it a process of overcoming conflict, restoring communication and deconstructing social connections. Mediation: A Concept for Information and Communication Sciences inaugurates this set through its contribution to a state of the art of the theory and concepts used by the ICS community. It is addressed to teachers, researchers and students as well as information professionals wishing to think about their daily practice.

Information Practices and Knowledge in Health Celine Paganelli, Viviane Clavier, 2022-02-24 In the field of health information practices and the organization of knowledge constitute a major challenge today. The practices of the medical profession or of patients are evolving under the influence of digital technology. At the same time, the way in which medical knowledge is organized, represented and mediated is also evolving. Information Practices and Knowledge in Health addresses the different aspects of the field of specialized medical and health information; it focuses on the informational practices of professionals in the sector of patients and more broadly of citizens with regards to their health. This book also considers the systems that are used for organizing knowledge in this field.

Enseigner l'information-documentation GARDIES Cécile, 2017-10-26 Ce guide pédagogique répond une demande d'outils pour la mise en œuvre des enseignements en information-documentation. Il est issu d'un travail collectif du groupe d'animation et de professionnalisation GAP documentation. Un des objectifs de ce groupe est de laborer un cadre innovant pour analyser les pratiques pédagogiques en lien avec l'enseignement des concepts en information-documentation. Il vise ainsi ancrer les savoirs enseigner dans leurs savoirs scientifiques de référence. Ainsi, partir des savoirs de référence et des programmes, savoirs enseigner, cet ouvrage propose une définition des textes du savoir relatifs trois concepts fondamentaux de l'information-documentation : l'information, le document et le système d'information. La structuration de ces textes reflète l'articulation des dimensions constitutives de chacune des notions que l'élève doit s'approprier. En proposant des clés des pistes de réflexion, des méthodes d'analyse de pratiques et des ressources concrètes, progressions, cours, exercices, CCF pour aborder l'enseignement de la documentation principalement en BTS et baccalauréat professionnel, ce guide pédagogique se présente comme un v
