Global Child Myriam Denov, Claudia Mitchell, Marjorie Rabiau, 2023-01-13 Armed conflicts continue to wreak havoc on children and families around the world with profound effects In 2017 420 million children nearly one in five were living in conflict affected areas an increase in 30 million from the previous year The recent surge in war induced migration referred to as a global refugee crisis has made migration a highly politicized issue with refugee populations and host countries facing unique challenges We know from research related to asylum seeking families that it is vital to think about children and families in relation to what it means to stay together what it means for parents to be separated from their children and the kinds of everyday tensions that emerge in living in dangerous insecure and precarious circumstances In Global Child the authors draw on what they have learned through their collaborative undertakings and highlight the unique features of participatory arts based and socio ecological approaches to studying war affected children and families demonstrating the collective strength as well as the limitations and ethical implications of such research Building on work across the Global South and the Global North this book aims to deepen an understanding of their tri pillared approach and the potential of this methodology for contributing to improved practices in working with war affected children and their families

Creative Arts-Based Research in Aged Care Evonne Miller, 2021-03-29 This timely book explores what it is like to live in an aged care home the expectations that new residents and their families enter with their relationships with fellow residents and formal caregivers and how they approach in different ways the reality that this place is where they will die Creative Arts Based Research in Aged Care draws on an immersive semi longitudinal four year study and purposely privileges the voices and perspective of older residents Using creative arts based qualitative research methods specifically participatory photography and research poetry it demonstrates the experience of contemporary aged care from the perspective of those who matter most older residents Divided into three parts covering entering residential aged care daily life in aged care and dying in aged care the book stimulates debate and discussion about current practice and the future of aged care in the context of rapid population ageing and care automation It is essential reading for all scholars and students working in the fields of gerontology social work psychology design and nursing particularly those tasked with redesigning aged care in the twenty first century Rethinking Strategy for Creative Industries Milan Todorovic, with Ali

Bakir, 2016-03-02 Creative Industry practices are increasingly manifested through hybrid models and methods and emerging sub sectors With ever finer dividing lines between form and content product and service participation and consumption the distinctions between sectors are increasingly blurred while new convergent models emerge Reflecting this fluid context this book provides a new perspective on strategy in the Creative Industries Based on extensive original research and live empirical data derived from case studies interviews and observations with creative managers it reveals strategic decision making by analysing business manoeuvres and stages of innovation in the Creative Industries Through analysing the interactive features of aesthetically driven information assets and how new user consumer cultures are applied it uncovers the principles that are transforming strategy in the Creative Industries This innovative volume will be of significant interest to scholars advanced students and practitioners in the Creative Industries as well as industry consultancies and practitioners Cases on Innovation and Sustainability in Tourism Dias, Alvaro Lopes, 2024-05-30 The tourism industry faces a critical challenge balancing its economic benefits with the growing environmental and social impacts it generates This delicate equilibrium calls for innovative solutions that drive sustainability while maintaining financial viability Cases on Innovation and Sustainability in Tourism presents a compelling response to this challenge offering insightful case studies showcasing successful innovations in sustainable tourism practices By highlighting these innovative solutions the book provides a roadmap for industry stakeholders to adopt sustainable practices without compromising profitability Through a diverse range of cases this book demonstrates how emerging technologies innovative business models and destination management strategies can contribute to a more sustainable tourism industry Academics practitioners and policymakers will find valuable insights and inspiration within these pages encouraging them to implement similar initiatives in their organizations and regions The Culture Industry and Participatory Audiences Emma Keltie, 2017-01-19 This project offers a new critique of participatory media practices While the concept of participatory culture is often theorised as embodying the possibility of a potentially utopian future of media engagement and participation this book argues that the culture industry as it adapts and changes provides moments of authorised participation that play out under the dominance of the industry Through a critical recounting of the experience of creating a web series in Australia with a global audience outside of the culture industry structures this book argues that whilst participatory culture employing convergent media technologies enables media consumers to become media producers this takes place through platforms controlled by industry The emerging architecture of the Internet has created a series of platforms where div participation can take place It is these platforms that become spaces of controlled access to participatory cultural practices The Routledge International Handbook of Intercultural Arts Research Pamela Burnard, Elizabeth Mackinlay, Kimberly Powell, 2016-01-08 For artists scholars researchers educators and students of arts theory interested in culture and the arts a proper understanding of the questions surrounding interculturality and the arts requires a full understanding of the creative methodological and interconnected possibilities of theory practice and research The International Handbook of Intercultural Arts Research provides concise and comprehensive reviews and overviews of the convergences and divergences of intercultural arts practice and theory offering a consolidation of the breadth of scholarship practices and the contemporary research methodologies methods and multi disciplinary analyses that are emerging within this new field The Doctoral Experience Donna Lee Brien, Craig Batty, Elizabeth Ellison, Alison Owens, 2020-01-03 This book offers important insights into the challenging yet rewarding journey of undertaking a PhD Written by students for students the book explores a range of case studies from creative arts and humanities doctoral students embracing a cognitive emotional and transformational metaphor of the journey The volume is organised around themes and concerns identified as important by PhD students such as building resilience and working with supervisors and includes personal stories case studies scholarly signposts and key take away points relevant to all doctoral settings With perspectives from all stages of the doctoral journey this book is sure to become a valuable support to students and supervisors alike as well as those working in research education and training

Murdoch, 2017-03-17 Human Rights Law in Scotland Fourth Edition provides essential practical guidance to the Scottish legal profession Written by two distinguished authors the work explores the impact of human rights legislation in Scotland and provides a comprehensive review of ECHR European Court of Human Rights jurisprudence and relevant domestic legislation and case law as well as an overview of Strasbourg enforcement machinery The fourth edition of this highly regarded work has been fully updated to reflect legislative changes to the Scotland Act 2012 amending the Scotland Act 1998 and coverage of two new Protocols to the ECHR as well as new case law and developments in jurisprudence This highly regarded title is essential reading for legal practitioners government agencies students and others who require a clear and up to date guide to the application of European human rights law in Scotland Previous print edition ISBN 9781847665560 This title is included in Bloomsbury Professional s Scottish Law Scots Law Student and Scottish Criminal law online services The Rule of Law in the European Union Theodore Konstadinides, 2017-09-21 This is a book about the internal dimension of the rule of law in the European Union EU The EU is a community based on law which adheres to and promotes a set of common values between the Member States The preservation of these values such as legality legal certainty prohibition of arbitrariness respect for fundamental rights is pivotal to the success of European integration and the well being of the individuals within it Yet the EU rule of law suffers from an imposter syndrome and has been the subject of criticism ie that it is only part of the EU agenda in order to legitimise sweeping new powers and policies and that it plays little or no role in promoting a culture of compliance for either deviant EU Institutions or for Member States This book will examine whether the EU rule of law deserves those criticisms It will offer an analytical guide to the EU rule of law by conceptualising it and locating it within the sources of EU law It will then ask whether the EU is based on the rule of law a question which is answered in the affirmative but one which has to be considered in the context of compliance and the overall effectiveness of the EU enforcement acquis It is argued that while the EU means well in its aim to preserve unity in an increasingly diversified Europe the extent to which it can pave the way to a better world based on a transnational rule of law concept akin to good governance and improvement of citizens lives is dependent on the commitment of all European integration stakeholders to the EU project
