Food, Feminisms, Rhetorics Melissa A. Goldthwaite, 2017-06-19 Inspired by the need for interpretations and critiques of the varied messages surrounding what and how we eat Food Feminisms Rhetorics collects eighteen essays that demonstrate the importance of food and food related practices as sites of scholarly study particularly from feminist rhetorical perspectives Contributors analyze messages about food and bodies from what a person watches and reads to where that person shops taken from sources mundane and literary personal and cultural This collection begins with analyses of the historical cultural and political implications of cookbooks and recipes explores definitions of feminist food writing and ends with a focus on bodies and cultures both self representations and representations of others for particular rhetorical purposes The genres objects and practices contributors study are varied from cookbooks to genre fiction from blogs to food systems from product packaging to paintings but the overall message is the same food and its associated practices are worthy of scholarly attention

The Roughcut Cookbook, Waitrose Food Illustrated, 2004 The Oxford Companion to Food Alan Davidson, 2014 Twenty years in the making the first edition of this bestselling reference work appeared in 1999 to worldwide acclaim Combining serious and meticulously researched facts with entertaining and witty commentary it has been deemed unique by chefs and reviewers around the globe It contains both a comprehensive catalog of foodstuffs crackers and cookies named for battles and divas body parts from toe to cerebellum breads from Asia to the Mediterranean and a richly allusive account of the culture of food whether expressed in literature and cook books or as dishes special to a country or community Retaining Alan Davidson's wisdom and wit this new edition also covers the latest developments across the whole spectrum of this subject Tom Jaine has taken the opportunity to update the text and alert readers to new perspectives in food studies There is new coverage on attitudes towards food consumption production and perception such as food and genetics food and sociology and obesity New entries include terms such as convenience foods gastronomy fusion food leftovers obesity local food and many more There are also new entries on important personalities who are of special significance within the world of food among them Clarence Birdseye Henri Nestle and Louis Pasteur Now in its third edition the Companion maintains its place as the foremost food reference resource for study and home use

Fats in Food Technology Kanes K. Rajah, 2014-02-07 Fats are present in some form in the vast majority of processed foods we consume as well as in many natural products Changes in consumer behaviour centered around an increased emphasis on healthy food consumption mean that it is more important than ever for food scientists to understand the properties roles and behaviours that fats play in food and in diets Fats in Food Technology Second Edition is an in depth examination of the roles and behaviours of fats in food technology and the benefits that they impart to consumers It considers both fats that are naturally present in foods such as milk fat in cheese and fats that have been added to improve physical chemical and organoleptic properties like cocoa butter in chocolate Newly revised and updated the book contains useful information on the market issues that have driven change and the disciplines that have helped to regulate the trade and use of fats and oils in food technology Drawing on the recent literature as well as the personal R D experiences of the authors the book highlights those areas where potential efficiencies in processing and economy in the cost of raw materials can be made Issues concerning health diet and lifestyle are covered in dedicated chapters This book will be useful to anyone in industry and research establishments who has an interest in the technology of fat containing food products including scientists in the dairy spreads bakery confectionery and wider food industries as well those involved in the production of edible oils      The Penguin Companion to Food Alan Davidson,2002
