Cajun and Creole Folktales Barry Jean Ancelet, 2015-06-19 This teeming compendium of tales assembles and classifies the abundant lore and storytelling prevalent in the French culture of southern Louisiana. This is the largest, most diverse and best annotated collection of French language tales ever published in the United States. Side by side are dual language retellings in Cajun French and its English translation along with insightful commentaries. This volume reveals the long and lively heritage of the Louisiana folktale among French Creoles and Cajuns and shows how tale telling in Louisiana through the years has remained vigorous and constantly changing. Some of the best storytellers of the present day are highlighted in biographical sketches and are identified by some of their best tales. Their repertory includes animal stories, magic stories, jokes, tall tales, Pascal improvised stories and legendary tales, all of them colorful examples of Louisiana narrative at its best. Though greatly transformed since the French arrived on southern soil, the French oral tradition is alive and flourishing today. It is even more complex and varied than has been shown in previous studies for revealed here are African influences as well as others that have been filtered from America's multicultural mainstream.

Edgar Allan Poe

Charles Baudelaire, 1973-12-15 The earliest foreign study of the life and works of Edgar Allan Poe, the text presented in this volume is something of a landmark in the history of comparative literature. Baudelaire's first and longest essay on Poe was published in the Revue de Paris in 1852; it was revised and abridged for use as the preface of the first volume of his translation of Poe's tales, Histoires extraordinaires. This study was significant especially in the area of Franco-American literary relations because it was the basis of not only the French attitude toward Poe but of his reputation throughout Europe; one might almost say, throughout the world. The essay on Poe has never been the subject of a separate publication. This edition reveals for the first time the sources of information used by Baudelaire. It shows that a considerable part of the study was translated literally.

from articles by John M Daniel and John R Thompson in the Southern Literary Messenger 1849 50 Previous editions vary widely in excellence because almost all suffered from the mistaken belief that Baudelaire was acquainted with the American edition of Poe's works when he wrote the 1852 essay and that it was largely based on Rufus Griswold's Memoir contained in that edition This led to the commentary and notes that were unconsciously misleading and in many cases false The introduction to this edition presents a complete and accurate account of the genesis of Baudelaire's essay with supporting documents showing his indebtedness to American French and British sources It enables the reader to distinguish clearly between what Baudelaire himself knew or thought about Poe and what he borrowed from other writers     Magazine of Fine Arts ,1906     Procès-verbaux des séances du comité, 16 juin-24 juillet 1920, avec annexes League of Nations.
