FCC Record United States. Federal Communications Commission, 2012      Concepts of Company Law Anne Lafarre, Christoph van der Elst, 2025-04-09 Employing detailed case studies and real world examples this accessible textbook presents a clear overview of the core concepts of company law The text will provide readers with a holistic understanding of the theoretical financial societal and practical aspects of company law      Negotiating Empire Solsiree del Moral, 2013-03-15 After the United States invaded Puerto Rico in 1898 the new unincorporated territory sought to define its future Seeking to shape the next generation and generate popular support for colonial rule U S officials looked to education as a key venue for promoting the benefits of Americanization At the same time public schools became a site where Puerto Rican teachers parents and students could formulate and advance their own projects for building citizenship In Negotiating Empire Solsiree del Moral demonstrates how these colonial intermediaries aimed for regeneration and progress through education Rather than seeing U S empire in Puerto Rico during this period as a contest between two sharply polarized groups del Moral views their interaction as a process of negotiation Although educators and families rejected some tenets of Americanization such as English language instruction they also redefined and appropriated others to their benefit to increase literacy and skills required for better occupations and social mobility Pushing their citizenship building vision through the schools Puerto Ricans negotiated a different school project one that was reformist yet radical modern yet traditional colonial yet nationalist      Obstetrics for Schools Rachel Macfarlane, 2021-04-27 In Obstetrics for Schools A guide to eliminating failure and ensuring the safe delivery of all learners Rachel Macfarlane presents a powerful manifesto for school leaders and teachers on how they can bridge the advantage gap and deliver positive outcomes for all pupils In most parts of the world the death of a baby in childbirth is now a rare tragedy rather than a common occurrence and it would be considered shocking for medical staff to accept a significant infant fatality rate It s also inconceivable that a hospital would have a successful delivery target much below 100% How could anything else be acceptable in this day and age Yet there is an expectation and acceptance of baked in educational failure for around a third of 16 year olds in UK schools each year Such outcomes need addressing and this book does just that In Obstetrics for Schools Rachel Macfarlane draws on her experience as a head teacher and system leader to share a multitude of practical strategies for overcoming potential barriers to success presenting case studies and examples of effective practice from schools across the country The book illustrates an up to date and research informed picture of the current state of the education system and offers sage guidance on how schools can do more for each and every student In doing so Rachel provides a range of fresh approaches to school provision which have been proven to have an impact in a variety of challenging contexts Each chapter focuses on a key potential barrier to success and offers school leaders and practitioners a range of strategies to help dismantle them The book also provides guidance on strategic planning as well as a variety of ideas and inspiration for staff training Suitable for school leaders and teachers in all phases from early years to sixth form and in both mainstream and special education

JB Gender and Politics in the Age of Letter-Writing, 1750-2000 Máire Cross, 2017-05-15 Letters have long been an outlet for political expression whether they articulate the personal politics of the daily routine or the political views of individuals who witness or participate in dramatic events In addition letters can be unusually revealing records of the relations between men and women Though letters have frequently been studied as a privileged space for literary social and cultural expression the three dimensional relationship of politics gender and letters has not been the focus of an entire volume The nineteen essays in this collection examine how the gendered nature of political literacy is revealed over a 250 year period through letter writing whether the writer is famous or unknown the wife of a prominent politician or activist a political prisoner or political militant Ranging wide in terms of subject matter and geography the contributors examine correspondence that ponders familial concerns as well as letters providing political commentary on the effects of war or revolution on everyday life Among the impressive group of international scholars are Jim Allen Clare Brant Edith Gelles Jane Rendall and Si n Reynolds

Caring for Mom and Dad Susan Stein-Roggenbuck, 2023-10-05 Throughout the twentieth century the United States implemented social policies targeting the needs of dependent parents parents who were no longer able to work but lacked sufficient financial resources to support themselves These parent dependency policies either encouraged or required family members particularly adult children to provide support as an alternative to government benefits Debates over how best to support aging parents centered on conceptualizations of dependency and the moral obligations family owed their parents Measures of dependency often inhibited aging Americans access to benefits they needed focusing instead on ensuring that they were in fact dependent and that other family resources were not available Susan Stein Roggenbuck highlights this understudied aspect of the modern US welfare state highlighting the limited support provided to aging parents and the hardship they and their adult children endured in the efforts to minimize public expenditures
