Department of State,1979 Cold War Radio Mark G. Pomar,2022-10 Cold War Radio is a fascinating look at how the United States waged the Cold War through the international broadcasting of Voice of America VOA and Radio Free Europe Radio Liberty RFE RL Mark G Pomar served in senior positions at VOA and RFE RL from 1982 to 1993 during which time the Reagan and Bush administrations made VOA and RFE RL an important part of their foreign policy VOA is America's national voice broadcasting in more than forty languages and is charged with explaining U.S. government policies and telling America's story with the aim of gaining the respect and goodwill of its target audience. During the Cold War the VOA Russian Service broadcast twenty-four hours a day seven days a week. RFE/RL is a private corporation funded until 1971 by the CIA and afterward through open congressional appropriations. It broadcast in more than twenty languages of Central and Eastern Europe and Eurasia and functioned as a home service located abroad. Its Russian Service broadcast news, feature programming, and op-eds that would have been part of daily political discourse if Russia had free media. Pomar takes readers inside the two radio stations to show how the broadcasts were conceived and developed and the impact they had on international broadcasting, U.S.-Soviet relations, Russian political and cultural history, and the dissolution of the Soviet Union. Pomar provides nuanced analysis of the broadcasts and sheds light on the multifaceted role the radios played during the Cold War, ranging from instruments of U.S. Cold War policy to repositories of independent Russian culture, literature, philosophy, religion, and the arts. Cold War Radio breaks new ground as Pomar integrates his analysis of Cold War radio programming with the long-term aims of U.S. foreign policy, illuminating the role of radio in the peaceful end of the Cold War.

The Tain of Hamlet Laurie Johnson, 2014-10-17 Shakespeare's Hamlet is considered by many to be the cornerstone of the English literary canon, a play that remains universally relevant. Yet it seems likely that we have spent so long reading the play for its capacity to reflect ourselves that we have lost sight of the thing itself. The goal of this book is to look beyond the Hamlet that has bedazzled critics for centuries to seek to apprehend the play in all of its historical distinctness. This is not simply the search for what the play means.

Dacotah, 1923 Helsinki Process John Fry, 1994-05 Gogmagog Jeff Noon, Steve Beard, 2024-02-13 From the highly celebrated and award-winning authors Jeff Noon and Steve Beard comes Gogmagog, the first book in an adventurous seafaring duology perfect for fans of Mervyn Peake. Gogmagog tells the story of an epic journey through the sixty-mile-long ghost of a dragon. We travel by boat, a rickety steam launch captained by Cady Meade, a veteran taxi pilot on the river Nysis. In her heyday, she carried people and goods from the thriving seaports of the estuary into Ludwich, the capital city. But that was years ago. Now she's drunk, holed up in a rundown seaside resort, telling her bawdy tales for shots of rum. All that's about to change when two strangers seek her out, asking for transport, one of whom a young girl is very ill and in great danger. The other, an artificial being of singular character, has secrets hidden inside his crystal skull. And so begins the voyage of the

Juniper The Nysis is unlike any other river Mysteries unfold with each port of call Not many can navigate these channels not many know of its whirlpools and sandbanks and of the ravenous creatures that lurk beneath the surface Cady used to have the necessary knowledge and the powers of spectral navigation But her glory days are well behind her now This might well be her final journey The German Cinema Book Tim Bergfelder, Erica Carter, Deniz Göktürk, Claudia Sandberg, 2020-02-20 This comprehensively revised updated and significantly extended edition introduces German film history from its beginnings to the present day covering key periods and movements including early and silent cinema Weimar cinema Nazi cinema the New German Cinema the Berlin School the cinema of migration and moving images in the digital era Contributions by leading international scholars are grouped into sections that focus on genre stars authorship film production distribution and exhibition theory and politics including women s and queer cinema and transnational connections Spotlight articles within each section offer key case studies including of individual films that illuminate larger histories Heimat Downfall The Lives of Others The Edge of Heaven and many more stars from Ossi Oswalda and Hans Albers to Hanna Schygulla and Nina Hoss directors including F W Murnau Walter Ruttmann Wim Wenders and Helke Sander and film theorists including Siegfried Kracauer and B la Bal zs The volume provides a methodological template for the study of a national cinema in a transnational horizon
