The First Supper A Tale Of Two Hours:

Women Film Editors David Meuel,2016-05-30 When the movie business adopted some of the ways of other big industries in 1920s America women who had been essential to the industry's early development were systematically squeezed out of key behind the camera roles Yet as female producers and directors virtually disappeared for decades a number of female film editors remained and rose to the top of their profession sometimes wielding great power and influence Their example inspired a later generation of women to enter the profession at mid century several of whom were critical to revolutionizing filmmaking in the 1960s and 1970s with contributions to such classics as Bonnie and Clyde Jaws and Raging Bull Focusing on nine of these women and presenting shorter glimpses of nine others this book tells their captivating personal stories and examines their professional achievements
