Pigs That Ate the Garden Peter D. Dwyer,2025-10-01 In The Pigs that Ate the Garden Peter D Dwyer examines the subsistence ecology of 109 Etolo people who live on the wet forested mountain slopes of Papua New Guinea Dwyer describes the community's method of deliberately placing pigs in gardens so that the pigs depredate the vegetation there He shows how this practice is actually the community's method of sending a message to itself that serves to resynchronize a switch from sweet potato gardening to sago starch processing The interrelationships of the different food producing activities of the Etolo gardening hunting tree crop cultivation etc are shown to have seasonal rhythms and these rhythms maximize the Etolo's use of food resources at appropriate times and areas Dwyer argues that the shape of Etolo ecology is ultimately driven by socio cultural rather than environmental forces and is set within a theoretical frame concerning processes of communication and change in open systems
