The Dynamics Of Architectural Form:

The Dynamics of Architectural Form Rudolf Arnheim, 1977 The power of the visual effects exerted by architecture in our own time and in the past has been largely neglected in recent discussion with its focus on practical utility and other economic and social factors Such an account of the human needs met by architecture remains sadly incomplete unless the expressive visual qualities of buildings are recognized as among their foremost effects A fresh approach is overdue an attempt to analyze these psychological qualities with the principles of visual perception Such an attempt is made in this new volume by Rudolf Arnheim who has been known since the publication of his Art and Visual Perception as an authority on the psychological interpretation of the visual arts As he now turns his experienced eye to the visual aspects of buildings he amplifies his theories with new features specific to the medium of the architect Arnheim explores the unexpected perceptual consequences of architecture with his customary clarity and precision Of particular interest is his thorough analysis of order and disorder in design the nature of visual symbolism and the relations between practical function and perceptual expression Arnheim's ability to deal with theoretical principles in a concrete and easily accessible way assures him the attention of the general reader whose concern with the arts leads to the aesthetic and psychological aspects of the broader environment At the same time Arnheim's strikingly original approach will stimulate professionals and students concerned with the theory and practice of modern and historical architecture

Tucker, Randal Dickinson, 2021-07-29 The Making of Things is about effect and intention in the schematic architectural model a deep dive into the nature of architectonic form as the underlying syntax for all architectural work By focusing on primitive geometries alongside fundamental principles of architectural thinking and making this book enhances the reader's capacity to intellectually and physically craft models that effectively communicate intention With over 650 diagrams this book acts as an expansive visual glossary that reveals the underlying structure of architectonics and acts as an encyclopedia of formal possibilities Supporting essays in the book explore the nature of perception abstraction and metaphor to provide a theoretical basis of formal effects in architecture This structure enables readers to make clear and direct connections between the things you construct and the reasons you construct them This book is a bridge from the what to the why of form making It is a pedagogical notebook a design primer that prompts discourse about the nature of objects This is a must have desk reference for beginning architecture and interior design students to stimulate their creative approaches and gain foundational knowledge of the underlying effects of formal typologies and how they manifest themselves in built forms around the world

The Allegorical Architectural Machine Daniel K. Brown, Michael Chapman, 2024-10-28 The intersection of architecture and the machine has a history that stretches back to the Industrial Revolution however the machine has recently begun to appear in new ways in speculative architectural drawing and modelling This issue of AD considers the influence of the machine as an allegorical device for exploring alternative architectural practices and includes a cross section of viewpoints from emerging and established international practitioners and academics Allegory a technique native to literature provides a critical method through which machine typologies can contribute to deeper architectural narratives offering new lenses for challenging or reassembling conventional modes of thought An allegorical architectural project can unveil a story that enhances our awareness of something important This AD reveals how engagement with the machine as an allegorical device in architectural discourse provides an avenue for architecture to provoke new ideas in response to current environmental political economic cultural and social issues At the forefront of this discussion it extends the criticality of the topic within the broader spectrum of history theory philosophy allegory and new technologies

Multiform Owen

Hopkins, Erin McKellar, 2021-02-23 Guest edited by Owen Hopkins and Erin McKellar Our current moment is one of profound political and economic change Historically these moments of transition have seen a parallel period of cultural and notably architectural flux In the late 1970s this was manifested in Postmodernism Today a number of architects are looking again at this movement and redeploying a range of its tactics and approaches using contemporary methods and techniques These include different modes of collage formal reference and quotation stylistic eclecticism symbolism in form material and ornament and the bold expressive use of colour both natural and synthetic While the design that results from these multiform tactics and approaches has been seen as a kind of neo Postmodernism this issue argues that this is a simplistic and superficial reading Instead it posits this phenomenon as the architectural attempt both conscious and unconscious to reflect grapple with and make sense of the current political and economic transition and the backdrop of the climate emergency Rather than responding to this situation by attempting to marshal architecture around a single unifying narrative this issue makes the case for the transformative possibilities offered by an approach that is ad hoc eclectic and pluralist Contributors Mat Barnes Jennifer Bonner Graham Burn James Crawford and Alexander Turner Mario Carpo David Knight and Cristina Monteiro David Kohn Stephen Parnell Lera Samovich Geoff Shearcroft Dirk Somers Catrina Stewart and Hugh McEwen L a Catherine Szacka and Amin Taha Featured architects AOC Architecture Bovenbouw Architectuur CAN Groupwork David Kohn Architects DK CM Fala Atelier MALL Studio MUTT Office S M Walala Studio Yinka Ilori Studio The Barcelona Pavilion by Mies van der Rohe Dietrich Neumann, 2020-12-07 While Mies van der Rohe s pavilion at the International Exposition in Barcelona in 1929 went unnoticed by most of the visitors to the fairgrounds contemporary critics enthusiastically hailed it as the most convincing statement of the Modern Age This book presents 100 selected texts about this much discussed building written then and now from the opening speech by the Spanish king to newspaper articles and private letters voices of contemporary architects architecture critics and historians and even a text by artist Ai Weiwei who created an installation in the outdoor area of the pavilion in 2010 Thus the history of this building s reception depicts a dazzling picture and inconceivable breadth including statements by such eminent authors as Frank Lloyd Wright Leonardo Benevolo Rem Koolhaas Peter Eisenman Hagia Sophia and the Byzantine Aesthetic Experience Nadine Schibille, 2016-04-22 Paramount in the shaping of early Byzantine identity was the construction of the church of Hagia Sophia in Constantinople 532 537 CE This book examines the edifice from the perspective of aesthetics to define the concept of beauty and the meaning of art in early Byzantium Byzantine aesthetic thought is re evaluated against late antique Neoplatonism and the writings of Pseudo Dionysius that offer fundamental paradigms for the late antique attitude towards art and beauty These metaphysical concepts of aesthetics are ultimately grounded in experiences of sensation and perception and reflect the ways in which the world and reality were perceived and grasped signifying the cultural identity of early Byzantium There are different types of aesthetic data those present in the aesthetic object and those found in aesthetic responses to the object This study looks at the aesthetic data embodied in the sixth century architectural structure and interior decoration of Hagia Sophia as well as in literary responses ekphrasis to the building The purpose of the Byzantine ekphrasis was to convey by verbal means the same effects that the artefact itself would have caused A literary analysis of these rhetorical descriptions recaptures the Byzantine perception and expectations and at the same time reveals the cognitive processes triggered by the Great Church The central aesthetic feature that emerges from sixth century ekphrasis of Hagia Sophia is that of light Light is described as the decisive element in the experience of the sacred space and light is simultaneously associated with the notion of wisdom It is argued that the concepts of light and wisdom are interwoven programmatic elements that underlie the unique architecture and non figurative decoration of Hagia Sophia A similar concern for the phenomenon of light and its epistemological dimension is reflected in other contemporary monuments testifying to the pervasiveness of these aesthetic values in early Byzantium

When Brains Meet Buildings Michael A. Arbib, 2021-08-17 After decades of research on minds and brains and a decade of conversations with architects Michael Arbib presents When Brains Meet Buildings as an invitation to the science behind architecture richly illustrated with buildings both famous and domestic As he converses with the reader he presents action oriented perception memory and imagination as well as atmosphere aesthetics and emotion as keys to analyzing the experience and design of architecture He also explores what it might mean for buildings to have brains and illuminates all this with an appreciation of the biological and cultural evolution that supports the diverse modes of human living that we know today These conversations will not only raise the level of interaction between architecture and neuroscience but by explaining the world of each group to the other will also engage all readers who share a fascination with both the brains within them and the buildings around them Michael Arbib is a pioneer in the interdisciplinary study of computers and brains and has long studied brain mechanisms underlying the visual control of action His expertise makes him a unique authority on the intersection of architecture and neuroscience
