The Handbook of Global Shadow Banking, Volume I Luc Nijs, 2020-06-30 This global handbook provides an up to date and comprehensive overview of shadow banking or market based finance as it has been recently coined Engaging in financial intermediary services outside of normal regulatory parameters the shadow banking sector was arguably a critical factor in causing the 2007 2009 financial crisis This volume focuses specifically on shadow banking activities risk policy and regulatory issues It evaluates the nexus between policy design and regulatory output around the world paying attention to the concept of risk in all its dimensions the legal financial market economic and monetary perspectives Particular attention is given to spillover risk contagion risk and systemic risk and their positioning and relevance in shadow banking activities Newly introduced and incoming policies are evaluated in detail as well as how risk is managed observed and assessed and how new regulation can potentially create new sources of risk Volume I concludes with analysis of what will and still needs to happen in the event of another crisis Proposing innovative suggestions for improvement including a novel Pigovian tax to tame financial and systemic risks this handbook is a must read for professionals and policy makers within the banking sector as well as those researching economics and finance The Matrix of Race Rodney D. Coates, Abby L. Ferber, David L.

Brunsma, 2017-09-25 The authors are proud sponsors of the 2020 SAGE Keith Roberts Teaching Innovations Award enabling graduate students and early career faculty to attend the annual ASA pre conference teaching and learning workshop The Matrix of Race Social Construction Intersectionality and Inequality is a textbook that makes race and racial inequality visible in new ways to all students in race ethnic relations courses regardless of their backgrounds from minorities who have experienced the impact of race in their own lives to members of dominant groups who might believe that we now live in a color blind society The matrix refers to a way of thinking about race that reflects the intersecting multilayered identities of contemporary society and the powerful social institutions that shape our understanding of race Its goals are to help readers get beyond familiar us vs them arguments that can lead to resistance and hostility promote self appraisal and stimulate more productive discussions about race and racism Free Poster Making Race and Racial Inequality Visible in New Ways A Complete Teaching Learning Package SAGE coursepacks FREE Easily import our quality instructor and student resource content into your school's learning management system LMS and save time Learn more SAGE edge FREE online resources for students that make learning easier See how your students benefit Investing in wet mills and washed coffee in Ethiopia: Benefits and constraints Tamru, Seneshaw, Minten, Bart, 2018-08-09 Local value addition in developing countries is often aimed at the upgrading of agricultural value chains since it is assumed that doing so will make farmers better off However transmission of the added value through the value chain and constraints to adoption of value adding activities by farmers are not well understood We look at this issue in the case of coffee in Ethiopia the country's most important export product and value addition in the coffee value chain through washing coffee which is done in wet mills Washed coffee is sold internationally with a significant premium compared to natural coffee and we find that this premium is largely transmitted to producers However while wet mills have become more widespread the share of washed coffee in Ethiopia's coffee exports is not increasing over time and even if coffee farmers have access to a wet mill they often do not sell all their coffee cherries to them Relying on a unique primary large scale dataset and a combination of qualitative and quantitative methods we examine the reasons for this puzzle The reasons seemingly are twofold First labor productivity in producing red cherries which wet mills require is lower than for natural coffee reducing incentives for adoption especially for those farmers with higher opportunity costs of labor Second only impatient often smaller farmers sell red cherries as more patient farmers use the storable dried coffee cherries as a rewarding savings instrument given the negative real deposit rates in formal savings institutions

Investing in Youth: Peru OECD,2019-04-17 The present report on Peru is part of the series on Investing in Youth which builds on the expertise of the OECD on youth employment social support and skills This series covers both OECD countries and countries in the process of accession to the OECD as well as some emerging economies Fostering Human Capital in the Gulf Cooperation Council Countries Sameh El-Saharty,Igor Kheyfets,Christopher Herbst,Mohamed Ihsan Ajwad,2020-07-08 The formation of human capital the knowledge skills and health that people accumulate over their lifetimes is critical for the six Gulf Cooperation Council GCC countries Human capital contributes not only to human development and employment but also to the long term sustainability of a diversified economic growth model that is knowledge based and private sector driven This approach is critical given that income from oil and gas will eventually decline and that the nature of work is evolving in response to rapid technological changes in turn demanding new skill sets The GCC governments have demonstrated their strong political will for this shift four of them are among the first countries to join the World Bank s Human Capital Project a global effort to improve investments in people as measured by the Human Capital Index The GCC countries face four main challenges Low levels of basic proficiency among schoolchildren A mismatch between education and the labor market A relatively high rate of adult mortality and morbidity A unique labor market in which wages in the public sector are more generous than in the private sector and government employment of nationals is virtually guaranteed To address these challenges this report outlines four strategies in a whole of government approach Investing in high quality early childhood development Preparing healthier better educated and skilled youth for the future Enabling greater adult labor force participation Creating an enabling environment for human capital formation These strategies are based on best practices in other countries and feature some of the GCC countries plans including their national Visions to take their economies and societies further into the twenty first century With the COVID 19 pandemic the GCC countries face additional challenges that may worsen some preexisting vulnerabilities and erode human capital In response the GCC governments have taken multiple measures to protect their populations health and their economies Any country s decision to reopen its economy needs to closely consider public health consequences to avoid a resurgence of infections and any further erosion of its human capital The COVID 19 crisis underscores that the need to accelerate and improve investment in human capital has never been greater Once the GCC countries return to a new normal they will be in a position to achieve diversified and sustainable growth by adopting and then tailoring the strategies presented in this report American

Governance and sector outcomes Anna Wetterberg,Derick W. Brinkerhoff,2018-09-27 A critical issue in international development is how donor funded programs can support sustainable and long lasting changes in assisted countries Among the factors associated with sustainability is improved governance However many donor funded initiatives are focused on achieving results in specific sectors such as health education and agriculture How can how governance interventions contribute to achieving sector specific results This brief explores this question and discusses how international development practice has incorporated recognition of the links between governance and sector outcomes The brief develops a stylized continuum of how governance elements relate to sector interventions and contribute to expected outcomes We discuss factors that either impede or impel governance integration and close with some observations regarding prospects for integrated programming The audience for the brief is the international development policy and practitioner communities and secondarily academics with an interest in the topic Key take aways include 1 there is ample evidence of positive contributions from improved governance to sector specific outcomes but few guideposts exist for practical and effective governance integration 2 barriers to integration include urgent sector priorities that overshadow governance concerns requirements to demonstrate progress towards ambitious sector targets and complex choices related to measurement and 3 sustainability and self reliance are major drivers for integration and are facilitated by the flexibility and adaptation that governance integration enables The Finance-Innovation Nexus William A. Senate,1789 Social Service, Private Gain Jesse Hajer,John Loxley,2021-06-14 This book examines Social Impact Bonds as a means to finance social services and how mainstream and heterodox economic theory can help understand their existence and emergence Struggling to Make the Grade: A Review of the Causes and Consequences of the Weak Outcomes of South Africa's Education System Mr.Montfort Mlachila,Tlhalefang Moeletsi,2019-03-01 While South Africa has made significant improvements in basic and tertiary education enrollment the country still suffers from significant challenges in the quality of educational achievement by almost any international metric The paper finds that money is clearly not the main issue since the South Africa s education budget is comparable to OECD countries as a percent of GDP and exceeds that of most peer sub Saharan African countries in per capita terms The main explanatory factors are complex and multifaceted and are associated with insufficient subject knowledge of some teachers history race language geographic location and socio economic status Low educational achievement contributes to low productivity growth and high levels of poverty unemployment and inequality Drawing on the literature the paper sketches some policy considerations to guide the debate on what works and what does not Mineral Resources, Economics and the Environment Stephen E. Kesler,Adam F. Simon,2015-10-26 Written for students and professionals this revised textbook surveys the mineral industry from geological environmental and economic perspectives Thoroughly updated the text includes a new chapter on technology industry metals as well as separate chapters on mineral economics and environmental geochemistry Carefully designed figures simplify difficult concepts and show the location of important deposits and trade patterns emphasising the true global nature of mineral resources Featuring boxes highlighting special interest topics the text equips students with the skills they need to contribute to the energy and mineral questions currently facing society including issues regarding oil pipelines nuclear power plants water availability and new mining locations Technical terms are highlighted when first used and references are included to allow students to delve more deeply into areas of interest Multiple choice and short answer questions are provided for instructors online at www.cambridge.org/kesler to complete the teaching package The Role of the State in China's Urban System Development Jiejing Wang,2021-02-13 This book investigates how the state intervenes in the urban system in China in the post reform period To do so it constructs a conceptual framework based on the perspective of political hierarchy suggesting that the state power is hierarchically organized in China s urban system leading to variations in urban government capacities among cities The book reveals that the state has largely achieved the goal of its national urban system policy to strictly control the scale of large cities resulting in the under development of the large cities if they are mainly developing according to the market force However this has become less influential with the advances toward a market economy Further state regulation and policies have reduced the gaps between cities at the top and bottom of the urban hierarchy The book argues that the Urban Administrative System UAS is an important tool for the state to regulate urban system development and the administrative level has a significant effect on urban growth performance. It contends that China's urban system is strongly shaped by the omnipresent state through the UAS which hierarchically differentiates between the urban growth processes. By controlling the administrative level upgrading process, the state can prevent the size and number of cities from increasing too rapidly. This theoretical and empirical enquiry highlights the fact that the hierarchical power relations among cities and the resulting variations in urban government capacities are the key to understanding the role of the state in China's urban system development in the post reform period.
