Assessment of Reading in International Studies Jenny Lenkeit, Knut Schwippert, 2020-05-21 This book brings together contributions from different scholarly contexts that address a diverse range of focused topics as well as empirical and conceptual perspectives on research with international studies Some chapters focus on technical aspects exploring opportunities for drawing causal inferences from the data and investigating biases originating in distributional scale properties Others are of a more conceptual nature addressing changes in the relevance of socio economic indicators across time and countries examining the exposure of mother tongue and English instruction on performance and investigating the effects of test construction on gender difference The discussion takes a much needed meta perspective on the usefulness of international large scale assessments for educational research and allows reflection upon possibilities and opportunities for their improvement This book was originally published as a special issue of Assessment in Education Literacy Instruction

Languages of Instruction for African Emancipation Birgit Brock-Utne, Rodney Kofi Hopson, 2005 Languages of Instruction for African Emancipation is a collection of case studies from seven African countries poses questions such as What alternatives are there for educational language policies towards African emancipation What efforts have governments made to change the language policy in favour of African languages and how far have they succeeded What challenges do

African learners face when it comes to current language of instruction policies The authors reject a language education policy that neglects the multilingualism existing in Africa that reinforces patterns of privilege that existed in the colonial era further entrenching the schism between the elite and the masses They give short shrift to the new justification of the unjustifiable status accorded to English in Africa as the language of globalisation suggesting that it is not relevant to the vast majority of African lives and their human development The sum of thoughts presented suggests that the answer to the language question provides the key to development challenges and further emancipation of the African peoples which it is argued is at the same time a question that will determine whether Africa will remain a recognisable and distinctive cultural component of humanity or whether Africans will cease to exist culturally as Africans Modeling and Using Context

Gábor Bella, Paolo Bouquet, 2019-11-12 This book constitutes the proceedings of the 11th International and Interdisciplinary Conference on Modeling and Using Context CONTEXT 2019 held in Trento Italy in November 2019 The 20 full papers and 4 invited talks presented were carefully reviewed and selected from 31 submissions The papers feature research in a wide range of disciplines related to issues of context and contextual knowledge and discuss commonalities across and differences between the disciplines approaches to the study of context They cover a large spectrum of fields including philosophy of language and of science computational papers on context aware information systems artificial intelligence and computational linguistics as well as cognitive and social sciences Polysemy in Cognitive Linguistics Hubert Cuyckens, Britta E.

Zawada, 2001-07-13 In Cognitive Linguistics polysemy is regarded as a categorizing phenomenon i.e. related meanings of words form categories centering around a prototype and bearing family resemblance relations to one another Under this polysemy categorization view the scope of investigation has been gradually broadened from categories in the lexical and lexico grammatical domain to morphological syntactic and phonological categories The papers in this volume illustrate the importance of polysemy in describing these various categories A first set of papers analyzes the polysemy of such lexical categories as prepositions and scalar particles and looks at the import of polysemy in frame based dictionary definitions A second set shows that noun classes case and locative prefixes constitute meaningful and polysemous categories Three papers then pay attention to polysemy from a psychological perspective looking for psychological evidence of polysemy in lexical categories

Resources in Education, 1994 Theory and description in African Linguistics Emily Clem, Peter Jenks, Hannah Sande, 2019 The papers in this volume were presented at the 47th Annual Conference on African Linguistics at UC Berkeley in 2016 The papers offer new descriptions of African languages and propose novel theoretical analyses of them The contributions span topics in phonetics phonology syntax semantics and pragmatics and reflect the typological and genetic diversity of languages in Africa Four papers in the volume examine Areal Features and Linguistic Reconstruction in Africa and were presented at a special workshop on this topic held alongside the general session of ACAL Angles of Object

range of theoretical perspectives to explore objects agreement and their intersecting angles based on novel data from multiple language families The chapters explores the mechanics of object agreement constraints on symmetry features of object agreement and issues relating to the left periphery Offers and Offer Refusals Eric A. Anchimbe, 2018-11-15 This study offers a pragmatic dimension to World Englishes research It is particularly timely because pragmatics has generally been understudied in past research on World Englishes especially postcolonial Englishes Apart from drawing attention to the paucity of research the book also contributes to theory formation on the emerging theoretical framework postcolonial pragmatics which is then applied to data from two World postcolonial Englishes Ghanaian and Cameroon Englishes The copious examples used clearly illustrate how postcolonial societies realise various pragmatic phenomena in this case offers and offer refusals and how these could be fruitfully explained using an analytical framework designed on the complex internal set ups of these societies For research on social interaction in these societies to be representative it has to take into account the complex history of their evolution contact with other systems during colonialism and the heritages thereof This book does just that Onomastics in Interaction With Other Branches of Science. Volume 2. Anthroponomastics

Urszula Bijak, Paweł Swoboda, Justyna B. Walkowiak, 2023-12-12 Onomastics is an area of scholarly interest that has grown considerably in importance in recent years Consequently the 27th International Congress of Onomastic Sciences held in 2021 in Krak w Poland gathered scholars from all over the world active in all subfields of onomastic enquiry as well as those exploring the areas bordering on other disciplines of the humanities It thus became a venue for presenting state of the art research in the study of proper names proposing novel approaches and opening new vistas for future research The present work is the second of the three volumes of conference proceedings that were the fruit of the congress Devoted to personal naming it contains 28 individual articles contributed by 32 scholars Some of them study recent fashions in name giving in countries as diverse as Bulgaria Japan Latvia Lithuania or Sweden Others explore historical trends in given name choice exemplified by Estonia or the Netherlands Family names are represented by the analyses of married names in Hungary of the surnames of Zagreb Jews of German surnames in Latvia and the Carpathian Basin or of changes of foreign sounding surnames in Sweden Unconventional naming proved scientifically fruitful too as can be seen in the chapters on village bynames in Romania or student nicknames in Russia Finally there are researchers who provide a general overview of naming patterns in countries as varied as Botswana and Hungary or Romania and China The opportunities offered by the application of new technology to onomastic research are explored in relation to the namestock in Denmark and the Netherlands Simultaneously these technologies may also themselves lead to the creation of novel objects of study a case in point being Russian Internet usernames Anthroponymic data may inform non onomastic research as well for instance they can offer insight into a country s history or ethnic composition as evidenced by texts dealing with personal naming in Hungary or Ukraine The volume is complemented by articles whose focus is the interface of onomastics and pragmatics phonetics prosody and gender studies drawing on examples drawn from Dutch Japanese Romanian Russian Spanish and Swedish The book is a must not only for onomasticians but also for researchers in related disciplines ranging from history via human geography or philosophy of language to social studies However professionals active in naming will find it useful as well since it provides a much needed supranational perspective and enables cross cultural comparisons South African national bibliography ,1998 Classified list with author and title index The Shakespearean International Yearbook Graham Bradshaw,T. G. Bishop,Laurence Wright,2009 The extended special section in the ninth issue of The Shakespearean International Yearbook investigates the uses to which Shakespeare s work was put in South Africa in the twentieth century The temporal limit emphasizes how the titanic political and ideological struggles that convulsed South Africa also affected how Shakespeare was studied interpreted taught and performed This issue also includes essays on Henry V garden scenes in Shakespeare and all male productions of As you Like It Ideophones F. K. Erhard Voeltz,Christa Kilian-Hatz,2001-12-19 The present volume represents a selection of papers presented at the International Symposium on Ideophones held in January 1999 in St Augustin Germany They center around the following hypotheses Ideophones are universal and constitute a grammatical category in all languages of the world ideophones and similar words have a special dramaturgic function that differs from all other word classes they simulate an event an emotion a perception through language In addition to this unique function a good number of formal parallels can be observed The languages dealt with here display strikingly similar patterns of derivational processes involving ideophones An equally widespread common feature is the introduction of ideophones via a verbum dicendi or complementizer Another observation concerns the sound symbolic behavior of ideophones Thus the word formation of ideophones differs from other words in their tendency for iconicity and sound symbolism Finally it is made clear that ideophones are part of spoken language the language register where gestures are used rather than written language How Prides of Lion Researchers are Evolving to be Interdisciplinary Robert A.
