Deforestation-free commitments Romain Pirard, Akiva Fishman, Sophia Gnych, Krystof Obidzinski, Pablo Pacheco, 2015-05-04 The deforestation free movement or zero deforestation has emerged recently in a context of lower state control globalization and pressure on corporations by nongovernmental organizations NGOs through consumer awareness campaigns acknowledging the essential role of agricultural commodities in deforestation It takes the form of commitments by corporations to ensure that the products they either produce process trade or retail are not linked to forest conversion This movement has particular relevance for Indonesia Ambitious targets have been set with concrete action on the ground and typically go beyond forest conservation to also include peatland management and social issues Regarding the zero deforestation component its implementation relies essentially on two complementary methodologies High Conservation Value Forest HCVF and High Carbon Stocks HCS

A policy network analysis of the palm oil sector in Indonesia Pirard, R., Rivoalen, C., Lawry, S., Pacheco, P., Zrust, M., 2017-06-30 The palm oil sector has been targeted by NGOs for its alleged negative environmental and social impacts In this regard Indonesia represents a major challenge because it is home to some of the largest tropical forests in the world A recent wave of corporate sustainability commitments peaked with the New York Declaration on Forests in September 2014 which emerged amidst the development of other standards and initiatives toward sustainable palm oil production This process has made this field very complex especially in Indonesia The present study aims at clarifying the positions taken by the various stakeholders and assesses the level of political support and the functioning of policy networks Results from our Policy Network Analysis based on the survey of 59 institutions representing all types of stakeholders e g government corporate NGO at all levels international Indonesian and local show that standards and initiatives for sustainability have contrasting visibility and impact among stakeholders In this context RSPO stands as a reference with the efforts by the Government of Indonesia to promote its own standard with ISPO yet to gain traction While IPOP was a well appreciated initiative and a symbol of zero deforestation commitments opposition to it by the government and conflicting interests have resulted in its disbandment Overall the lack of progress for sustainable palm oil practices on the ground in the view of respondents seems to be caused by political and legal barriers rather than technical challenges or economic losses at a country level

Corporate Environmentalism and Public Policy Thomas P. Lyon, John W. Maxwell, 2004-12-13 This is the first book to provide a hard headed economic view of the voluntary approaches to environmental issues especially toxic chemicals waste disposal and global warming that have become prominent in recent years Corporate environmental initiatives are seen as a tool for influencing the behaviour of environmental activists legislators and regulators though they may have ancillary benefits such as attracting green consumers or reducing costs Equally government voluntary programs are seen as a way to achieve modest environmental results when political resistance to mandatory policies is high Rigorous analysis is illustrated with numerous case studies drawn from the US Europe and Japan while technical details are relegated to appendices and each chapter highlights implications for corporate strategy and public policy Although rooted in economic theory this book will appeal to business strategists and policy practitioners as well as scholars and researchers Save American Jobs Abraham K Turkson,2005-06 Hope has always said to Americans tomorrow will be better than today Always until now Because if you are a computer programmer engineer accountant manager or a factory worker you are filled with fear instead of hope for your job may disappear overnight If you are a small sized entrepreneur the big company you ve serviced from the beginning of your existence may call in the middle of the night to inform you they will no longer buy from you they are buying from overseas And these are the stories unfolding in communities across America Fear not hope is stalking many an American The information superhighway that was supposed to have been the road to high paying jobs for Americans has instead turned into one on which offshore outsourcing is killing many jobs If it is allowed to continue America s foundation built over many generations will be weakened To save existing jobs in America and create new ones Dr Abraham Turkson has suggested new ideas to reduce costs to make businesses in America more competitive provide private healthcare for all Americans and stop oil imports And none of the suggestions involves raising taxes Hope must be reborn across America Official Gazette of the United States Patent Office United States.
