Shaw, 1832 First stage mechanics Fabian Rosenberg, 1895 A Description of the Visible Numerator Oliver A. MacKinnon, 2018-04-27 Places of Encounter, Volume 1 Aran
Places of Encounter provides a place based approach to world history focusing on specific locations at critical moments when human history was transformed as a result of encounters physical political cultural intellectual and religious Original contributed essays by leading academics in the field explore places from Hadar to Xi an Salvador to New York and numerous other locations that have produced historical shockwaves and significant global impact throughout history With a chronologically organized table of contents each chapter dissects a particular moment in history with personal commentary from each contributor a narrative of the location s historical significance at the time and a section on significant global connections Primary sources and discussion questions at the end of each chapter allow students a view into the lives of individuals of the time Students will experience the narrative of historic individuals as well as modern scholars looking back over documentation to offer their own views of the past providing students with the perfect opportunity to see how scholars form their own views about history
Peoples and Places Matthew Hirt, 2022-05-27 Jesus s final command to his disciples was to make disciples of all nations But who are the nations How do we know we are being obedient to the task Do our current lists of ethnolinguistic people groups sufficiently answer the question For the last fifty years missiologists and missionaries have discussed this topic but much of the conversation has been focused on definitions that give little attention to biblical theology When we explore how the Bible describes the nations we find some other categories that have been overlooked forgotten or set aside in the development of missions strategy Geography is one of these categories However this is not simply bringing current geo political entities back into our missions strategy Instead Matthew Hirt is calling on missiologists missions researchers and missionaries on the field to discover how people groups identify their own geographies and in turn how that geography contributes to a people group s identity
