Deakins, Rebecca Bryant Lockridge, Helen M. Sterk, 2012-06-21 Family stories of the ties between mothers and daughters form the foundation of Mothers and Daughters Complicated Connections Across Cultures Nationally and internationally known feminist scholars frame analyze and explore mother daughter bonds in this collection of essays Cultures from around the world are mined for insights which reveal historical generational ethnic political religious and social class differences This book focuses on the tenacity of the connection between mothers and daughters impediments to a strong connection and practices of good communication Mothers and Daughters will interest those studying communication women's studies psychology sociology anthropology counseling and cultural studies Susan, Linda, Nina & Cokie Lisa Napoli, 2021-04-13 A group biography of four beloved women who fought sexism covered decades of American news and whose voices defined NPR In the years after the Civil Rights Act of 1964 women in the workplace still found themselves relegated to secretarial positions or locked out of jobs entirely This was especially true in the news business a backwater of male chauvinism where a woman might be lucky to get a foothold on the women's pages But when a pioneering nonprofit called National Public Radio came along in the 1970s and the door to serious journalism opened a crack four remarkable women came along and blew it off the hinges Susan Linda Nina and Cokie is journalist Lisa Napoli's captivating account of these four women their deep and enduring friendships and the trail they blazed to becoming icons They had radically different stories Cokie Roberts was born into a political dynasty roamed the halls of Congress as a child and felt a tug toward public service Susan Stamberg who had lived in India with her husband who worked for the State Department was the first woman to anchor a nightly news program and pressed for accommodations to balance work and home life Linda Wertheimer the daughter of shopkeepers in New Mexico fought her way to a scholarship and a spot on air And Nina Totenberg the network's legal affairs correspondent invented a new way to cover the Supreme Court Based on extensive interviews and calling on the author's deep connections in news and public radio Susan Linda Nina and Cokie will be as beguiling and sharp as its formidable subjects The Wall

Between Women Beth Brykman, 2012-04-03 Women today struggle to make difficult choices involving their children and their careers so why do they simultaneously criticize undermine and point fingers at one another Beth Brykman taps her personal experience as well as her professional marketing skills in crafting this well researched look at the life transforming issue that American mothers face Having been both a full time employed mother and a stay at home mom Brykman interviewed more than one hundred mothers She lets these women speak for themselves about the reality of their lives their views of the other mother and how they balance the pros and cons of motherhood Separate chapters examine the factors that create the wall between women stereotypes of mothers on both sides of the wall the lives and attitudes of full time employed mothers versus mothers who choose to stay at home working part time the reality of daycare how different women determined what was right for them and their families coparenting and suggestions for modifying marriages and letting go of the emotional baggage of success and guilt including suggestions for broad cultural change An appendix details her research methods including questions she posed to each mother and a useful bibliography that points readers to other resources Filled with revealing quotations and stories from mothers themselves this insightful discussion of contemporary motherhood reveals the many challenges facing women and offers creative solutions for overcoming those challenges Founding

Mothers Cokie Roberts, 2016-06-13 Composing Selves Peggy Whitman Prenshaw, 2011-06-16 In Composing Selves award winning author Peggy Whitman Prenshaw provides the most comprehensive treatment of autobiographies by women in the American South This long anticipated addition to Prenshaw's study of southern literature spans the twentieth century as she provides an in depth look at the life writing of eighteen women authors Composing Selves travels the wide terrain of female life in the South analyzing various issues that range from racial consciousness to the deflection of personal achievement All of the authors presented came of age during the era Prenshaw refers to as the late southern Victorian period which began in 1861 and ended in the 1930s Belle Kearney's A Slaveholder's Daughter 1900 with Elizabeth Spencer's Landscapes of the Heart and Ellen Douglas's Truth Four Stories I Am Finally Old Enough to Tell both published in 1998 chronologically bookend Prenshaw's survey She includes Ellen Glasgow's The Woman Within Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings's Cross Creek Bernice Kelly Harris's Southern Savory and Zora Neale Hurston's Dust Tracks on a Road The book also examines Katharine DuPre Lumpkin's The Making of a Southerner and Lillian Smith's Killers of the Dream. In addition to exploring multiple themes, Prenshaw considers a number of types of autobiographies such as Helen Keller's classic The Story of My Life and Anne Walter Fearn's My Days of Strength. She treats narratives of marital identity as in Mary Hamilton's Trials of the Earth and calls attention to works by women who devoted their lives to social and political movements like Virginia Durr's Outside the Magic Circle. Drawing on many notable authors and on Prenshaw's own life of scholarship, Composing Selves provides an invaluable contribution to the study of southern literature, autobiography, and the work of southern women writers.

Writing First with Readings Laurie G. Kirszner, Stephen R. Mandell, 2011-12-28 Best-selling authors and veteran college writing instructors Laurie Kirszner and Stephen Mandell believe that students learn to write best when they use their own writing as a starting point. In Writing First with Readings: Practice in Context, designed for the paragraph-to-essay course, Kirszner and Mandell take seriously the ideas and expressive abilities of developmental students as well as their need to learn the rules of writing and grammar. Visual writing prompts that open every chapter get students writing immediately. By moving frequently between their own writing, writing models, and instruction, and workbook-style mastery exercises, students get constant reinforcement of the skills they are learning. Thoughtful chapters on college success, research, and critical reading, along with high-interest essays, round out the text, making it the perfect introduction to college writing. Read the preface.

The Trials of a Scold Jeff Biggers, 2017-11-07 A portrait of one of America's first female muckrakers who was convicted in a bizarre 1829 trial, a common scold describes the tenacity that earned her the first presidential interview ever granted to a woman.

Reading with the Stars Leonard Kniffel, 2011-05-25 Published with the American Library Association, Reading with the Stars uses the power of politicians, celebrities, and other prominent men and women to celebrate books, libraries, and reading. Fourteen of the biggest names in America offer their thoughts on why literature is important and how books have touched their lives. Television icon Oprah Winfrey discusses how library books were her pass to personal freedom. Microsoft founder Bill Gates discusses his library computerization project. Former Vice President Al Gore addresses the information ecosystem, including how reading contributes to an informed citizenry. A fun, fascinating gift for anyone who works in the world of publishing, libraries, or bookselling.

Invisible Stars Donna Halper, 2015-02-11 Invisible Stars was the first book to recognize that women have always played an important part in American electronic media. The emphasis is on social history as the author skillfully explains how the changing role of women in different eras influenced their participation in broadcasting. This is not just the story of radio stars or broadcast journalists but a social history of women both on and off the air. Beginning in the early 1920s with the emergence of radio, the book chronicles the ambivalence toward women in broadcasting during the 1930s and 1940s, the gradual change in status of women in the 1950s and 1960s, the increased presence of women in broadcasting in the 1970s, and the successes of women in broadcasting in the 1980s and 1990s. The second edition is expanded to include the social and political changes that occurred in the 2000s such as the growing number of women talk show hosts changing attitudes about women in leadership roles in business more about minority women in media and women in sports and women sports announcers The author addresses the question of whether women are in fact no longer invisible in electronic media She provides an assessment of where progress for women in society as well as broadcasting can be seen and where progress appears totally stalled From Society Page to Front Page Eileen Wirth,2020-03-09 Eileen M Wirth never set out to be a groundbreaker for women in journalism but if she wanted to report on social issues instead of society news she had no alternative Her years as one of the first women reporters at the Omaha World Herald covering gender barriers even as she broke a few herself give Wirth an especially apt perspective on the women profiled in this book those Nebraskans who over a hundred years challenged traditional feminine roles in journalism and subtly but surely changed the world The book features remarkable women journalists who worked in every venue from rural weeklies to TV They fought for the vote better working conditions for immigrants and food safety at the turn of the century They covered wars from the Russian Revolution to Vietnam They were White House reporters and minority journalists who crusaded for civil rights Though Willa Cather may be the only household name among them all are memorable their stories affording a firsthand look into the history of journalism and social change My Family, My Self Sharon Ann Thorne,2016-04-05 This is my first book and is intended for family and close friends The older I get the more I regret that I didnt ask my parents and grandparents more about their lives My grandmothers were in their 20s when women got the vote Did they care What did they think about that Nanas father died before she was born Her mother had to raise six young children in a small town in Texas in the late 19th century How did she manage To the dismay of her parents my mother eloped at 18 instead of going on to Stanford where she had been admitted Grandpa lost his mother at a young age and gained a stepmother that he apparently didnt like How did my grandparents meet and what attracted them to each other What kind of weddings did they have My questions are endless Ill never get them answered The stories would be precious to know In this spirit I offer these family stories for readers I know and for all others in the future Conversations with My Grandfather Wink Dameron,2011-11-30 These first hand stories reflect the actual true life experiences of a prominent Louisiana statesman Civil War veteran and District Judge L B Claiborne of New Roads La These are stories as told to his granddaughter during a two year period reflecting the strength of character that has been passed onto his decedents down through generations The stories cover the time Judge Claiborne spent as a Georgetown Military Academy cadet in Washington D C the four years during which he served as an infantryman in the Civil War and the many following years as a prominent legislator district judge educator newspaper owner and statesman Through his fathers friendship with two different Presidents of the United States and other prominent national personalities he enjoyed many unique experiences involving fascinating people covering many yet untold stories These stories as shared with his granddaughter reflect the strength of character that has become a hallmark in the lives of his descendants It is fascinating to be taken back to another era as seen through the eyes of a true Southern gentleman Release Your Potential Elizabeth Inrig,2001-06-01 Getting involved in the local church can be an intimidating process for anyone but women experience this in a unique way Elizabeth Inrig believes that women offer an indispensable addition to the church Using life related stories symbols and principles from Scripture this book instructs church leaders on ways to recognize and release the spiritual potential of women in the local church People of Faith John Schmalzbauer,2018-10-18 Over the past two decades a host of critics have accused American journalism and higher education of being indifferent even openly hostile to religious concerns These professions more than any others are said to drive a wedge between facts and values faith and knowledge the sacred and the secular However a growing number of observers are calling attention to a religious resurgence journalists are covering religion more frequently and religious scholars in academia are increasingly visible John Schmalzbauer provides a compelling investigation of the role of Catholic and evangelical Protestant beliefs in the newsroom and the classroom His interviews with forty prominent journalists and academics reveal how some people of faith seek to preserve their religious identities in purportedly secular professions What impact he asks does their Christianity have on their jobs What is the place of personal religious conviction in professional life Individuals featured include the journalists Fred Barnes Cokie Roberts Peter Steinfelds Cal Thomas and Kenneth Woodward and the scholars John DiIulio Elizabeth Fox Genovese Andrew Greeley George Marsden and Mark Noll Some of the journalists and academics with whom Schmalzbauer spoke qualified displays of personal religious belief with reminders of their own professional credibility drawing a line between advocacy and objectivity Schmalzbauer highlights the persistent tensions between the worlds of public endeavor and private belief yet he maintains there is room for faith even in professional environments that have tended to prize empiricism and detachment over expressions of personal conviction The Greatness of Girls Susan Strong,2001 Forty two famous women recount the experiences they had while growing up and discuss how they dealt with the issues teenage girls often face Congressional Record United States.
