Integrating Study Abroad Into the Curriculum Elizabeth Brewer, Kiran Cunningham, 2023-07-03 With the increased interest in study abroad from government educators employers and students the question is is study abroad engendering the desired intercultural competencies and intellectual development To achieve this goal this book proposes two strategies structure study abroad to bridge the separation of academic learning from experiential and intercultural learning and integrate study abroad with the undergraduate curriculum In proposing this integration the editors take into account the need for institutional change and recognize faculty members concerns about maintaining the integrity of the curriculum teaching in areas outside their expertise and keeping up with ever evolving institutional missions This book opens with two chapters presenting different theoretical perspectives relevant to the integration of study abroad into the curriculum The following nine chapters provide examples from a variety of disciplines from anthropology and religious studies to literature urban studies biology and public health and within such contexts as distance learning service learning and the senior thesis The concluding chapter considers faculty development activities and institutional structures and policies that support curriculum integration While the examples are drawn from Beloit College and Kalamazoo College liberal arts colleges with substantial study abroad enrollments and nationally recognized for their innovative practices readers will recognize they are easily adaptable to their own institutions The two colleges achieved their curricular innovations with limited financial resources and in the context that most of their students are dependent on financial aid The transformational ideas and practices described here provide material for reflection and campus conversations for anyone concerned with developing global citizens and well educated students and offer a blueprint for implementation

Developing Intercultural Competence and Transformation Victor Savicki, 2023-07-03 Enrollments in international education programs are projected to grow exponentially as students parents and university personnel seek to prepare future leaders who can live and work effectively in a global environment What do we know about the outcomes of such programs and how can educators become more intentional about designing and assessing the impact of such courses How can we help students achieve the intercultural growth and transformation that they may envision as they set forth on their international sojourn International education provides opportunities for students to grow personally and to learn in a rich and intense educational environment The outcomes of such opportunities emphasize not only traditional academic competence but also changes in motivations attitudes self identity and values It is these latter co academic concepts that are the focus of this book Its goal is to give solid substance to the growth and transformation approach to study abroad It defines the central concept of intercultural competence sets it within the framework of transformative learning theory and offers ideas and strategies for facilitating its development In doing so it goes far beyond traditional emphases on the achievement of such formal skills as foreign language acquisition or specific knowledge of course content in national literatures arts or history This book provides study abroad educators with a theoretical framework and examples of practice to craft more meaningful activities that will make a long term difference in the quality of student experiences and set the stage for transformative change If we plan to send a million students a year to study abroad within the decade we need approaches to maximize student growth outcomes in an efficient and effective way It is also relevant for anyone engaged in courses in adult education college student services comparative and international education international business intercultural relations and service learning that involve study abroad and that raise corresponding issues of curriculum design

Galileo's Dream Kim Stanley Robinson,2009-12-29 At the heart of a provocative narrative that stretches from Renaissance Italy to the moons of Jupiter is the father of modern science Galileo Galilei To the inhabitants of the Jovian moons Galileo is a revered figure whose actions will influence the subsequent history of the human race From the summit of their distant future a charismatic renegade named Ganymede travels to the past to bring Galileo forward in an attempt to alter history and ensure the ascendancy of science over religion And if that means Galileo must be burned at the stake so be it From Galileo s heresy trial to the politics of far future Jupiter Kim Stanley Robinson illuminates the parallels between a distant past and an even more remote future in the process celebrating the human spirit and calling into question the convenient truths of our own moment in time      Dante's Dream Gwennyth E. Hood, 2021-07-05 Archetypal images Carl Jung believed when elaborated in tales and ceremonies shape culture s imagination and behavior Unfortunately such cultural images can become stale and lose their power over the mind But an artist or mystic can refresh and revive a culture s imagination by exploring his personal dream images and connecting them to the past Dante Alighieri presents his Divine Comedy as a dream vision carefully establishing the date at which it came to him Good Friday 1300 and maintaining the perspective of that time and place throughout the work upon unfolding history Modern readers will therefore welcome a Jungian psychoanalytical approach which can trace both instinctual and spiritual impulses in the human psyche Some of Dante s innovations admission of virtuous pagans to Limbo and individualized scenes meeting personal friends in the afterlife more likely spring from unconscious inspiration than conscious didactic intent For modern readers a focus on Dante s personal dream journey may offer the best way into his poem      Belgravia ,1880
