Sounds of Innate Freedom Karl Brunnhölzl, 2023-04-11 A paragraph on the series Sounds of Innate Freedom The Indian Texts of Mah mudr is an historic five volume series containing many of the first English translations of the classic mah mudr literature The texts and songs in these volumes are excerpted from the large compendium of texts called The Indian Texts of the Mah mudr of Definitive Meaning compiled by the Seventh Karmapa Ch tra Gyatso 1456 1539 In its modern Tibetan edition this collection consists of five volumes containing seven kinds of texts the An vilatantra as a tantric source of Mah mudr attributed to the Buddha himself and its commentary songs of realization doh cary g ti and vajrag ti commentaries on songs of realization and other texts independent tantric treatises nontantric treatises edifying stories and doxographies presenting hierarchies of different Buddhist and non Buddhist philosophical systems The collection offers a brilliant window into the richness of this vast ocean of Indian Mah mudr texts in the Kagy tradition as well as a clear view of the sources of one of the world s great contemplative traditions It is for meant for anyone who appreciates Buddhist literature and Buddhist tantric practice Reading these songs and texts that express the inexpressible and contemplating their meaning in meditation will open doors to experience and possibly even awakening just as they did for practitioners in the past Description of volume 5 Volume 5 most closely follows Luminous Melodies and contains the most versified songs of realization consisting of doh s couplets vajrag tis vajra songs and cary g tis conduct songs all luminously expressing the inexpressible as well as commentary The doh lineage in tantric Buddhism began when Saraha known as the Great Brahmin started singing songs of realization to his disciples the royal family and the people of the kingdom Since then the great Mah mudr siddhas have continued to express their realization and instructions to their disciples in pithy songs composed and sung spontaneously These songs display a vast range of styles themes and metaphors providing readers a feast offering of profound pith instructions of great power that were uttered by numerous male and female mahasiddhas siddhas yog s and kin s often in the context of ga acakras and initially kept in their secret treasury This volume can stand on its own at the same time as it provides a taste of the entire collection offering a window into the richness of this vast ocean of Indian Mah mudr texts in the Kagy tradition The majority of songs and their commentaries are translated for the first time into English by Karl Brunnhölzl brilliantly capturing the wordplay mystical wonder bliss and ecstatic sense of freedom expressed by awakened Mah mudra masters of India such as Saraha L hipa K a alias K hapa Jaganmitr nanda alias Mitrayog Vir pa Tilopa N ropa Maitr pa N g rjuna the female mah siddhas princess Lak m kar and ombiyogin as well as many otherwise unknown figures of this rich Buddhist tradition Karl Brunnhölzl s learned and lucid introduction situates the songs in their social religious and literary context Mah mudr refers to perfect buddhahood in a single instant the omnipresent essence of all phenomena that is nondual and devoid of all obscurations Reading these songs that express the inexpressible and contemplating their meaning in meditation will open doors to experience and possibly even awakening just as they did for practitioners in the past For

besides the officially recognized mah siddhas there were many other varieties of practitioners and many lived and taught outside of the framework of institutionalized Buddhism in their time evidence that the teachings and the path of mah mudra are accessible to and can be practiced by anyone from any walk of life whether a king a servant in a brothel or a housewife often without having to renounce their day jobs Intermedialities Henk Oosterling, Ewa Plonowska Ziarek, 2012-07-10

Bringing together an international and interdisciplinary group of scholars Intermedialities Philosophy Arts Politics is a comprehensive collection devoted to the new field of research called intermedialities The concept of intermedialities stresses the necessity of situating philosophical and political debates on social relations in the divergent contexts of media theories avant garde artistic practices continental philosophy feminism and political theory The intermedial approach to social relations does not focus on the shared identity but instead on the epistemological ethical and political status of inter being in between At stake here are the political analyses of new modes of being in common that transcend national boundaries the critique of the new forms of domination that accompany them and the search for new emancipatory possibilities Opening a new approach to social relations intermedialities investigates not only engagements between already constituted positions but even more the interval antagonism and differences that form and decenter these positions Consequently in opposition to the resurgence of cultural and ethnic particularisms and to the leveling of difference produced by globalization the political and ethical analysis of the in between enables a conception of community based on difference exposure and interaction with others rather than on an identification with a shared identity Investigations of in betweenness both as medium specific and between heterogeneous sites of inquiry range here from philosophical conceptuality to artistic practices from the political circulation of money and power to the operation of new technologies They inevitably invoke the crucial role of embodiment in creative thought and collective acting As a mediating instance between the psyche and society matter and spirit nature and culture and biology and technology the body is another interval forming and informed by socio linguistic relations As these come

The Form of Love James Kuzner, 2021-08-03 Can poetry articulate something about love that philosophy cannot The Form of Love argues that it can In close readings of seven metaphysical poems the book shows how poets of the early modern period and beyond use poetic form to turn philosophy to other ends in order not to represent the truth about love but to create a virtual experience of love in all its guises The Form of Love shows how verse creates love that can't exist without poetry's specific affordances and how poems can in their impossibility prompt love's radical reimagining Like the philosophies on which they draw metaphysical poems imagine love as an intense form of non sovereignty of giving up control They even imagine love as a liberating bondage to a friend a beloved a saint a God or a garden Yet these poems create strange striking versions of such love made in rather than through the devices structures and forces where love appears Tracing how poems think Kuzner argues requires an intimate form of reading close even too close attention to and thinking with the text Showing how poetry thinks of love otherwise than other fields the book reveals how poetry and philosophy can

Wonder Gordon C.F. Bearn,1997-01-16 The central claim of this book is that early and late Wittgenstein modelled his approach to existential meaning on his account of linguistic meaning A reading of Nietzsche's The Birth of Tragedy sets up Bearn's reading of the existential point of Wittgenstein's Tractatus Bearn argues that both books try to resolve our anxiety about the meaning of life by appeal to the deep unutterable essence of the world Bearn argues that as Wittgenstein's and Nietzsche's thought matured they both separately came to believe that the answer to our existential anxiety does not lie beneath the surfaces of our lives but in our acceptance Nietzsche's Yes of the groundless details of those surfaces themselves the wonder of the ordinary

Passions and Subjectivity in Early Modern Culture Freya Sierhuis,2016-05-13 Bringing together scholars from literature and the history of ideas Passions and Subjectivity in Early Modern Culture explores new ways of negotiating the boundaries between cognitive and bodily models of emotion and between different versions of the will as active or passive In the process it juxtaposes the historical formation of such ideas with contemporary philosophical debates It frames a dialogue between rhetoric and medicine politics and religion in order to examine the relationship between mind and body and between experience and the senses Some chapters discuss literature in studies of Shakespeare Donne and Milton other essays concentrate on philosophical arguments both Aristotelian and Galenic models from antiquity and new mechanistic formations in Descartes Hobbes and Spinoza A powerful sense of paradox emerges in treatments of the passions in the early modern period also reflected in new literary and philosophical forms in which inwardness was displayed analysed and studied the autobiography the essay the soliloquy genres which rewrite the formation of subjectivity At the same time the frame of reference moves outwards from the world of interior states to encounter the passions on a public stage thus reconnecting literary study with the history of political thought In between the abstract theory of political ideas and the inward selves of literary history lies a field of intersections waiting to be explored The passions like human nature itself are infinitely variable and provoke both literary experimentation and philosophical imagination Passions and Subjectivity in Early Modern Culture thus makes new connections between embodiment selfhood and the emotions in order to suggest both new models of the self and new models for interdisciplinary history
