Dilemmas of Regional and Local Development Jerzy Bański, 2020-02-13 Dilemmas of Regional and Local Development aims to identify diagnose and evaluate various approaches towards regional and local socio economic development Over the course of the book authors from 12 countries and four continents come together to review experiences and solutions related to regional development in a range of different economic social and political systems The first part of the volume focuses on the fundamentals of planning regional and local development particularly focusing on theoretical solutions and development policy concepts The second part is more applied looking at practical instruments and solutions for shaping the local economy and analysing effective development policy This book will be of interest to economics geography politics and planning scholars and researchers working on regional sciences and local development

Variations of Suburbanism Barbara Schöning, 2015-09 Considered to be subordinated and sub prime to the city sub urban areas receive little attention by researchers and designers However it is the rapidly growing areas outside the central cities that pose the biggest questions of the urban millennium How can the scattered patchwork of urban areas and social spaces linked by networks of highways and public transportation function as a sustainable and livable urban environment Answering this question requires understanding suburban spaces as heterogeneous urban areas with distinct local characteristics qualities and problems Following this path Variations of Suburbanism explores formation characteristics and trends of suburban areas all over the world It provides insights on common features and differences of suburban governance design and infrastructure and discusses strategies to understand and design suburban areas in an increasingly sub urbanizing world

The State of Food Security and Nutrition in the World 2023 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, International Fund for Agricultural Development, United Nations Children's Fund, World Food Programme, World Health Organization, 2023-07-12 This report provides an update on global progress towards the targets of ending hunger SDG Target 2.1 and all forms of malnutrition SDG Target 2.2 and estimates on the number of people who are unable to afford a healthy diet Since its 2017 edition this report has repeatedly highlighted that the intensification and interaction of conflict climate extremes and economic slowdowns and downturns combined with highly unaffordable nutritious foods and growing inequality are pushing us off track to meet the SDG 2 targets However other important megatrends must also be factored into the analysis to fully understand the challenges and opportunities for meeting the SDG 2 targets One such megatrend and the focus of this year's report is urbanization New evidence shows that food purchases in some countries are no longer high only among urban households but also among rural households Consumption of highly processed foods is also increasing in peri urban and rural areas of some countries These changes are affecting people's food security and nutrition in ways that differ depending on where they live across the rural urban continuum This timely and relevant theme is aligned with the United Nations General Assembly endorsed New Urban Agenda and the report provides recommendations on the policies investments and actions needed to address the challenges of agrifood systems transformation under urbanization and to enable opportunities for ensuring access to affordable healthy diets for everyone
