The Urban Revolution Henri Lefebvre, 2003 Originally published in 1970 The Urban Revolution marked Henri Lefebvre's first sustained critique of urban society a work in which he pioneered the use of semiotic structuralist and poststructuralist methodologies in analyzing the development of the urban environment Although it is widely considered a foundational book in contemporary thinking about the city The Urban Revolution has never been translated into English until now This first English edition deftly translated by Robert Bononno makes available to a broad audience Lefebvre's sophisticated insights into the urban dimensions of modern life Lefebvre begins with the premise that the total urbanization of society is an inevitable process that demands of its critics new interpretive and perceptual approaches that recognize the urban as a complex field of inquiry Dismissive of cold modernist visions of the city particularly those embodied by rationalist architects and urban planners like Le Corbusier Lefebvre instead articulates the lived experiences of individual inhabitants of the city In contrast to the ideology of urbanism and its reliance on commodification and bureaucratization the capitalist logic of market and state Lefebvre conceives of an urban utopia characterized by self-determination individual creativity and authentic social relationships A brilliantly conceived and theoretically rigorous investigation into the realities and possibilities of urban space The Urban Revolution remains an essential analysis of and guide to the nature of the city

Welcome to the Urban Revolution Jeb Brugmann, 2010-04-27 The author argues that urban locations are ideal for technological economic and social innovation

Urban Revolutions Stefan Kipfer, 2022-09-19 What do struggles over pipelines in Canada housing estates in France and shantytowns in Martinique have in common In Urban Revolutions Stefan Kipfer shows how these struggles force us to understand the neo colonial aspects of capitalist urbanization in a comparatively and historically nuanced fashion In so doing he demonstrates that urban research can offer a rich if uneven terrain upon which to develop the relationship between Marxist and anti colonial intellectual traditions After a detailed dialogue between Henri Lefebvre and Frantz Fanon Kipfer engages creole literature in the French Antilles Indigenous radicalism in North America and political anti racism in mainland France

Metromarxism Andrew Merrifield, 2013-04-15 Metromarxism discusses Marxism's relationship with the city from the 1850s to the present by way of biographical chapters on figures from the Marxist tradition including Marx Walter Benjamin Guy Debord and David Harvey Each chapter combines interesting biographical anecdotes with an accessible analysis of each individual's contribution to an always transforming Marxist theory of the city He suggests that the interplay between the city as center of economic and social life and its potential for progressive change generated a major corpus of work That work has been key in advancing progressive political and social transformations

New Urban Spaces Neil Brenner, 2019 The urban condition is today being radically transformed Urban restructuring is accelerating new urban spaces are being consolidated and new forms of urbanization are crystallizing In New Urban Spaces Neil Brenner argues that understanding these mutations of urban life requires not only concrete research but new theories of urbanization To this end Brenner proposes an approach that breaks with inherited conceptions of the urban as a bounded settlement unit the city or the metropolis and explores the multiscalar constitution and periodic rescaling of the capitalist urban fabric Drawing on critical geopolitical economy and spatialized approaches to state theory Brenner offers a paradigmatic account of how rescaling processes are transforming inherited formations of urban space and their variegated consequences for emergent patterns and pathways of urbanization The book also advances an understanding of critical urban theory as radically revisable key urban concepts must be continually reinvented in relation to the relentlessly mutating worlds of urbanization they aspire to illuminate The Urban Contract Paolo Perulli,2016-07-22 Today the increasing mobility of capital people and information has changed the space relations of urban societies Contractual relations have increased in every field of social life in the economic field but also in the political and in creative and scientific areas Contracts are not only legal frameworks or economic aggregates of individuals but socially embedded forms The concept of urban contract proposed in this book combines the theoretical body of economic juridical literature on the contract with that of historical anthropological and socio spatial literature on the city Through a diverse range of ten city case studies The Urban Contract compares European North American and Asian Urban Contracts It concludes with a theoretical proposal for understanding the deep dialectical nature of Contract Cities their reciprocity and competition their dual trend towards growth and decay their cyclical nature as agents of change and disruption of the social forms of urbanity

Inclusive Place Branding Mihalis Karavatzis, Massimo Giovanardi, Maria Lichrou, 2017-11-22 Place branding is often a response to inter place competition and discussed as if it operated in a vacuum ignoring the needs of local communities It has developed a set of methods catchy slogans colourful logos star architects bidding for City of Culture status etc that are applied as quick fix solutions regardless of geographical and socio political contexts Critical views of place branding are emerging which focus on its unexplored consequences on the physical and social fabric of places These more critical approaches reveal place branding as an essentially political activity serving hidden agendas and marginalizing social groups. Scholars and practitioners can no longer ignore the need for more responsible and socially sensitive approaches to cater for a wider range of stakeholders and which fully acknowledge the importance of resident participation in decision making. The contributions in this innovative book set out to introduce new critical ways of thinking around place branding and practices that encourage it to be more inclusive and participatory. It will be of interest to researchers and advanced students of branding, critical marketing and destination marketing as well as critical tourism and environmental design.

Urbanization and the Environment in Developing Countries, 1990 Havana Susan Fitzgerald, 2022-05-01 Following the crisis of the Special Period, Cuba promoted urban agriculture throughout its towns and cities to address food sovereignty and security. Through the adoption of state recommended design strategies, these gardens have become places of social and economic exchange throughout Cuba. This book maps the lived experiences surrounding three urban farms in Havana to construct a deeper understanding about the everyday life of this city. Using narratives and drawings, this research uncovers these sites as places where education, intimacy, entrepreneurship, wellbeing and culture are interwoven alongside food production. Henri Lefebvre's latent work on rhythm analysis is used as a research method to capture the everyday beats particular to Havana surrounding these sites. This book maps the many ways in which these spaces shift power away from the state to become places that are co-created by the community to serve as a crucial hinge point between the ongoing collapse of the city and its future wellbeing.

Henri Lefebvre and the Theory of the Production of Space Christian Schmid, 2022-11-29 Henri Lefebvre was the major theorist of space and of the urban. This is the definitive book on Lefebvre. Shortlisted for the Deutscher Memorial Prize 2023. This book presents an encompassing, detailed and thorough overview and reconstruction of Lefebvre's theory of space and of the urban. Henri Lefebvre belongs to the generation of the great French intellectuals and philosophers together with his contemporaries Michel Foucault and Jean Paul Sartre. His theory has experienced a remarkable revival over the last two decades and is discussed and applied today in many disciplines in humanities and social sciences, particularly in urban studies, geography, urban sociology, urban anthropology, architecture and planning. Lefebvre, together with David Harvey, is one of the leading and most read theoreticians in these fields. This book explains in an accessible way the theoretical and epistemological context of this work in French philosophy and in the German dialectic: Hegel, Marx and Nietzsche, and reconstructs in detail the historical development of its different elements. It also gives an overview on the receptions of Lefebvre and discusses a wide range of applications of this theory in many research fields such as urban and regional development, urbanization, urbanity, social space and everyday life.

Marxism and Real Estate Development Julian Roche, 2023-09-01 This book straddles two worlds and attempts to bring them together: that of Lefebvre's Marxism on the one hand and that of real estate development on the other. Lefebvre has now become a household name amongst many contemporary Marxists, especially those with an interest in urban planning and certain quarters of the architectural profession however his work is far less well known by real estate professionals whether investors developers brokers or indeed policymakers Marxism and Real Estate Taking Lefebvre Seriously has both a large scope and a very bold aim to use an explication and analysis of the work of Henri Lefebvre not only to present a critique of development but also to draw these two worlds together It therefore first aims to present the arguments of this increasingly well known French Marxist philosopher sociologist and pioneer of urban studies second to situate contemporary real estate development in the light of Lefebvre s work and third to analyse the potential application of Lefebvre s work to each of the major components of contemporary real estate to use Lefebvre s work in order to recommend practical action for developers working alongside planners and architects to influence the future of global real estate As well as its direction at developers themselves this book should be of interest to economists real estate researchers and professionals planners urban studies scholars and of course to those interested in the application of Lefebvre s work to real estate Accessible Housing for South Asia Amitabh

Kundu, Tomaz Ponce Dentinho, Habibullah Magsi, Kanika Basu, Sumana Bandyopadhyay, 2022-03-04 This book deals with important issues related to urban housing in South Asia It analyses various aspects of housing including spatial and temporal requirements and needs as well as the challenges of implementing housing projects such as financial feasibility of estate development projects and housing design Finally it discusses the socio economic and environmental impacts of the rapid urban housing development in South Asia Written by experts from various disciplines the book presents several case studies that address issues such as housing provision legislative financial and technical support access to employment opportunities and markets the cumulative impact on gentrification exclusion and spatial equity and the economic social and environmental sustainability of urban tissue Researchers housing planners and policy makers will find this book a valuable resource in meeting the demand for affordable and sustainable housing and overcoming housing shortages in developing countries
