

The control panel is densely packed with touch-sensitive buttons. It includes a search icon, a home button, and various function keys. Below the button grid are four large rotary knobs, each with a colored indicator (yellow, green, blue, red) and a corresponding channel number (1, 2, 3, 4). The knobs are used for adjusting various parameters of the instrument.

The front panel features four BNC connectors, each with a colored cap matching the knobs above: yellow (channel 1), green (channel 2), blue (channel 3), and red (channel 4). To the left of these connectors are several other ports, including a USB port and a FireWire port, along with a power button and other control elements.
