The Nature of German Imperialism Bernhard Gissibl, 2016-07-01 Today the East African state of Tanzania is renowned for wildlife preserves such as the Serengeti National Park the Ngorongoro Conservation Area and the Selous Game Reserve Yet few know that most of these initiatives emerged from decades of German colonial rule This book gives the first full account of Tanzanian wildlife conservation up until World War I focusing upon elephant hunting and the ivory trade as vital factors in a shift from exploitation to preservation that increasingly excluded indigenous Africans Analyzing the formative interactions between colonial governance and the natural world The Nature of German Imperialism situates East African wildlife policies within the global emergence of conservationist sensibilities around 1900

International Law and the History of Resource Extraction in Africa George Forji Amin, 2023-09-22 This book investigates the historical economic and legal regimes that legitimated the resource extraction and exploitation of Africa between the 15th and 19th centuries and led to the continent's trajectory of underdevelopment in the world system The book interrogates the economic and legal structures that supported European intervention in Africa It explores the trade and private property rights which were to shape the economic future of the continent most notably the trade in human beings as legitimate private property by European powers The book then looks at the techniques used to submerge African sovereignty under European sovereignty during the scramble for territorial control in the 19th century concluding with the validation of occupation in international law following the 1884 85 Berlin Conference The book argues that the doctrines of trade and property rights sanctioned by international law led to a trend of African dispossession that set the continent on a path to underdevelopment with long reaching consequences This book will be of interest to researchers and students across law history economics international relations and African studies

First-Century Christians in Twenty-First Century Africa Nathan P. Devir, 2022-02-28 Millions of African Christians who consider themselves genealogical descendants of one of the Ten Lost Tribes of Israel in other words Jewish by ethnicity but Christian in terms of faith are increasingly choosing a religious affiliation that honors both of these identities Their choice Messianic Judaism Messianic adherents emulate the Christians of the first century observing the Jewish commandments while also affirming the salvational grace of Yeshua Jesus As the first comparative ethnography of such fulfilled Jews on the African continent this book presents case studies that will enrich our understanding of one of global Christianity s most overlooked iterations

Africa's Development Impasse Doctor Stefan Andreasson, 2013-07-04 Orthodox strategies for socio economic development have failed spectacularly in Southern Africa Neither the developmental state nor neoliberal reform seems able to provide a solution to Africa s problems In Africa s Development Impasse Stefan Andreasson analyses this failure and explores the potential for post development alternatives Examining the post independence trajectories of Botswana Zimbabwe and South Africa the book shows three different examples of this failure to overcome a debilitating colonial legacy Andreasson then argues that it is now time to resuscitate post development theory s challenge to conventional development In doing this he claims we face the enormous challenge of translating post development into actual politics for a socially and politically sustainable future and using it as a dialogue about what the aims and aspirations of post colonial societies might become This important fusion of theory with empirical case studies will be essential reading for students of development politics and Africa

Africa's Transition from Colonisation to Independence and Decolonisation: Joseph Conrad's Heart of Darkness, Chinua Achebe's Things Fall Apart, and Moses Isegawa's Abyssinian

Chronicles Ulrich Pallua, 2004-03-08 The concept of Africaness visualises Africa from three different points of view and at three different stages of history With reference to Africa's political background from the 19th to the 20th century Joseph Conrad the coloniser Chinua Achebe the colonised and Moses Isegawa the decolonised tell the story of the black continent and its development from colonisation to independence This development epitomises the heart of darkness whose laws and characteristics have changed throughout the centuries

Ireland and Empire in the Late Nineteenth Century Fergal O'Leary, 2023 This book examines the place of imperialism in the cultural political and economic life of late nineteenth century Irish society It highlights the tensions which arose because Ireland was at the same time both a colonial subject of Britain yet also shared aspects of the imperial culture which was being formed during this period It considers how Empire seeped into everyday Irish life explores how Irish men and Irish women were intimately bound up with British expansionism with imperial achievements and setbacks enthusiastically covered in many national and local newspapers and discusses how Irish politicians and students vehemently debated imperial matters in public It addresses key questions including What were the similarities and differences with Britain's imperial experience Was there a general awareness and understanding of the implications of British overseas expansion How was Ireland's ambiguous role in Britain's imperial enterprise perceived did the Irish regard themselves as empire makers opponents of British national chauvinism or occupying a more neutral role Overall the book provides a nuanced analysis of the impact of the British Empire in Ireland demonstrating how the Empire was central to Ireland's late nineteenth century historical experience for nationalists and unionists alike
