Cancer Nanotheranostics: What Have We Learned So Far?

João Conde, Pedro Viana Baptista, Jesús M De La Fuente, Furong Tian, 2016-03-17 After a quarter of century of rapid technological advances research has revealed the complexity of cancer a disease intimately related to the dynamic transformation of the genome However the full understanding of the molecular onset of this disease is still far from achieved and the search for mechanisms of treatment will follow closely It is here that Nanotechnology enters the fray offering a wealth of tools to diagnose and treat cancer In fact the National Cancer Institute predicts that over the next years nanotechnology will result in important advances in early detection molecular imaging targeted and multifunctional therapeutics prevention and control of cancer Nanotechnology offers numerous tools to diagnose and treat cancer such as new imaging agents multifunctional devices capable of overcome biological barriers to deliver therapeutic agents directly to cells and tissues involved in cancer growth and metastasis and devices capable of predicting molecular changes to prevent action against precancerous cells Nanomaterials based delivery systems in Theranostics Diagnostics discover how integrating cancer research and nanotechnology modeling can help patient diagnosis and treatment recognize how to translate nanotheranostics data into an actionable clinical strategy discuss with industry leaders how nanotheranostics is evolving and what the impact is on current research efforts and last but not least learn what approaches are proving fruitful in turning promising clinical data into treatment realities

Five Lessons I Didn't Learn From Breast Cancer (And One Big One I Did) Shelley Lewis, 2008-05-06 An irreverent funny compassionate look at what having breast cancer means and what it doesn't From the pink ribbons to the websites that sell related accessories and stuffed animals breast cancer has morphed from a disease to an experience And at every step of the way society tells women that this experience can teach them profound lessons and maybe even give them a peek at the meaning of life But what if it doesn't Before Shelley Lewis got breast cancer she was a smart edgy network producer After the long month of treatment ended she was still a smart edgy network producer The cancer was gone but in its place there was no epiphany no new perspective on life Lewis found that for herself and other women breast cancer was many things but it was not necessarily an opportunity for self improvement It didn't teach them lessons but surviving it did draw on hard won life lessons they'd already learned A wonderful interweaving of the author's personal story interviews with breast cancer survivors and a sharp eyed journalist's look at the breast cancer community this book is full of unconventional wisdom unexpected advice and hilarious observations about life inside the pink bubble

Cancer Epidemiology in China: What We Have Learnt So Far? Jianguang Ji,Tianhui Chen,Xiaochen Shu,Hao Liu,2020-04-13 After several decades of development the socialist market economy of China is now the world s second largest economy by nominal GDP China is also the largest economy by purchasing power parity according to the International Monetary Fund In tandem with the development of the Chinese economy China s cancer burden is rising rapidly due to an ageing population and the adoption of unhealthy lifestyle behaviours According to the data from the National Central Cancer Registry NCCR of China the incidence and mortality of cancer have been increasing rapidly in China In recent years cancer has been the leading cause of death among city residents and the second cause of death among rural residents which has become a stark public health issue in China According to the NCCR an estimated 4.29 million new incident cases 12 thousand per day and 2.81 million death cases 7.5 thousand per day would occur in 2015 in China This corresponds to the age standardized incidence rate ASIR of 201.1 per 100 000 and age standardized mortality rate ASMR of 126.9 per 100 000 respectively Due to the geographical and ethnical disparities in living habits and healthcare level the cancer spectrum differs between different regions and ethnical groups in China According to the estimation from IARC the incidence of nasopharyngeal carcinoma and liver cancer is the world s highest in specific regions of China The incidence of some cancer types in Chinese urban areas such as colorectal prostate kidney and bladder cancers is similar to that in developed countries or regions where the incidence of cancer is highly associated with obesity and westernised lifestyles Nevertheless the incidence of some common cancer types in rural areas including oesophageal stomach liver and cervical cancers shares similarity with less developed countries or regions in the world where cancers are associated with chronic infectious agents due to poverty In addition the mortality rate is higher in rural areas which suggests a poorer cancer prognosis due to late diagnosis and or unsatisfying clinical treatment The distinct cancer patterns of different regions and or ethnic groups indicate a need for precise cancer prevention and control plans tailored for different geographical regions and or ethnic groups The overarching goal of the proposed Frontiers in Oncology Research Topic is to present current perspectives on cancer epidemiology in Chinese characteristics and provide current knowledge of cancer burden as well as cancer mortality to academic investigators clinicians and stakeholders from the translational clinical and public health

Thinking Through Breast Cancer Mary Ann G. Cutter,2018-03-06 Anyone who has been diagnosed with breast cancer or knows someone who has been diagnosed with breast cancer recognizes that cancer raises a host of questions concerning its nature and how we treat it Such questions frame the difficult decisions that patients must make about their treatment and care Thinking Through Breast Cancer is a philosophical investigation of how breast cancer is described explained evaluated and socialized in medicine Written by a breast cancer survivor the book interweaves personal experience with a systematic breakdown of key and highly pertinent philosophical concepts and brings to light insights that emerge in metaphysics epistemology ethics social and political philosophy and bioethics Further it is an investigation of the ethical implications of understanding breast cancer Cutter seamlessly combines clinical information with philosophical analysis and makes recommendations as to how we can navigate the complex and at times uncertain terrain of breast cancer knowledge and care In this way the book is not simply a survey of what we know about breast cancer but a personal search for guidance about navigating the complex confusing and frightening terrain of breast cancer diagnosis treatment and survival
