

What Is a Superhero? Essay Example

Super hero is the hero of the fantasy role. Early in the cartoon shape, and later in television and movies have their original superhero. They have special abilities that beyond the ordinary people, the super heroes can do some unusual feat and heroic action, protect the people, to fight with the evil forces. Generally they will have a character that represents their personality and abilities of gorgeous costumes, and the name of a same personality. One of the most representative is a superman.

Superman was born in Krypton, real name Kale - El. When Krypton was destroyed, his parents found the new home - the earth and used a spaceship to send him to earth. The spaceship crashed in Kansas Smallville. A couple of farmers have adopted Kale - El. They give him the name Clark Kent and dependent on him to adulthood. He became a newspaper reporter when he grows up. He has an innate ability to super-strong sense of justice and compassion and, often in times of crisis, they wear blue tights, a red cape, an incarnation of Superman to come forward, chivalric, save the world.

Most superheroes have the following characteristics: has extraordinary strength and the associated technical competence, proficiency related equipment. Although the superheroes have a very powerful force, but these forces are not the same for each other. Such as Superman, he can fly freely; and thermal energy rays emitted from the eyes; and mighty. He is invulnerable, super hearing, X vision, regeneration (needs to absorb solar energy), heat rays, cold air, flying, etc.

These forces from the star's light is yellow, but the magic, various colors of Krypton, red sunrays are Superman's weaknesses. In my opinion the biggest enemy of Superman, no doubt Lex Luthor is the only answer. He does not have any super powers, but he is wise and has a persistent heart. Lex was born in civilian areas by virtue of their wisdom. He took over Metropolis, he established LexCorp, he even became president of the United States, he was the son of the Metropolis, he is the pinnacle of a person standing in the world.

When Superman is flying in the sky, when Superman took the spotlight of his own, although Lex is the world's most successful person he will be envious. Although he does not have super powers, but he always used his mortal body against Superman, because he has to stand on top of the world to prove that Lex Luthor, rather than Superman. Superman is a superhero not only because he has super powers but also because he is the hope of people in the face of evil forces. Dual identity is a super hero with the general public between a safety line, as long as there is this safety line, the two will be able to keep at peace.

Dual identity revealed out of the division and confrontation, is a country beyond the ability of the public to individuals, but had to be subordinated to the concept of public morality and public opposition conflict.

How Superheroes Model Community Nathan Miczo, 2016-08-30 From the perspectives of positive psychology and positive communication superheroes are often depicted as possessing virtues and serving as inspirational exemplars However many of the virtues enumerated as characterizing the superhero e.g. courage teamwork creativity could just as easily be applied to heroes of other genres To understand what is unique to the superhero genre How Superheroes Model Community Philosophically Communicatively Relationally looks not only to the virtues that animate them but also to the underlying moral framework that gives meaning to those virtues The key to understanding their character is that often they save strangers and they do so in the public sphere The superhero's moral framework therefore must encompass both the motivation to act to benefit others rather than themselves especially people to whom they have no relational obligation and to preserve the public sphere against those who would disrupt it Given such a framework Nathan Miczo argues that superheroes are not and could not be loners They constantly form team ups super teams alliances partnerships take on mentorship roles and create sidekicks Social constructionist approaches in the communication field argue that communication in part works to shape and create our social reality Through this lens Miczo proposes that superheroes maintain themselves as a community through the communicative practices they engage in
