Let's Talk About Varsity, 2009 Higher Education Financing in East and Southern Africa Pundy Pillay, 2010 This nine country study of higher education financing in Africa includes three East African states Kenya Tanzania and Uganda five countries in southern Africa Botswana Lesotho Mozambique Namibia and South Africa and an Indian Ocean island state Mauritius Higher Education Financing in East and Southern Africa explores trends in financing policies paying particular attention to the nature and extent of public sector funding of higher education the growth of private financing including both household financing and the growth of private higher education institutions and the changing mix of financing instruments that these countries are developing in response to public sector financial constraints This unique collection of African country case studies draws attention to the remaining challenges around the financing of higher education in Africa but also identifies good practices lessons and common themes Born in Chains Clinton Chauke, 2018-05-15 What is it like to be born dirt poor in South Africa Clinton Chauke knows having been raised alongside his two sisters in a remote village bordering the Kruger National Park and a squatter camp outside Pretoria Clinton is a young village boy when awareness dawns of how poor his family really is there s no theft in the village because there s absolutely nothing to steal But fire destroys the family hut and they decide to move back to the city There he is forced to confront the rough and tumble of urban life as a bumpkin He is Venda whereas most of his classmates speak Zulu or Tswana and he has to face their ridicule while trying to pick up two or more languages as fast as possible With great self awareness Clinton negotiates the pitfalls and lifelines of a young life crime and drugs football religion friendship school circumcision and ultimately becoming a man Throughout it all he displays determination as well as a self deprecating humour that will keep you turning the pages till the end Clinton s story is one that will give you hope that even in a sea of poverty there are those that refuse to give up and ultimately succeed Fees Must Fall Susan Booysen, 2016-10-01 This book explores the student discontent a year after the start of the 2015 South African FeesMustFall revolt FeesMustFall the student revolt that began in October 2015 was an uprising against lack of access to and financial exclusion from higher education in South Africa More broadly it radically questioned the socio political dispensation resulting from the 1994 social pact between big business the ruling elite and the liberation movement The 2015 revolt links to national and international youth struggles of the recent past and is informed by black consciousness politics and social movements of the international left Yet its objectives are more complex than those of earlier struggles The student movement has challenged the hierarchical top down leadership system of university management and it s double speak of professing to act in workers and students interests yet entrenching a regressive system for control and governance University managements while on one level amenable to change have also co opted students into their ranks to create co responsibility for the highly bureaucratised university financial aid that stands in the way of their social revolution This book maps the contours of student discontent a year after the start of the FeesMustFall revolt Student voices dissect colonialism improper compromises by the founders of democratic South Africa feminism worker rights and meaningful education In depth assessments by prominent scholars reflect on the complexities of student activism its impact on national and university governance and offer provocative analyses of the power of the revolt Student Financing of Higher Education Donald Heller,Claire Callender,2013-06-07 The financing of higher education is undergoing great change in many countries around the world In recent years many countries are moving from a system where the costs of funding higher education are shouldered primarily by taxpayers through government subsidies to one where students pay a larger share of the costs There are a number of factors driving these trends including A push for massification of higher education in the recognition that additional revenue streams are required above and beyond those funds available from governments in order to achieve higher participation rates Macroeconomic factors which lead to constraints on overall government revenues Political factors which manifest in demands for funding of over services thus restricting the funding available for higher tertiary education A concern that the returns to higher education accrue primarily to the individual rather than to society and thus students should bear more of the burden of paying for it This volume will help to contribute to an understanding of how these trends occur in various countries and regions around the world and the impact they have on higher education institutions students and society as a whole With contributions for the UK USA South Africa and China this vital new book gives a truly global picture of the rapidly changing situation Transforming Transformation in Research and Teaching at South African Universities Rob Pattman,Ronelle Carolissen,2018-12-21 What is transformation in contemporary South African higher education How can it be facilitated through research and pedagogic practices These questions are addressed in this edited collection by established academics and emerging research students from nine South African universities The chapters give us access to students worlds how they construct experience and navigate their complex spheres on and off campus By engaging with students as knowledge producers we transform popular ways of thinking about race gender class sexuality disability and age as singular and natural markers of difference and diversity Rather than taking diversity as fixed and rooted in nature we explore how diversity is imagined and lived in particular contexts on and off campus World Development Report 2024 World Bank,2024-08-01 Middle income countries are in a race against time Many of them have done well since the 1990s to escape low income levels and eradicate extreme poverty leading to the perception that the last three decades have been great for development But the ambition of the more than 100 economies with incomes per capita between US 1 100 and US 14 000 is to reach high income status within the next generation When assessed against this goal their record is discouraging Since the 1970s income per capita in the median middle income country has stagnated at less than a tenth of the US level With aging populations growing protectionism and escalating pressures to speed up the energy transition today s middle income economies face ever more daunting odds To become advanced economies despite the growing headwinds they will have to make miracles Drawing on the development experience and advances in economic analysis since the 1950s World Development Report 2024 identifies pathways for developing economies to avoid the middle income trap It points to the need for not one but two transitions for those at the middle income level the first from investment to infusion and the second from infusion to innovation Governments in lower middle income countries must drop the habit of repeating the same investment driven strategies and work instead to infuse modern technologies and successful business processes from around the world into their economies This requires reshaping large swaths of those economies into globally competitive suppliers of goods and services Upper middle income countries that have mastered infusion can accelerate the shift to innovation not just borrowing ideas from the global frontiers of technology but also beginning to push the frontiers outward This requires restructuring enterprise work and energy use once again with an even greater emphasis on economic freedom social mobility and political contestability Neither transition is automatic The handful of economies that made speedy transitions from middle to high income status have encouraged enterprise by disciplining powerful incumbents developed talent by rewarding merit and capitalized on crises to alter policies and institutions that no longer suit the purposes they were once designed to serve Today s middle income countries will have to do the same
