Federal Communications Commission, 1967      The Fight for Sex Ed Margaret Grace Myers, 2025-08-12 The first comprehensive trade history of sex ed in American schools and an impassioned call to reform sex ed into a powerful tool for reproductive justice and social equality The U S has some of the highest rates of STIs and teen pregnancies in the industrialized world A comprehensive sex education curriculum which teaches facts on contraception prophylactics consent and STIs has been available since the 90s Yet the majority of states require that sex education stress abstinence and 22 states do not require sex ed in public schools at all In The Fight for Sex Ed writer advocate and historian Margaret Myers shows us how we got here While the earliest calls for sex ed came from a coalition of religious leaders and doctors at the turn of the century who sought to control the prevalence of STIs the advent of antibiotics and modern condoms meant that abstinence was no longer good public health policy The religious right however continued to frame it as such using its impressive machinery to replace scientific facts with conservative Christian values Because sex ed is not mandated at the federal level these battles have played out locally throughout the decades through rigged school boards administrative oustings court cases unjust firings scare tactics and threats Myers also shows how the religious right has worked to narrow the discourse around sex ed often dictating the terms of debate almost entirely What we teach young people has serious ramifications for reproductive justice LGBTQ rights gender equality and public health Sex education lies at the intersection of these hugely important cultural forces yet it has been largely invisible This book illuminates its potential and its power     Directory of Public Elementary and Secondary Education Agencies ,     Bus Transportation ,1924

Place, Race, and Identity Formation Ed Douglas McKnight,2017-04-07 In this work of curriculum theory Ed Douglas McKnight addresses and explores the intersections between place with specific discussion of Kincheloe s and Pinar s conceptualization of place and identity and race specifically Winthrop Jordan s historical analysis of race as an Anglo European construction that became the foundation of a white mythos To that end he employs a form of narrative construction called curriculum vitae course of life a method of locating and delineating identity formation which addresses how theories of place race and identity formation play out in a particular concrete life By working through how place racializes identity and existence the author engages in a long Southern tradition of storytelling but in a way that turns it inside out Instead of telling his own story as a means to romanticize the sins of the southern past he tells a new story of growing up within the white discourse of the Deep South in the 1960s and 70s tracking how his racial identity was created and how it has followed him through life Significant in this narrative is how the discourse of whiteness and place continues to express itself even within the subject position of a curriculum theorist teaching in a large Deep South university The book concludes with an elaboration on the challenges of engaging in the necessary anti racist complicated conversation within education to begin to work through and cope with heavy racialized inheritances     Draft Environmental Assessment ,1984     School Desegregation National Institute of Education (U.S.). Desegregation Studies Staff,1977     Vanderbilt Alumnus ,1928     Manufacturers' Record ,1927     Industrial Development and Manufacturers' Record ,1909     Inventory of the Church and Synagogue Archives of Louisiana Louisiana Historical Records Survey,1941
