Consumption and the Country House Jon Stobart,Mark Rothery,2016 This study explores the consumption practices of the landed aristocracy of Georgian England Focussing on three families and drawing on detailed analysis of account books receipted bills household inventories diaries and correspondence Consumption and the Country House charts the spending patterns of this elite group during the so called consumer revolution of the eighteenth century Generally examined through the lens of middling families homes and motivations this book explores the ways in which the aristocracy were engaged in this wider transformation of English society Analysis centres on the goods that the aristocracy purchased both luxurious and mundane the extent to which they pursued fashionable modes and goods the role that family and friends played in shaping notions of taste the influence of gender on taste and refinement the geographical reach of provisioning and the networks that lay behind this consumer activity and the way this all contributed to the construction of the country house The country house thus emerges as much more than a repository of luxury and splendour it lay at the heart of complex networks of exchange sociability demand and supply Exploring these processes and relationships serves to reanimate the country house making it an active site of consumption rather than simply an expression of power and taste and drawing it into the mainstream of consumption histories At the same time the landed aristocracy are shown to be rounded consumers driven by values of thrift and restraint as much as extravagant desires and valuing the old as well as the new not least as markers of their pedigree and heritage

At Home: Sarah Style Sarah Richardson, 2015-11-03 The HGTV star reveals her personal style at home with exterior and interior photos family recipes and hundreds of inspiring decorating tips Warmism as an ideology Rémy Prud'homme, 2015-12-11 This essay does not deny the 0.6°C increase in global temperature that took place during the 20th century It tries to understand how and why this simple fact has been transformed into a militant social movement A clue is found in Hanna Arendt's analyses of ideologies based on the Nazi and Soviet totalitarianisms All the key features of an ideology are present in warmism a monocausal explanation of everything and anything a reverence to science a massive intervention of the State a total war on a terrible evil CO2 designated as enemy number 1 although terrorism is now becoming a serious competitor and on all lukewarmers and finally a popular success The book argues that the equation IPCC Science is highly questionable and that the consequences drawn and the projections/predictions made for year 2100 are even more fragile It shows that the dominant warmist catechism recited by politicians and media goes much beyond this questionable scientific basis The medicines proposed and imposed under the pretext of saving the planet are discussed and shown to be generally unrealistic and regressive In particular contrary to what is claimed by our modern prophets they would prevent countries of Africa and South East Asia which are at last beginning to get themselves out of misery to stop doing so In short warmism is the ideology of the day and it is dangerous like all ideologies      Fermanagh Folk Tales Doreen McBride,2015-11-02 Fermanagh s culture heritage characters and stories set it apart from the rest of the world Every mountain tree lake stream rock stone and character tells a tale There are the strange stories of mythical creatures such as the Shining Folk that lurk under the surface of Lough Erne and the fairies that taught the unruly wee Meg Barnileg a lesson There are spooky tales of the Cooneen poltergeist that haunted the Murphy family and the ghost of Belleek Pottery And there are the pants or tall tales that the locals love to retell such as the stories about educated Irish pigs who understood three languages talking horses or the pike who went fishing for squirrels All these stories and more are featured in this unique collection which will take you deep into the heart of this historic county      From the Cutting Room of Barney Kettle Kate De Goldi,2015-09-23 Meet filmmaker Barney Kettle who liked to invent stories but found a real one under his nose Barney Kettle knew he would be a very famous film director one day he just didn t know when that day would arrive He was already an actual director he d made four fifteen minute films but so far only his schoolmates and the residents of the High Street had viewed them Global fame was a little way off It would come though Barney was certain about that So begins the manuscript written from the hospital bed of an unnamed man He has written it over many months as he recovers from serious injuries sustained in a city wide catastrophe He has written so he can remember the street where he lived home to a cavalcade of interesting people singular shops and curious stories He has written so he can remember the summer before he was injured the last days of a vanished world Above all he has written so he can remember the inimitable Barney Kettle filmmaker part time dictator questing brain theatrical friend a boy who loved to invent stories but found a real one under his nose a boy who explored his neighbourhood with camera in hand and stumbled on a mystery that changed everything A beautiful story big hearted richly entertaining powerful 2016 Storylines Notable Junior Fiction Award and winner of the Esther Glen Award at the 2016 NZ Book Awards for Children and Young Adults
