Charade Parade Edwin D. Enoch, 2020-06-01 Charade Parade By Edwin D Enoch We all are going the same places in life we just take different roads to get there and throughout our journeys many of us only get to do what we have to do instead of what we love marching to the beat so to speak In this march who we are underneath is not who we display to the world thus creating the Charade Parade This collection of poetry expresses who Edwin Enoch is beyond the Charade Parade and he wishes who his readers are beyond their daily charade will connect with who he is underneath and see that his experience may not be so different from their own and they will gain a sense of connectivity

Game Frame Aaron Dignan, 2011-03-08 Ever wonder why teens can spend entire weekends playing video games but struggle with just one hour of homework Why we're addicted to certain websites and steal glances at our smartphones under the dinner table Or why some people are able to find joy in difficult or repetitive jobs while others burn out It's not the experiences themselves but the way they're structured that matters All our lives we've been told that games are distractions playful pastimes but unrelated to success In Game Frame Aaron Dignan shows us that the opposite is true games produce peak learning conditions and accelerated achievement Here the crucial connection between the games we love to play and the everyday tasks goals and dreams we have trouble realizing is illuminated Aaron Dignan is the thirty something founder of a successful digital strategy firm that studies the transformative power of technology in culture He and his peers were raised on a steady diet of games and gadgets ultimately priming them to challenge the status quo of the modern workplace What they learned from games goes deeper than hand eye coordination instead this generation intrinsically understands the value of adding the elements of games into everyday life Game Frame is the first prescriptive explanation of what games mean to us the human psychology behind their magnetic pull and how we can use the lessons they teach as a framework to achieve our potential in business and beyond Games are a powerful way to influence and change behavior in any setting Here Dignan outlines why games and play are such important trends in culture today and how our technology from our iPhones to our hybrid cars primes us to be instinctive players Game Frame tackles the challenging task of defining games and the mechanics that make games work from several perspectives then explores these ideas through the lens of neuroscience Finally Dignan provides practical tips for using basic game mechanics in a variety of settings such as motivating employees at work or encouraging children at home giving readers the tools to develop their own games to solve problems in their everyday lives Illuminated throughout with a series of real world examples and hypothetical scenarios Game Frame promises a crash course in game design and behavioral psychology that will leave the reader and by extension the world itself more productive Revolutionary visionary practical and time tested Game Frame will change the way you approach life Finding a Replacement for the Soul Brett Bourbon,2009-06-30 Approaching the study of literature as a unique form of the philosophy of language and mind as a study of how we produce nonsense and imagine it as sense this is a book about our human ways of making and losing meaning Brett Bourbon asserts that our complex and variable relation with language defines a domain of meaning and being that is misconstrued and missed in philosophy in literary studies and in our ordinary understanding of what we are and how things make sense Accordingly his book seeks to demonstrate how the study of literature gives us the means to understand this relationship The book itself is framed by the literary and philosophical challenges presented by Joyce s Finnegan s Wake and Wittgenstein s Philosophical Investigations With reference to these books and the problems of interpretation and meaning that they pose Bourbon makes a case for the fundamental philosophical character of the study of literature and for its dependence on theories of meaning disguised as theories of mind Within this context he provides original accounts of what sentences fictions non fictions and poems are produces a new account of the logical form of fiction and of the limits of interpretation that follow from it and delineates a new and fruitful domain of inquiry in which literature philosophy and science intersect Table of Contents Preface Note on Abbreviations Introduction What Are We When We Are Not Part I The Surface of Language and the Absence of Meaning 1 From Soul Making to Person Making 2 The Logical Form of Fiction 3 The Emptiness of Literary Interpretation 4 To Be But Not To Mean 5 How Do Oracles Mean Part II Senses and Nonsenses Joyce s Finnegans Wake and Wittgenstein s Philosophical Investigations 6 A Twitterlitter of Nonsense Askesis at Finnegans Wake 7 The Analogy between Persons and Words 8 The Human Body Is the Best Picture of the Human Soul 9 The Senses of Time 10 Being Something and Meaning Something Bibliography Acknowledgments Index This is an adventurous and unusual book Bourbon moves back and forth between literary and philosophical contexts with ease showing in multifarious ways how the one can often in unexpected ways illuminate the other Throughout these wide ranging explorations Bourbon uncovers a good deal about both the nature of literary meaning and our distinctive if tellingly irreducible relations to literary texts Garry L Hagberg author of Art as Language Wittgenstein Meaning and Aesthetic Theory and Meaning and Interpretation Wittgenstein Henry James and Literary Knowledge The Five Mysteries of Life 5 Jaewon Kang,2022-08-01 The information about the book is not available as of the moment Math Games: Skill-Based Practice for Third Grade Ted H. mean to feel time to sense its passing along the sinews and nerves of the body as much as the synapses of the mind And how do books as material arrangements of print and paper mediate such temporal experiences Chronometres Devotional Literature Duration and Victorian Reading Culture is a study of the time inflected reading practices of religious literature the single largest market for print in Victorian Britain It examines poetic cycles by John Keble Alfred Tennyson Christina Rossetti and Frances Ridley Havergal family prayer manuals Sunday reading books and periodicals and devotional gift books and daily textbooks Designed for diurnal and weekly reading chronometrical literature tuned its readers attentions to the idea of eternity and the everlasting peace of spiritual transcendence but only in so far as it parcelled out reading into discrete increments that resembled the new industrial time scales of factories and railway schedules Chronometres thus takes up print culture affect theory and the religious turn in literary studies in order to explore the intersections between devotional practice and the condition of modernity It argues that what defines Victorian devotional literature is the experience of its time signatures those structures of feeling associated with its reading durations For many Victorians reading devotionally increasingly meant reading in regular portions and often according to the calendar and work day in contrast to the liturgical year Keeping pace with the temporal measures of modernity devotion became a routinized practice a way of synchronizing the interior life of spirit with the exigencies of clock time Chronometres considers how the deliverances afforded through time scaled reading are persistently materialised in the body both that of the book and of the reader Recognizing that literature and devotion are not timeless abstractions it asks how the materiality of books conceived as horological relationships through reading might bring about the felt experience of time Even as Victorian devotion invites us to tarry over the page it also prompts the question what if it is eternity that keeps time with the clock The Palgrave

Encyclopedia of Victorian Women's Writing Lesa Scholl, Emily Morris, 2022-12-15 Since the late twentieth century there has been a strategic campaign to recover the impact of Victorian women writers in the field of English literature However with the increased understanding of the importance of interdisciplinarity in the twenty first century there is a need to extend this campaign beyond literary studies in order to recognise the role of women writers across the nineteenth century a time that was intrinsically interdisciplinary in approach to scholarly writing and public intellectual engagement At Home with the Holocaust Lucas F. W. Wilson, 2025 Based on analyses of literature and oral histories of children of survivors At Home with the Holocaust reveals how the material conditions of survivor family homes along with household practices and belongings rendered these homes as archives of trauma that in turn traumatized the children of Holocaust survivors
