What White Boyz Want:

White Boyz Blues Kenneth Lincoln, 2007-10-01 A memoir of a father's pain, humor and healing as he learns to embrace a new masculinity down West. How does a white male raised in the hardscrabble culture of the West learn to raise a young daughter on his own? In this unconventional memoir, contemporary Native American scholar Kenneth Lincoln relates his struggle to embrace a new masculinity in the late twentieth century. Through a poignant combination of poems, letters and his own unique voice, Lincoln shares the story of his life, the death of family and close friends, love, divorce, depression and through it all, the headstrong daughter who becomes the center of his world. How to Slowly Kill Yourself and Others in America Kiese Laymon, 2020-11-10 A New York Times Notable Book. A revised collection with thirteen essays including six new to this edition and seven from the original edition by the star in the American literary firmament with a voice that is courageous, honest, loving and singularly beautiful. NPR Brilliant and uncompromising, piercing and funny. How to Slowly Kill Yourself and Others in America is essential reading. This new edition of award-winning author Kiese Laymon's first work of nonfiction looks inward, drawing heavily on the author and his family's experiences while simultaneously examining the world: Mississippi, the South, the United States that has shaped their lives. With subjects that range from an interview with his mother to reflections on Ole Miss football, Outkast and the labor of Black women, these thirteen insightful essays highlight Laymon's profound love of language and his artful rendering of experience, trumpeting why he is simply one of the most talented writers in America. New York magazine I Am Woman Lee Maracle, 1996 One of the foremost Native writers in North America, Lee Maracle links her First Nations heritage with feminism in this visionary book. Maracle has created a book of true wisdom, intense pride, sisterhood and love. Milestones Review The Texas criminal reports, 1919 The Chosen One Echo Brown, 2022-01-04 This memoir filled with overwhelming emotions and power. The Mary Sue testifies to the disappointments and triumphs of a Black first-generation college student in a predominantly white institution. There are many watchers and they are always white. That's the first thing Echo notices as she settles into Dartmouth College. Despite graduating high school in Cleveland as valedictorian, Echo immediately struggles to keep up in demanding classes. Dartmouth made many promises; it couldn't keep. The campus is not a rainbow-colored utopia where education lifts every voice. Nor is it a paradise of ideas, an incubator of inclusivity or even an exciting dating scene. But it might be a portal to different dimensions of time and space, only accessible if Echo accepts her calling as a Chosen One and takes charge of her future by healing her past. This remarkable challenge demands vulnerability, humility and the conviction to ask for help without sacrificing self-worth. In mesmerizing personal narrative and magical realism, Echo Brown confronts mental illness, grief, racism, love, friendship, ambition, self-worth and belonging as they steer the fates of first-generation college students at Dartmouth. The Chosen One is an unforgettable coming-of-age story that bravely unpacks the double-edged college transition as both catalyst for old wounds and a fresh start. Finalist for the Ohioana Book Award. A Mary Sue Best YA Novel of the Year 2022 Catalyst.

Standish The Southwestern Reporter, 1918 At Home and Abroad La Vinia Delois Jennings, 2010-07-27 Featuring new critical essays by scholars from Europe South America and the United States At Home and Abroad presents a wide ranging look at how whiteness defined in terms of race or ethnicity forms a category toward which people strive in order to gain power and privilege Collectively these pieces treat global spaces whose nation building and identity formation have turned on biological and genealogical exigencies to whiten themselves Drawing upon racialized national practices implemented prior to and during the twentieth century each of the essays enlists literature or performance to reflect the sociopolitical imperatives that secured whiteness in the respective locations they study They range from examinations of whiteness in the literature of Appalachia and contemporary Argentinean poetry to an analysis of performances memorializing the colonial experience in Italy and an exploration into the white rap music of Eminem and contemporary multiracial passing As the contributors show literary and performance representations have the power to chronicle histories that reflect the behaviors and lived realities of our selves Whether whiteness in addition to its physical manifestation presents itself as identity symbol racism culture social formation political imposition legal imposition or pathology it has been outed into the visible even in national spaces where the term whiteness has yet to be translated and entered into the official lexicon The ten essays collected here provide powerful insights into where and how the race for biological and genealogical whiteness persists in various geopolitical realms and the ways in which Nordic whites as well as ethnic whites and nonwhites resecure its ascendance La Vinia Delois Jennings is professor of English at the University of Tennessee Knoxville Her recent critical study Toni Morrison and the Idea of Africa won the 2008 Toni Morrison Society Prize for Best Single Authored Book on the Nobel laureate and Pulitzer Prize winning author
