What Is Translation Centrifugal Theories Critical Intervention Douglas Robinson:

What is Translation? Douglas Robinson, 1997 An investigation into the state of translation studies which looks ahead at the direction in which the author sees the field moving Included are reviews of the work of translation theorists A volume in a series which aims to present a broad spectrum of thinking on translation The Pushing-Hands of Translation and its

Theory Douglas Robinson, 2016-05-12 This book presents an East West dialogue of leading translation scholars responding to and developing Martha Cheung's pushing hands method of translation studies Pushing hands was an idea Martha began exploring in the last four years of her life and only had time to publish at article length in 2012 The concept of pushing hands suggests a promising line of inquiry into the problem of conflict in translation Pushing hands opens a new vista for translation scholars to understand and explain how to develop an awareness of non confrontational alternative ways to handle translation problems or problems related to translation activities that are likely to give rise to tension and conflict The book is a timely contribution to celebrate Martha's work and also to move the conversation forward Despite being somewhat tentative and experimental it probes into how to enable and develop dynamic interaction between and reciprocal determinism of different hands involved in the process of translation The Translator- Centered Multidisciplinary

Construction Lin Zhu, 2012 This book embraces the epistemological and methodological issues of theoretical construction in the field of Translation Studies from a historical and global perspective The theoretical stances are explained in detail through a systemic inquiry into the constructive aspects of theoretical innovation of the American translation theorist Douglas Robinson In order to renew and promote theoretical thinking in the field of Translation Studies this book aims to reflect on existing theoretical problems in translation trace the translation theorist's innovative and constructive ways of thinking about translation theory and explore productive philosophical and theoretical resources of translation studies This book will not only be helpful to a further and full understanding of Robinson's thoughts on translation but also offers a rethinking of how to advance Translation Studies epistemologically and methodologically The Vision of Dante Edoardo

Crisafulli, 2003 The popular and critically acclaimed translation of Dante's Divine Comedy into English was carried out by the Anglican Reverend H F Cary He has an honoured place in the rediscovery of Dante's masterpiece in Romantic Britain Shelley Byron Wordsworth and Coleridge lavished praise upon his translation and it was through Cary's The Vision of Dante that the beauty and intricacies of the Italian poem The book examines crucial aspects of British culture in the 19th Century and throws light on the manifold transformations of Dante's imagery into English poetry A Chronology of Translation in China and the West Sin-wai Chan, 2009 This book is a study of the major events and publications in the world of translation in China and the West from its beginning in the legendary period to 2004 with special references to works published in Chinese and English It covers a total of 72 countries places and 1 000 works All the events and activities in the field have been grouped into 22 areas or categories for easy referencing This book is a valuable reference tool for all scholars working in the field of translation At Translation's Edge Nataša Durovicova, Patrice Petro, Lorena Terando, 2019-06-14 Since the 1970s the field of Translation Studies has entered into dialogue with an array of other disciplines sustaining a close but contentious relationship with literary translation At Translation's Edge expands this interdisciplinary dialogue by taking up questions of translation across sub fields and within disciplines including film and media studies comparative literature history and education among others For the contributors to this volume translation is understood in its most expansive transdisciplinary sense translation as exchange migration and mobility including cross cultural communication and media circulation Whether exploring the Universal Declaration of Human Rights or silent film intertitles this volume brings together the work of scholars aiming to address the edges of Translation Studies while engaging with major and minor languages colonial and post colonial studies feminism and disability studies and theories of globalization and empire Teaching Translation LAWRENCE VENUTI, 2016-08-05 Over the past half century translation studies has emerged decisively as an academic field around the world and in recent years the number of academic institutions offering instruction in translation has risen along with an increased demand for translators interpreters and translator trainers Teaching Translation is the most comprehensive and theoretically informed overview of current translation teaching Contributions from leading figures in translation studies are preceded by a substantial introduction by Lawrence Venuti in which he presents a view of translation as the ultimate humanistic task an interpretive act that varies the form meaning and effect of the source text 26 incisive chapters are divided into four parts covering certificate and degree programs teaching translation practices studying translation theory history and practice surveys of translation pedagogies and key textbooks The chapters describe long standing programs and courses in the US Canada the UK and Spain and each one presents an exemplary model for teaching that can be replicated or adapted in other institutions Each contributor responds to fundamental questions at the core of any translation course for example how is translation defined What qualifies students for admission to the course What impact does the institutional site have upon the course or pedagogy Teaching Translation will be relevant for all those working and teaching in the areas of translation and translation studies Additional resources for Translation and Interpreting Studies are available on the Routledge Translation Studies Portal The Routledge Handbook of the History of Translation Studies Anne Lange, Daniele Monticelli, Christopher Rundle, 2024-03-20 The Routledge Handbook of the History of Translation Studies is an exploration of the history of translation and interpreting studies TIS as a field of intellectual enquiry The volume covers the evolution of thinking on translation from the earliest discourses in Assyria Egypt Israel China India Greece and Rome up to the early 20th century when TIS emerged as an identifiable academic field The volume also traces the institutionalization of TIS and its key concepts from their beginnings in the 1920s in Ukraine up to their contemporary interdisciplinary manifestations Written by leading international scholars many of whom played a direct role in the events they describe the chapters in this volume provide a comprehensive and in depth account of the birth and consolidation of translation and interpreting studies as a thriving interdisciplinary. With a focus on providing readers with the methodological and theoretical tools they need to conduct research as well as background in the historiography of TIS this handbook is an indispensable resource for all students and researchers of translation and interpreting studies. Complicating the History of Western Translation Siobhán McElduff, Enrica Sciarrino, 2014-04-08 As long as there has been a need for language there has been a need for translation yet there is remarkably little scholarship available on pre modern translation and translators. This exciting and innovative volume opens a window onto the complex world of translation in the multilingual and multicultural milieu of the ancient Mediterranean. From the biographies of emperors to Hittite scribes in the second millennium BCE to a Greek speaking Syrian slyly resisting translation under the Roman empire the papers in this volume fresh and innovative contributions by new and established scholars from a variety of disciplines including Classics Near Eastern Studies Biblical Studies and Egyptology show that translation has always been a phenomenon to be reckoned with. Accessible and of interest to scholars of translation studies and of the ancient Mediterranean the contributions in Complicating the History of Western Translation argue that the ancient Mediterranean was a translational society even when paradoxically cultures resisted or avoided translation. Indeed this volume envisions an expansion of the understanding of what translation is how it works and how it should be seen as a major cultural force. Chronologically the papers cover a period that ranges from around the third millennium BCE to the late second century CE geographically they extend from Egypt to Rome to Britain and beyond. Each paper prompts us to reflect about the problematic nature of translation in the ancient world and challenges monolithic accounts of translation in the West. Literary Translation and the Making of Originals Karen Emmerich, 2017-09-21 Literary Translation and the Making of Originals engages such issues as the politics and ethics of translation how aesthetic categories and market forces contribute to the establishment and promotion of particular originals and the role translation plays in the formation re formation and deformation of national and international literary canons. By challenging the assumption that stable originals even exist Karen Emmerich also calls into question the tropes of ideal equivalence and unavoidable loss that contribute to the low status of translation translations and translators in the current literary and academic marketplaces. Contemporary Translation Theories Edwin Gentzler, 2001-09-13 During the last thirty years the field of translation has exploded with multiple new theories. Contemporary Translation Theories examines five of new approaches the translation workshop the science of translation translation studies polysystem theory and deconstruction all of which began in the mid 1960s and continue to be influential today. Translingual Francophonie and the Limits of Translation Ioanna Chatzidimitriou, 2020-09-02 Translingual Francophonie and the Limits of Translation proposes a novel theoretical lens for the study of translation as theme and practice in works by four translingual francophone authors Vassilis Alexakis Chahdortt Djavan Nancy Huston and Andre Makine. In particular it argues that translation allows for the most productive encounter with otherness when it is practiced in its estuarine dimension. When two foreign bodies of water come into contact in an estuary often a new environment is created at their shared border that does not however invalidate the distinctiveness chemical biological geological etc of either fresh or sea water Similarly texts translated from one language to another should ideally not transform into but rather relate to their new host s linguistic and cultural codes in ways that account both for their undiluted strangeness and the missteps gaps and discontinuities the challenging yet novel and productive articulations of relationality that proliferate at the border of the encounter

Identity and Theatre Translation in Hong Kong Shelby Kar-yan Chan, 2015-04-14 In this book Shelby Chan examines the relationship between theatre translation and identity construction against the sociocultural background that has led to the popularity of translated theatre in Hong Kong A statistical analysis of the development of translated theatre is presented establishing a correlation between its popularity and major socio political trends When the idea of home often assumed to be the basis for identity becomes blurred for historical political and sociocultural reasons people may come to feel homeless and compelled to look for alternative means to develop the Self In theatre translation Hongkongers have found a source of inspiration to nurture their identity and expand their home territory By exploring the translation strategies of various theatre practitioners in Hong Kong the book also analyses a number of foreign plays and their stage renditions The focus is not only on the textual and discursive transfers but also on the different ways in which the people of Hong Kong perceive their identity in the performances

Translation in Systems Theo Hermans, 2014-04-08 The notion of systems has helped revolutionize translation studies since the 1970s As a key part of many descriptive approaches it has broken with the prescriptive focus on what translation should be encouraging researchers to ask what translation does in specific cultural settings From his privileged position as a direct participant in these developments Theo Hermans explains how contemporary descriptive approaches came about what the basic ideas were and how those ideas have evolved over time His discussion addresses the fundamental problems of translation norms equivalence polysystems and social systems covering not only the work of Lev Holmes Even Zohar Toury Lefevere Lambert Van Leuven Zwart Dhulst and others but also giving special attention to recent contributions derived from Pierre Bourdieu and Niklas Luhmann An added focus on practical questions of how to investigate translation problems of definition description assessment of readerships etc makes this book essential reading for graduate students and indeed any researchers in the field Hermans account of descriptive translation studies is both informed and critical At the same time he demonstrates the strength of the basic concepts which have shown considerable vitality in their evolution and adaptation to the debates of the present day

Translation as Reparation Paul Bandia, 2014-06-03 Translation as Reparation showcases postcolonial Africa by offering African European language literature as a case study for postcolonial translation theory and proposes a new perspective for postcolonial literary criticism informed by theories of translation The book focuses on translingualism and interculturality in African Europhone literature highlighting the role of oral culture and artistry in the writing of fiction The fictionalizing of African orature in postcolonial literature is viewed in terms of translation and an intercultural writing practice which challenge the canons of colonial linguistic propriety through the subversion of social and linguistic conventions The study opens up pathways for developing new insights into the ethics of translation as it raises issues related to the politics of language ideology identity accented writing and translation It confirms the place of translation theory in literary criticism and affirms the importance of translation in the circulation of texts particularly those from minority cultures in the global marketplace Grounded in a multidisciplinary approach the book will be of interest to students and scholars in a variety of fields including translation studies African literature and culture sociolinguistics and multilingualism postcolonial and intercultural studies

Pacifist Invasions Yasser Elhariry, 2017 Pacifist Invasions is about what happens to the contemporary French lyric in the translingual Arabic context Drawing on lyric theory comparative poetics and linguistics it reveals three generic modes of translating Arabic poetics into French in works by Habib Tengour Algeria Edmond Jab s Egypt Salah St ti Lebanon Abdelwahab Meddeb Tunisia and Ryoko Sekiguchi Japan

The Behavioral Economics of Translation Douglas Robinson, 2022-11-30 This book applies frameworks from behavioral economics to Western thinking about translation mapping four approaches to eight keywords in translation studies to bring together divergent perspectives on the study of translation and interpreting The volume takes its points of departure from the tensions between the concerns of behavioral and neoclassical economists The book considers on one side behavioral economists interest in the predictable irrationality of Humans and its nuances as they unfold in terms of gender here organized around Masculine Human Feminine Human and Queer perspectives and on the other side neoclassical economists chief concerns with the unfailing rationality of the Econs Robinson applies these four approaches across eight chapters each representing a keyword in the study of translation agency difference Eurocentrism hermeneutics language norms rhetoric and world literature with case studies that problematize the different categories Taken together the book offers a comprehensive treatment of the behavioral economics of translation and promotes new ways of thinking in the study of translation and interpreting making it of interest to scholars in the discipline as well as those working along interdisciplinary lines in related fields such as philosophy literature and political science

Bibliography of Translation Studies: 2000 Lynne Bowker, Dorothy Kenny, Jennifer Pearson, 2020-07-24 A volume of selected annotated references arranged under specific headings to provide a non partisan guide to teachers involved in designing courses in translation and or interpreting

Repairing Texts Hans P. Krings, 2001 This study challenges the idea that given the effectiveness of machine translation major costs could be reduced by using monolingual staff to post edit translations It presents studies of machine translation systems and current research into translation process

Postcolonial Polysystems Haidee Kruger, 2012 Postcolonial Polysystems The Production and Reception of Translated Children s Literature in South Africa is an original and provocative contribution to the field of children s literature research and translation studies It draws on a variety of methodologies to provide a perspective both product and process oriented on the ways in which translation contributes to the production of children's literature in South Africa with a special interest in language and power as well as post and neocolonial hybridity The book explores the forces that affect the use of translation in producing children's literature in various languages in South Africa and shows how some of these forces precipitate in the selection production and reception of translated children's books in Afrikaans and English It breaks new ground in its interrogation of aspects of translation theory within the multilingual and postcolonial context of South Africa as well as in its innovative experimental investigation of the reception of domesticating and foreignising strategies in translated picture books The book has won the 2013 EST Young Scholar Prize
