Eynon, 2017-06-19 This book is a multi disciplinary exploration of the intersection relationship and connection between higher education economic development and gender in post Apartheid South Africa In just twenty years South Africa has rewritten its constitution restructured its macroeconomic growth and development policies restructured its higher education system and made a commitment to provide opportunity for all its citizens specifically those who have historically been marginalized women and blacks Eynon weaves together these unique perspectives to illustrate how these multiple domains map onto women and the critical role they play in the present and future of the country Gender equality and women's empowerment and education were considered key drivers to South Africa's transformation Higher Education , 2023-11-02 COVID wrought havoc on the world's economic systems Higher education did not escape the ravages brought on by the pandemic as institutions of higher education around the world faced major upheavals in their educational delivery systems. Some institutions were prepared for the required transition to online learning. Most were not. Whether prepared or not, educators rose to the challenge. The innovativeness of educators met the challenges as digital learning replaced the face-to-face environment. In fact, some of the distance models proved so engaging that many students no longer desire a return to the face-to-face model. As with all transitions, some things were lost while others were gained. This book examines practice in the field as institutions struggled to face the worst global pandemic in the last century. The book is organized into four sections: Perils and Promises, The State of Online Education, Goals and Challenges of Online Learning, and Innovations in the Age of COVID. It presents various perspectives from educators around the world to illustrate the struggles and triumphs of those facing new challenges and implementing new ideas to empower the educational process. These discussions shed light on the impact of the pandemic and the future of higher education post-COVID. Higher education has been forever changed, and higher education as it once was may never return. While many questions arise, the achievements in meeting and overcoming the pandemic illustrate the creativity and innovativeness of educators around the world who inspired future generations of learners to reach new heights of accomplishment even in the face of the pandemic.

Governance and the postcolony David Everatt, 2019-08-01 Civil society, NGOs, governments, and multilateral institutions all repeatedly call for improved or good governance, yet they seem to speak past one another. Governance is in danger of losing all meaning precisely because it means many things to different people in varied locations. This is especially true in sub-Saharan Africa. Here, the postcolony takes many forms, reflecting the imperial project with painful accuracy. Offering a set of multidisciplinary analyses of governance in different sectors: crisis management, water, food security, universities in different locales across sub-Saharan Africa, and from different theoretical approaches, network to adversarial network governance, this volume makes a useful addition to the growing debates on how to govern. It steers away from offering a correct definition of governance or from promoting a particular position on postcoloniality. It gives no neat conclusion but invites readers to draw their own conclusions based on these differing approaches to and analyses of governance in the postcolony. As a robust critical assessment of power and accountability in the sub-Saharan context, Governance and the Postcolony: Views from Africa brings together topical case studies that will be a valuable resource for those working in the field of African international relations, public policy, public management, and administration.

Utilisation of South African Research on Higher Education Jan Botha, Gabriele Vilyte, 2021-10-26 The relationship between research on the one hand and policy practice on the other hand is complicated, and collaboration between scholars in research on higher education (RHE) and institutional research (IR) practitioners is often lacking. This book marks a collaborative effort of a diverse range of South African RHE and IR scholars and asks the overarching questions: What do we know about the utilisation of South African research on higher education (SARHE) and its subset of research known as Institutional Research? How and by whom is this research used? The book begins by looking at the historical underpinnings of SARHE and delineating the shape and size of this body of research This is followed by a series of case studies on South African Higher Education institutions and governmental bodies investigating how when and by whom are research on higher education and institutional research used in the decision making of these organisations This book is the first of its kind in South Africa and sets out to lay the groundwork for further research into the use uptake and utilisation of RHE and IR in this country

Low-Income Students, Human Development and Higher Education in South Africa Melanie Walker, Monica McLean, 2022-07-15 This book explores learning outcomes for low income rural and township youth at five South African universities The book is framed as a contribution to southern and Africa centred scholarship adapting Amartya Sen s capability approach and a framework of key concepts capabilities functionings context conversion factors poverty and agency to investigate opportunities and obstacles to achieved student outcomes This approach allows a reimagining of inclusive learning outcomes to encompass the multi dimensional value of a university education and a plurality of valued cognitive and non cognitive outcomes for students from low income backgrounds whose experiences are strongly shaped by hardship Based on capability theorising and student voices the book proposes for policy and practice a set of contextual higher education capability domains and corresponding functionings orientated to more justice and more equality for each person to have the opportunities to be and to do what they have reason to value The book concludes that sufficient material resources are necessary to get into university and flourish while there the benefits of a university education should be rich and multi dimensional so that they can result in functionings in all areas of life as well as work and future study the inequalities and exclusion of the labour market and pathways to further study must be addressed by wider economic and social policies for inclusive learning outcomes to be meaningful and that universities ought to be doing more to enable black working class students to participate and succeed Low Income Students Human Development and Higher Education in South Africa makes an original contribution to capabilitarian scholarship conceptually in theorising a South based multi dimensional student well being higher education matrix and a rich reconceptualisation of learning outcomes as well as empirically by conducting rigorous longitudinal in depth mixed methods research on students lives and experiences in higher education in South Africa The audience for the book includes higher education researchers international capabilitarian scholars practitioners and policy makers

Transnational Education and Curriculum Studies John Chi-Kin Lee, Noel Gough, 2020-07-28 In recent years there has been increasing attention placed on international and transnational aspects of school and higher education curricula and the different research approaches and lenses through which these issues are studied This edited volume explores diverse perspectives and discourses of curriculum studies contributed by scholars both within and outside the majority world In addition it tackles both transnational cross border endeavours involving national governments and policy measures and the promises challenges and failings of those formal relationships The book consists of three sections The first section provides an introduction and overviews of transnational education in connection with curriculum studies schooling and higher education The second section deals with transnational and international perspectives on curriculum studies schooling and education The final third section highlights transnational and international perspectives on higher education This timely volume tackles the questions often posed by curriculum scholars and educational researchers around the possibility of a transnational approach to curriculum studies and how and if a common set of means can transcend national boundaries and sensitivities It looks at the common issues and problems across nations that international and transnational curriculum and educational research work could address This volume will appeal to researchers and policy makers interested in transnational education and curriculum studies

Reflections of South African Student Leaders: 1994 to 2017 Ntokozo Bhengu, Denyse Webbstock, 2020-05-13 Reflections of South African Student Leaders 1994 2017 brings together the reflections of twelve former SRC leaders from across the landscape of South African universities Reviews of the previous volume 1981 2014 suggested that it contributed significantly to a better understanding of the stringent demands of visionary and transformative leadership required by university leaders in the fastchanging and increasingly complex public higher education sector This volume is based on comprehensive interviews with former student leaders each of whom provided a personal account in their own words of their experience in the position of student leadership The interviewees are from different backgrounds and of diverse political persuasions The book is important for current and future leaders of higher education institutions as it provides insights into the thinking aspirations desires fears and modus operandi of student leaders Such insight can contribute to developing and implementing appropriate strategies for achieving meaningful and constructive engagement with current and future student leaders

Transforming Universities in South Africa , 2020-08-31 The idea of transformation in higher education underpins all policy documents academic literature and on going debates in South Africa Transforming Universities in South Africa Pathways to Higher Education Reform responds to the pressing need to comprehensively review the post apartheid experience and assess where South Africa's higher education stands across the continent and globally particularly within the country's efforts to overcome decades of socio economic imbalances It addresses the question of whether South Africa's transformation strategy from apartheid to democracy was simply a symbolic new flag raising and new anthem singing exercise reflecting a transition akin to those limited decolonization projects elsewhere in the world or whether something more fundamental was possible and was achieved with political and policy implications for other countries in Africa and globally This volume's ultimate purpose is to provide a basis for imagining new futures in which South Africa higher education in the context of Africa and the global world takes centre stage Social Justice and Education in the 21st Century Willie Pearson Jr., Vijay Reddy, 2021-04-10 The world is not an equal place There are high and low income countries and high and low income households For each group there are differential educational opportunities leading to differential educational outcomes and differential labor market opportunities This pattern often reproduces the privileges and inequalities of groups in a society This book explores this differentiation in education from a social justice lens Comparing the United States and South Africa this book analyzes each country's developmental thinking on education from human capital and human rights approaches in both primary and higher education The enclosed contributions draw from different disciplines including legal studies sociology psychology computer science and public policy

Business Research Pieter W. Buys, Merwe Oberholzer, 2023-03-14 This book focuses on research methodologies that apply to business research particularly for researchers and managers embarking thereon to support managerial decision making in the industry In doing so the book's objective is to guide business researchers in identifying defining and applying rigorous academic methodologies that will enable them to formulate design and execute effective research that answers their specific management problems Such guidance can empower organizational managers to understand that business research can contribute to practical solutions to actual problems experienced in the industry In addition by emphasizing the integrative nature between 1 academic research and 2 experienced industry problems it becomes possible to foster an awareness of such research's potential impact on organizational performance management sustainability and resilience With that attention is given to narrowing the gap between theory and practice which requires that fundamentals of scientific research be adhered to while maintaining the delicate balance between a practice friendly guide to pragmatically sound and academically rigorous business research

Faculty Perspectives on Vocational Training in South Africa Eunice Ivala, Chaunda Scott, 2019-03-06 The Cape Peninsula University of Technology CPUT is one of four Universities of Technology established by the South African government in 2005 with a focus on vocational training This book presents faculty experiences of CPUT's innovative work integrated learning and teaching model as well as findings from practice based research being done in the institution The purpose of this volume is to be a resource for other institutions in South Africa that wish to try similar strategies as well as a to trigger a community of practice with vocationally oriented institutions outside of South Africa Regime and Education in Zimbabwe Bekithemba Dube, Albert Mufanechiya, 2024-06-10 This collection focuses on the post independence educational development in Zimbabwe It shows how the ZANU PF regime has presided over the demise of education and covers a wide range of topics such as violence against teachers poor salaries student activism minority languages and curriculum innovations This volume argues that the regime has used education as a tool for repression Curriculum innovations introduced and implemented in Zimbabwe have little to do with improving the performance of the learners and more to do with stopping teachers from pushing the regime change agenda Consequently this has resulted in a nation in crisis marked with high turnover poor economy and mass exodus of teachers and learners The contributors to this volume make various suggestions which could recenter education towards addressing the experiences of the learners as opposed to being used as a tool to push repression and thwart democracy The Formation of Intellectual Capital and Its Ability to Transform Higher Education Institutions and the Knowledge Society Cardoso Espinosa, Edgar Oliver, 2019-06-28 The knowledge society arises from the combination of four interdependent elements the production of knowledge through research its transmission through education its dissemination through information and communication technologies and its exploitation through innovation For this reason higher education institutions HEIs are the main component of the formation of intellectual capital because they are the key element of the knowledge society so it is necessary that they continue to be the main source of the necessary skills that allow the increase of economic competitiveness sustainability and citizen welfare within the framework of quality education and equity The Formation of Intellectual Capital and Its Ability to Transform Higher Education Institutions and the Knowledge Society is an essential research publication that provides systemic research on the formation of intellectual capital in higher education and its impact on the knowledge society Highlighting topics such as educational programs management strategy and educational studies this book is meant for educators educational technologists students researchers professionals and administrators

Urban Tourism in the Global South Christian M. Rogerson, Jayne M. Rogerson, 2021-07-13 This book examines and addresses the particular character of urban tourism occurring in the global South It presents research essays on tourism in urban areas of South Africa a country which is associated with big 5 nature tourism but where urban areas are also major tourism destinations The book contextualizes urban tourism in South Africa as part of the other half of urban tourism an overlooked but energetic scholarship which is emerging on urban places in the global South The volume moves to present a collection of original material variously on national perspectives on urban tourism following by a cluster of city level perspectives The last three contributions turn to the role of tourism in small towns the bottom rung in the urban settlement system Issues of concern include gastronomic tourism VFR travel airportsclapes climate change AirBnb and creative tourism Finally as COVID 19 is potentially a defining historical moment for urban tourism the volume incorporates historical research perspectives in order to address the overwhelming present mindedness of mainstream urban tourism writings The book highlights the challenges and opportunities for tourism development in the environment of the urban global South and is relevant to scholars of both tourism and urban studies as well as researchers in development studies
