When Is The 2015 2016 Saps Recruitment:

Why We Kill Karl Kemp, 2024-03-02 Why do so many South Africans prefer taking the law into their own hands to relying on the police Why are those who do so often cheered or sympathised with Of the unprecedented 27 000 recorded murders in South Africa in 2022 at least 1 894 or 7 per cent were attributed to mob justice and vigilantism more than double the number from five years before In the first nine months of 2023 a further 1 472 mob justice deaths had already been registered Mob justice is nothing new but in recent years it has taken on an undeniably desperate furious edge From the breathtakingly violent Zandspruit massacre in May 2021 to the killings during the July unrest two months later to the march of Operation Dudula across the nation in 2022 vigilantism and the condoning of it has never before captured the zeitgeist of South Africa so sharply What has changed in the past few years and what does it augur for the future Following three recent cases of mob justice from the hellish metropolitan townships of Gauteng to the far flung bushveld of northern Limpopo and drawing on extensive research and interviews Why We Kill explores the roots realities and consequences of South Africa's current crisis of vigilantism

New Public Management in Africa Benon C.

Basheka, Lukamba-Muhiya. Tshombe, 2017-08-25. The administrative sciences have been dominated by a turn to managerial perspectives in the late 20th and early 21st centuries and in the spirit of this turn, New Public Management or NPM promises to produce efficient, responsible and client-oriented public services. The reforms carried out in the pursuit of New Public Management are often accompanied by great optimism and rapid enthusiastic steps toward implementation. Even in highly developed industrial countries, however, these fundamental reforms often overlook the political and cultural contexts of the implementing country. New Public Management in Africa: Emerging Issues and Lessons provides much needed theoretical foundations for NPM reforms in the African context and reflects on the success of existing reforms in the development of several African states. The individual contributions in this timely volume provide important analyses of academic discourse, practical policy achievements and desiderata. The book as a whole, however, provides a valuable impetus for public administration research in and on African states, sharing findings on the results of reforms to date and adjustments required for these reforms to succeed. For public administration researchers outside of Africa, this book offers a review of New Public Management case studies that are unavailable or difficult to find elsewhere, contributing much to the exchange between African and Western administration science research and demonstrating that African administrative research is well prepared to help resolve global challenges.

How Countries Count Crime John A. Eterno, Arvind Verma, Eli B.

Silverman, 2022-09-30. This edited collection illuminates the weaknesses and strengths of crime reporting across a wide range of countries, with a focus on democratic countries in which the police bear some accountability to citizens. In one compendium for the first time, this book documents how different countries record or fail to record crimes. With chapters written by native authors who are experts on the practices of their respective countries, the book explores practices in 15 different countries across the globe. Organized with a parallel country-by-country approach, the book describes and analyzes methods police use to record crimes, with the awareness that the counting of crimes is not only an issue of empirical measurement but also one of social construction Crime reporting practices vary widely by country In some cases reports are not taken and in others reports are carefully based on preliminary investigations Willful manipulation of crime reports can and does occur and the book explores related factors such as political pressure personal ambition community safety and more Discussion questions at the end of each chapter help the reader evaluate the significant issues influencing each country The editors conclude by suggesting best practices for crime reporting and the collection of crime data A unique addition to this book is a foreword by Tofiq Murshudlu the Head of Drugs and Crime for the United Nations in Vienna The book is intended for a wide range of audiences including policing scholars law enforcement and community leaders and students of criminal justice

Secondary Analysis of Electronic Health Records MIT Critical Data,2016-09-09 This book trains the next generation of scientists representing different disciplines to leverage the data generated during routine patient care It formulates a more complete lexicon of evidence based recommendations and support shared ethical decision making by doctors with their patients Diagnostic and therapeutic technologies continue to evolve rapidly and both individual practitioners and clinical teams face increasingly complex ethical decisions Unfortunately the current state of medical knowledge does not provide the guidance to make the majority of clinical decisions on the basis of evidence The present research infrastructure is inefficient and frequently produces unreliable results that cannot be replicated Even randomized controlled trials RCTs the traditional gold standards of the research reliability hierarchy are not without limitations They can be costly labor intensive and slow and can return results that are seldom generalizable to every patient population Furthermore many pertinent but unresolved clinical and medical systems issues do not seem to have attracted the interest of the research enterprise which has come to focus instead on cellular and molecular investigations and single agent e g a drug or device effects For clinicians the end result is a bit of a data desert when it comes to making decisions The new research infrastructure proposed in this book will help the medical profession to make ethically sound and well informed decisions for their patients
