Love in Metro Pratyush Sinha, 2015-10-29 Ego and anger kill love When a negatively emotional person meets a hardheaded one fireworks are bound to happen Arjun was an emotional person He always looked at the world with his own perspective He expected from others and when things didn't go his way he felt bad about them Sanjana on the other hand was a strong girl She had her own way of living never liking being pushed to a corner It was difficult for her to bend if she was not wrong Emotional she was but her emotions were also for herself She wanted her own space and wanted others to understand her Their anger and ego were killing whatever they had between them Was tit for tat really needed Life would have been so different if the anger would have been answered with love happiness and joy If one person is angry is it necessary to return the favor with anger Life gave them a choice it was up to them what they would do out of it The realization of how important the other person was in their life happened only after they lost what they had well almost Was giving back so important

,2014-02-14 The Forest in Medieval German Literature Albrecht Classen,2015-06-03 By pursuing an ecocritical reading
The Forest in Medieval German Literature examines passages in medieval German texts where protagonists operated in the forest and found themselves either in conflictual situations or in refuge By probing the way the individual authors dealt with the forest illustrating how their characters fared in this sylvan space the role of the forest proved to be of supreme importance in understanding the fundamental relationship between humans and nature The medieval forest almost always introduced an epistemological challenge how to cope in life or how to find one's way in this natural maze By approaching these narratives through modern ecocritical issues that are paired with premodern perspectives we gain a solid and far reaching understanding of how medieval concepts can aid in a better understanding of human society and nature in its historical context This book revisits some of the best and lesser known examples of medieval German literature and the critical approach used here will allow us to recognize the importance of medieval literature for a profound reassessment of our modern existence with respect to our own forests Hesperides, Or, Works Both Human and Divine of Robert Herrick
