Research conducted in the United States by the National Bureau of Economic Research has found that the average person in the United States spends about 10 percent of their income on health care. This is a significant increase from the 5 percent spent in 1960. The increase is due to a number of factors, including the aging of the population, the rise in the incidence of chronic diseases, and the increasing cost of medical technology.

■ RESEARCHERS HAVE BEEN TRYING TO FIND A way to make the most of the information that is available in the genome. The genome is the complete set of DNA instructions for building and running an organism. The genome is like a blueprint for a house. The instructions are written in a code that is made up of four letters: A, C, G, and T. The letters are arranged in a sequence that is unique to each individual. The sequence of letters in the genome determines the sequence of amino acids in a protein. The sequence of amino acids in a protein determines the shape and function of the protein. The shape and function of a protein determine the traits of an organism.
