Bay-Williams, Susie Katt, 2024-03-22 Because fluency practice is not a worksheet Fluency in mathematics is more than basic facts or using algorithms It is not about recall or speed Real fluency is about choosing strategies that are efficient flexible lead to accurate solutions and are appropriate for the given situation Developing fluency is a matter of equity and access for all learners The landmark book Figuring Out Fluency in Mathematics Teaching and Learning offered educators the inspiration to develop a deeper understanding of procedural fluency It explained the seven Significant Strategies for fluency and offered a plethora of pragmatic tools for shifting classrooms toward a greater fluency approach However in order to become truly adept with these strategies children must first have certain underlying foundational concepts and skills in place Figuring Out Fluency Ten Underlying Foundations for Reasoning Strategies with Whole Numbers explores the ideas that are essential to reasoning Number Relationships Subitizing and Decomposing Distance to 10 100 and 1 000 Counting and Skip Counting Properties of Addition and Its Inverse Relationship with Subtraction Properties of Multiplication and Its Inverse Relationship with Division Multiplying by 10s and 100s Multiples and Factors Doubling and Halving and Computational Estimation With this book elementary teachers can Help children develop these foundational understandings critical to reasoning and number sense Leverage over 100 classroom ready routines centers and games to develop these concepts both in first instruction practice and intervention Download all of the needed support tools game boards and other resources from the companion website for immediate implementation Develop each and every students knowledge and power to become skilled and confident mathematical thinkers and doers A New Course in Urdu and Spoken Hindi for Learners in Britain Ralph Russell, Alison Shaw, 1991 This guide is for Urdu Hindi speakers who are or are thinking of becoming teachers of Urdu Hindi to British adult learners It discusses the teaching methods to help the students to understand and speak simple sentences correctly in a limited amount of lesson time Teaching English as a Foreign Language, 1936-1961: Selected papers Richard C. Smith, 2005 This set includes the works of neglected theorists such as Horace Wyatt and Michael West This set complements English as a Foreign Language Teaching 1912 1936 Pioneers of ELT Environmental Psychology Mirilia Bonnes, Gianfranco Secchiarioli, 1995-06-22 This textbook provides a clear and comprehensive introduction to the rapidly expanding field of environmental psychology The authors start with a review of the history of environmental psychology highlighting its interdisciplinary nature They trace its roots in architecture ecology and geography and examine the continuing relationship of these subjects to the psychological tradition The book then moves through key contemporary lines of research in the field contrasting models from perception and cognition such as those of Gibson and Brunswick with major social psychological approaches as represented by Lewin Barker and others The book concludes with an analysis of the most promising areas of research and practice Experiencing New Worlds Jürg Wassmann, Katharina Stockhaus, 2007-11-01 The many different localities of the Pacific region have a long history of transformation under both pre and post colonial conditions More recently rates of local transformation have increased tremendously under post colonial regimes The forces of globalization which rapidly distribute commodities images and political and moral concepts across the region have presented Pacific populations with an unprecedented need and opportunity to fashion new and expanded understandings of their cultural and individual identities This volume the first in a new series examines the forces of globalization at different levels as they manifest themselves and operate across cultural cognitive and biographical dimensions of human life in the Pacific While posing familiar questions it offers new answers through the integration of cultural and psychological methods The contributors draw on practice theory cognitive science and the anthropology of space and place while exploring the key analytical rubrics of human agency memory and landscape An Architecture of Place

Randall S. Lindstrom, 2024-06-25 Challenging mainstream architecture's understandings of place this book offers an illuminating clarification that allows the idea's centrality in all aspects of everyday design thinking to be rediscovered or considered for the first time Rigorous but not dense practical but not trivialising the book unfolds on three fronts First it clearly frames the pertinent aspects of topology the philosophy of place importantly differentiating two concepts that architecture regularly conflates place and space Second it rejects the ubiquitous notion that architecture makes place and instead reasons that place is what makes architecture and the built environment possible that place calls for and to architecture and that architecture is thus invited to listen and respond Finally it turns to the matter of designing responses that result not just in more places of architecture demanding little of design nor merely in architecture with some sense of place demanding little more but rising above those responses that constitute an architecture of place demanding the greatest vigilance but offering the utmost freedom Opening up a term regarded as so common that its meaning is seldom considered the author reveals the actual depth and richness of place its innateness to architecture and its essentiality to practitioners clients educators and students including those in all spatial disciplines ICT in the Primary School Gary

Beauchamp, 2013-11-26 This invaluable new text on ICT offers support guidance and inspiration to anyone training to teach or currently teaching in primary schools as well as those studying Education Studies at undergraduate or postgraduate level The book encourages teachers and pupils to realise the potential of the full range of ICT resources It provides primary teachers with the knowledge skills and confidence to plan teach and assess their own ICT lessons as well as to use ICT creatively across the whole curriculum This is not a how to guide or collection of lesson plans but instead balances research based theory with everyday experiences challenging you to understand teaching methods and how they translates into a range of suitable teaching strategies for the whole class small group or individual using ICT Places Rated Almanac David Savageau, 2007 In this unique reference every one of America's 379 metropolitan areas is rated by factors that are important to anyone considering a move Divided into nine thoroughly researched main topics this guide derives its information as much from private sources as government sources providing a well rounded description of all that each metro area has to offer ambience housing jobs crime transportation education health care recreation and climate With a personalized quiz to help

The Timespace of Human

Activity Theodore R. Schatzki, 2010-04-12 This book shows that a concept of activity timespace drawn from the work of Martin Heidegger provides new insights into the nature of activity society and history Although the book is a work of theory it has significant implications for the determination and course not just of activity but of sociohistorical change as well Drawing on empirical examples the book argues 1 that timespace is a key component of the overall space and time of social life 2 that interwoven timespaces form an essential infrastructure of important social phenomena such as power coordinated actions social organizations and social systems and 3 that history encompasses constellations of indeterminate temporalspatial events The latter conception of history in turn yields a propitious account of how the past exists in the present In addition because the concept of activity timespace highlights the teleological character of human action the book contains an extensive defense of the teleological character of such allegedly ateleological forms of activity as emotional and ceremonial actions Since finally the book's ideas about timespace and activity as an indeterminate event derive from an interpretation of Heidegger the work furthers understanding of the relevance of his thought for social and historical theory The book combines textual interpretation theoretical argumentation and empirical substantiation Many of its empirical examples are taken from the Blue Grass Horse Country around Lexington Kentucky where the author resides

The Archaeology of Shamanism Neil S. Price, 2001 No Australian Aboriginal content The Archaeology of Shamanism Neil Price, 2003-12-16 In this timely collection Neil Price provides a general introduction to the archaeology of shamanism by bringing together recent archaeological thought on the subject Blending theoretical discussion with detailed case studies the issues addressed include shamanic material culture responses to dying and the dead shamanic soundscapes the use of ritual architecture and shamanism in the context of other belief systems such as totemism Following an initial orientation reviewing shamanism as an anthropological construct the volume focuses on the Northern hemisphere with case studies from Greenland to Nepal Siberia to Kazakhstan The papers span a chronological range from Upper Palaeolithic to the present and explore such cross cutting themes as gender and the body identity landscape architecture as well as shamanic interpretations of rock art and shamanism in the heritage and cultural identity of indigenous peoples The volume also addresses the interpretation of shamanic beliefs in terms of cognitive neuroscience and the modern public perception of prehistoric shamanism
