processes of popular claims to rights livelihoods and social justice and subsequent forms of populist authoritarianism and the securitization of civil society Previously hopeful calls for dignity democracy and social justice through protesting strikes civil society campaigns legal reforms and elections for example have been met with disdain and civic disengagement This book investigates the re imagination and pursuit of citizen activism in such times of popular disillusionment It explores citizenship utopias as social imaginaries that are enacted and that articulate an ideal social order or democratic polity with ideal forms of experiencing citizenship Its chapters interrogate conventional approaches to citizenship by introducing a nuanced and empirically grounded exploration of the complex ways in which people experience negotiate and engage in the societal changes that they aspire towards The examination of citizenship utopias outlines contemporary signals for transformative futures and their possibilities The book undertakes a fresh effort at contributing to the shifting terrain of critical development studies political anthropology political sociology and decolonising scholarship by engaging in discussions about citizenship activism disillusionment and future societal alternatives in times of multiple global challenges The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution CC BY 4.0 license

Decolonising Journalism Education in South Africa Ylva Rodny-Gumede, Colin Chasi, Zubeida Jaffer, Mvuso Ponono, 2023-05-19 This book is the culmination of several years of collaborative work It is a unique contribution to the field of journalism because of the depth and variety of contributions it makes to the field The scholars who contribute to this volume respond to the great need to rethink journalism from various perspectives including journalism training research the contents of the news media language media ethics the safety of journalists and gender inequities in the news media In doing this they recognise how the societies that journalism address should themselves change Proceedings of the International Conference Theory and Applications in the Knowledge Economy Eduardo Tomé, 2016-07-08 Foreword TAKE 2016 is a dream that came true In about six months a group of friends and colleagues put together in an upcoming and very dynamic university a conference with 9 streams 3 keynotes and 3 special sessions 60 papers presented 6 posters and around 80 participants from 20 countries This is awesome I would like to deeply thank Aveiro University the GOVCOPP research centre the conference committee the keynote speakers the special session convenors the stream leaders the reviewers the authors and the administrative people for all their work and support I want to have two special words one for Blazenka Knezevic without whom the website would not have been possible the other for Gaby Neumann for work in these Proceedings Scientifically TAKE seems to be as important and new and far reaching We don't have shortage of models regarding the knowledge economy but we decisively lack to explore the relation between theory and practice TAKE is a step in exploring that difference We know that Exact sciences find the best answers and social sciences give the best questions J. C. Spender and we also know that Knowledge Management is more preached by scholars than done by practitioners Aino Kianto We assume the first idea and try to overcome the second Hopefully TAKE 2016 will be a great success Thank you for everything

Protest in South Africa Heidi Brooks,Rekgotsofetse Chikane,2024-01-23 Popular protest has become a regular feature of post 1994 South Africa As a young democracy born out of resistance we may understand the contemporary manifestations of protest as extensions of this broader history However it is notably in the context of formal democratic institutions that popular protest has become an increasingly normalised mode of influencing policy demanding service delivery and forcing change Protest is constitutive of South Africa s democratic politics but also reflective of it Protest in South Africa Rejection reassertion reclamation explores the underpinnings of contemporary protest and both its short term causes and structural drivers Focusing on the surge of protest from the mid 2000s this edited volume provides an overview of the complexity of protest action the diversity of protest spaces and actors and responses to protest from both citizens and state The volume situates its analysis against the backdrop of the global wave of protest witnessed since the turn of the 21 century while examining protest in South Africa s local and historical contexts Contributors to the volume examine protests in relation to among other factors provision of infrastructure and services contestations around socio economic development issues of citizenship and demands for inclusive democratic governance Chapters also examine the role of women in protest action the policing of protest and the intersection of protest action with spaces of formal politics The volume also alerts us to the darker side of protest and the destruction and division it may foment It thus considers the prospects of South Africa s evolving sometimes violent protest terrain for social and state stability and democratic progress In the diversity of spaces sectors and communities of interests in which collective action has emerged Protest in South Africa Rejection reassertion reclamation shows how protest is underpinned by a rejection of the status quo a reassertion of interests and a reclaiming of the political and democratic space
