The Inverted Classroom Model Jürgen Handke, Natalie Kiesler, Leonie Wiemeyer, 2013-10-24 When the 1st German Inverted Classroom Conference was staged in 2012 the organizers thought that it may have been the first and last conference of this kind Too few teachers seemed to be familiar with this model in the first place and only a tiny fragment of them would actually apply this model to their own teaching scenarios However in the 2013 conference we were overwhelmed with a large number of teachers who not only wanted to find out about this teaching and learning concept but had already used it Consequently the focus of the 2nd German Inverted Classroom Conference to which this conference volume is dedicated was no longer the installation of the Inverted Classroom Model ICM but fine adjustments in the actual application of it This is reflected in the contributions to this volume Even though all three central aspects of the ICM are addressed 1 content production and delivery 2 testing and 3 the in class phase there has been a shift away from mere content production towards an expansion of the model as well as a move towards fine adjustments of the three components

Reshaping Philosophy: Michael Boylan's Narrative Fiction Wanda Teays, 2022-05-25. This volume offers original essays exploring what fictive narrative philosophy might mean in the research and teaching of philosophy. The first part of the book presents theoretical essays that examine Boylan's recent books Teaching Ethics with Three Philosophical Novels and Fictive Narrative Philosophy: How Literature can Act as Philosophy. The second and third parts offer essays on how Boylan executes his theory in the practice within his novels from his two series De Anima and Arch. The book clearly shows the unique aspects of the fictive narrative philosophy approach. First, it makes story telling accessible to wide audiences. Second, story telling techniques invoke devices that can set out complicated existential problems to the reader that offer an additional approach to thorny problems through the presentation of lived experience. Third, the discussion of these devices is a way to explore philosophical problems in a way that many can profit from. The book concludes with an essay in which Boylan responds to the critical challenges set out in Part One and the practical criticism set out in Parts Two and Three. Boylan addresses the key claims made by his objectors and defends his position. He engages with the authors in the way his theory is matched against his actual novels. This is useful reading for both philosophers and professors of literature, teaching introductory as well as upper level courses in the fields of philosophy, literature and criticism.
