determine which cables you'll need. You may need to purchase extra accessories such as cables and splitters, depending on the components you plan to connect.
- Turn off and unplug all components before making connections.
- If you are connecting a digital cable box, you'll need a special downstream splitter that's compatible with your cable box. Contact your cable provider for details.

Making Video Connections

Your TV includes
several types of video inputs. Use the inputs
that are available on your components that provide the best
video performance, as shown in the table on the right.

Connector type	See this diagram

RF/terrestrial

* Requires an A/V cable (not included).

Additional Connections

For best audio performance, connect your digital audio components using either digital optical or digital-coaxial audio connections.
Depending on which components are in your system, you may need to complete additional connections. For example, if you have a satellite receiver, you'll need to connect the satellite receiver. If you have an A/V receiver, you'll need to connect speakers.

Note

If the connection diagram above conflicts with one on a component's box, refer to the connection diagram on the component box. Also, you should use cables in which you'll connect a component to additional items or to the system. Disconnect their connection to prevent damage.

4 Programming the Remote Control

The remote control is preset to operate Sony brand video equipment.

Sony Equipment	Programmable Code Number
Video/Cable	5001 (Sony Stream System)
Sat/Cable	8001 (Sony Satellite Receiver)

Follow the steps below to program your TV's remote control to operate the new Sony video equipment.

Using the code list below, find the three-digit code number for the manufacturer of your equipment. (If more than one code number is listed, use the number listed first.)

- Press and hold the RECALL or CODE TV button (1) for three seconds to enter programming mode. The code number display will show the TV's code number. (The selected TV's code number is 00000 to 99999.)
- Enter the three-digit manufacturer's code number
using the 0-9 buttons while the button is lit, approximately 10 seconds.
- Press OK button.

When the programming is correct, the selected TV's code number will flash twice slowly, and when not, flash five times quickly.

To check if the code works

Ask your TV's remote control to turn the equipment on, and press the POWER button. If the equipment responds, the programming is completed. If not, try the next code listed.

Tip

- If the code is not within the three-digit code, or is not in the
remote code number to open the remote control, use the code
number in the previous step.
- If the code is not within the three-digit code, or is not in the
remote code number to open the remote control, use the code
number in the previous step.

OK.

Auto Program automatically creates a list of available channels.
When finished, the list is automatically shown in a program. When

Depending on your signal source, the code will be 00000 to 99999
accordingly. See Operating Instructions.
