French Canadians in Michigan John P. DuLong, 2001-04-30 As the first European settlers in Michigan the French Canadians left an indelible mark on the place names and early settlement patterns of the Great Lakes State Because of its importance in the fur trade many French Canadians migrated to Michigan settling primarily along the Detroit Illinois trade route and throughout the fur trade avenues of the Straits of Mackinac When the British conquered New France in 1763 most Europeans in Michigan were Francophones John DuLong explores the history and influence of these early French Canadians and traces as well the successive 19th and 20th century waves of industrial migration from Quebec creating new communities outside the old fur trade routes of their ancestors

How Canadians Communicate VI Charlene Elliott, 2016-03-31 Food nourishes the body but our relationship with food extends far beyond our need for survival Food choices not only express our personal tastes but also communicate a range of beliefs values affiliations and aspirations sometimes to the exclusion of others In the media sphere the enormous amount of food related advice provided by government agencies advocacy groups diet books and so on compete with efforts on the part of the food industry to sell their product and to respond to a consumer driven desire for convenience As a result the topic of food has grown fraught engendering sometimes acrimonious debates about what we should eat and why By examining topics such as the values embedded in food marketing the locavore movement food tourism dinner parties food bank donations the moral panic surrounding obesity food crises and fears about food safety the contributors to this volume paint a rich and sometimes unsettling portrait of how food is represented regulated and consumed in Canada With chapters from leading scholars such as Ken Albala Harvey Levenstein Stephen Kline and Valerie Tarasuk the volume also includes contributions from food insiders bestselling cookbook author and food editor Elizabeth Baird and veteran restaurant reviewer John Gilchrist The result is a timely and thought provoking look at food as a system of communication through which Canadians articulate cultural identity personal values and social distinction Contributors include Ken Albala Elizabeth Baird Jacqueline Botterill
