Study design	Strength	Weakness
Case-control	Good for rare disease or long latency, examine multiple exposures from a single outcome; less expensive and quicker to conduct than cohort study	Possible error in recalling past exposure (Recall Bias) Possible time-order confusion
Cohort	Examining multiple outcomes for a single exposure; examine rare exposures (such as asbestos but not for rare disease); can calculate the incidence of disease (while case control cannot); best technique for an outbreak in a small, well defined population; most accurate observational study	Not good for rare diseases, costly in time and resources; possible loss to follow up over time; factor, which may be many years in the past or may be seen as socially (un)desirable
Cross-sectional	Relatively short duration; can study several outcomes; least expensive	Since exposure and disease status are measured at the same point in time, it may not always be possible to distinguish whether the exposure preceded or followed the disease.
Experimental or Trial	Most scientifically sound, best measure of exposure	Time consuming and Expensive; Unethical for Harmful Exposures

Bacterial	Fungal	Viral	Parasitic
Food poisoning	Candidiasis	Influenza	Chagas Disease
Gonorrhea	Fungal Meningitis	Chickenpox	Ascari
TSS	Genital warts	HIV/AIDS	Strongyloides
Cholera	Aspergillus	Herpes	Malaria
Gastro & ulcers	Athlete's foot	Mumps, measles, rubella	Quarries Giardiasis
Pneumonia	Ringworm	HPV	trichomoniasis
Ear infections & strep throat		Shingles	toxoplasmosis

10 Steps to Outbreak Investigation

- 1) Prepare for field work- Research disease, prepare to travel, make arrangements with personal contacts
- 2) Establish the existence of an outbreak- compare current number of cases to previous cases, use health records, documents, etc.
- 3) Verify diagnosis- Review clinical and laboratory results for the cases, interview patients
- 4) Define and identify cases- establish case definition, have clinical info, characteristics of the people, place, time, etc.
- 5) Describe and orient the data in terms of person, place, and time- use epi curve to describe how many cases at what time
- 6) Develop hypotheses- consider disease, interview people who are ill, try and notice what certain characteristics make people have the disease
- 7) Evaluate hypotheses- compare with established fact, use statistics, use case-control or cohort studies
- 8) Refine hypotheses- study environment, use data for more insight
- 9) Control and Prevention measures- immunization, medicine, isolation, carry out as soon as possible
- 10) Communicate findings- Oral briefing for local health authorities, written report for archives
