How to Enhance Learning Efficiency When Online Learning is Popular and Indispensable: Theory, Research and Practice Rong Lian,Chang Liu ,Juzhe Xi,2024-07-17 Online learning has become more and more common globally whether for comfort adapting to work hours or just having the freedom to study from anywhere And now under the coronavirus pandemic as people are having to stay at home it has become more important than ever Although the popularity of wireless network and portable smart device makes it possible for people to acquire and learn knowledge anytime and anywhere it does not necessarily mean an increased learning performance Relevant research in cognitive science has revealed possible limitations in online learning For example the knowledge acquired through online learning tends to be fragmented and lacks guidance for integrated thinking among different subjects which makes it difficult for learners to form a systematic knowledge structure Learners may experience cognitive overload metacognitive illusion and low learning efficiency in self regulated learning It follows that in the post COVID 19 era online learning puts forward new requirements and challenges to the contemporary students not only to their learning strategies but positive character traits in learning Most of the current learning theories were developed in the early 20th century and may not fit in well with the current situation then possibly leading to inefficient learning and increased learning burden Therefore it is necessary and important to reexplore the influencing factors and mechanisms that affect the learning efficiency of students at all levels nowadays based on which we could construct a theoretical model of efficient learning model

System-Theoretical Urban Development Manfred Rolfes,Jan Lorenz Wilhelm,2024-02-26 In their book the authors introduce the topic of urban development from a systems theoretical perspective and provide explanatory approaches tips and methodological instructions for dealing with urban complexity Knowing full well that this sometimes amounts to squaring the circle the authors draw on applied systemic approaches and systematically couple these with epistemological currents that can be assigned to Luhmann's systems theory. The social understanding of this theory of social systems represents a very good starting point for understanding urban development and urban complexity. From this perspective, urban development can be seen as a process in which organisations and individuals with their own expectations and perspectives are involved in which contradictions and conflicts seem inevitable and the future cannot be clearly predicted. Decisions in cities and municipalities are therefore always associated with risks, irritations and unexpected consequences. With the Potsdam lodestar approach, Rolfes and Wilhelm present a multidimensional approach to managing urban development processes. The approach distinguishes five process dimensions which are presented chapter by chapter and linked with recommendations. The individual chapters are structured along guiding questions and feature appealing visualizations and numerous bonus materials.

Teaching with Technologies in Nursing and the Health Professions Wanda Bonnel, Katharine V. Smith, Christine Hober, 2018-07-28

Praise for the First Edition: This is an excellent resource highly recommended for new and seasoned educators at every level. Nursing Education Perspectives: Written for new and aspiring nursing faculty, this unique book delivers broad teaching principles alongside strategies for selecting the best technology. New generations of students are increasingly familiar with technology and require educators who can add to their skills and shape them with a specific health care focus. Faculty have a responsibility to help their students prepare for the workforce one that increasingly relies on high technology to operate. The teaching principles discussed in this text illuminate the changing technologies used in education and practice and provide strategies for selecting the best technology to obtain specific learning objectives, assignments and outcomes. Teaching with Technologies in Nursing and the Health Professions, Second Edition, has been substantially revised to reflect changes within our health care system and includes two completely new chapters. Founded upon the Integrated Learning Triangle for Teaching with Technologies, a central organizing tool for lesson planning and decision making, concepts throughout the text link to key quality and safety issues, population and public health exigencies and systems approaches to care. Each chapter contains case examples, self-assessment tools, quick teaching tips, evidence-based review abstracts, Q&As answered by noted practice experts and online resources for further learning. New to the Second Edition: New Chapter Discusses the technology leader's role in mentoring, promoting curriculum changes and partnering with colleagues in diverse contexts including staff development. New Chapter Addresses engaging patient and population needs in health promotion and using in-home technologies such as telehealth. Increased focus on Quality and Safety Education in Nursing (QSEN) competencies. Addresses students' needs in the Nurse Educator MSN course. Instructor's Guide and PowerPoint slides. Key Features: Provides strategies for teaching both with technology and about technology. Uses the Integrated Learning Triangle to guide decision making. Discusses applications specific to online classroom and clinical teaching technologies. Includes teaching and leadership tips. Aligned with AACN's Essentials of Master's Education in Nursing.
