Novel insights in rehabilitation of neglect, 2nd Edition Stefan Van Der Stigchel, Tanja Nijboer, 2015-01-09 Hemispatial neglect is the failure to report respond to or orient to novel or meaningful stimuli presented in the contralesional visual field. It constitutes one of the most invalidating neurological disorders that can occur after stroke. It is therefore important to treat neglect as adequate as possible and much of the research dedicated to neglect therefore focuses on rehabilitation. In this special topic you will find 29 articles on the rehabilitation of neglect. This Research Topic has opened new perspectives and has given us an indication of where the field is going. Although some of the current rehabilitation techniques have proven to be beneficial, there is limited agreement on the most valuable technique or the mechanisms underlying the ameliorating effects.

The ventricular-subventricular zone: a source of oligodendrocytes in the adult brain Oscar Gonzalez-Perez, Jose Manuel Garcia-Verdugo, Adan Aguirre, 2014-09-30 Demyelinating diseases are characterized by an extensive loss of oligodendrocytes and myelin sheaths from axolemma which commonly result in disability in young adults. To date, there is no effective treatment against these neurological disorders. In the adult brain, there are neural stem cells (NSCs) that reside within a niche denominated ventricular subventricular zone (V SVZ) in the lateral wall of the cerebral ventricles. NSCs give rise to neurons and oligodendrocytes that help preserve cellular homeostasis. Growing evidence indicates that V SVZ progenitor cells may represent an endogenous source of oligodendrocytes that can be useful to treat demyelinating diseases. This e-Book, The ventricular subventricular zone as a source of oligodendrocytes in the adult brain, collected the most recent evidence regarding the mechanisms that modulate the proliferation, migration, quiescence, cell fate choices, and survival of oligodendrocyte precursors generated in the V SVZ. Herein, we compiled information about the role of Sonic hedgehog, NMDA receptors, ErbB proteins, hemopressin, erythropoietin, osmolarity, and microglia in the oligodendrocyte production. Some chapters also describe the role of oligodendrocyte precursors in the preservation of cellular homeostasis, aging, and white matter repair. All this information is presented as novel research findings, short communications, and review articles which were written by experts in the field of oligodendrocyte generation, myelin production, and white matter remyelination.
