Regional Conflict Management Paul Francis Diehl, Joseph Lepgold, 2003 This collection of original essays is one of the first to examine the implications and efficacy of regional conflict management in the new world order Exploring the Implications of Local and Regional Conflicts Pietrzak, Piotr, 2024-12-05 In today's turbulent global landscape the proliferation of local and regional conflicts presents a formidable challenge to policymakers and scholars alike From the War in Yemen to the Civil War in Syria these conflicts not only have a devastating toll on human lives but also threaten the stability of the international order As the world grapples with the complexities of post Cold War geopolitics there is an urgent need for a comprehensive framework to understand and address these pressing issues Exploring the Implications of Local and Regional Conflicts is a groundbreaking resource meticulously curated for academics and professionals in current affairs and security studies This essential volume offers a multidimensional analysis of critical conflicts shedding light on their underlying dynamics and implications for global power dynamics Drawing from disciplines such as geoeconomics geopolitics and security studies it equips readers with the analytical tools needed to navigate the complexities of this turbulent world

Current Policy, 1984 Political Economics Torsten Persson, Guido Tabellini, 2002-01-25 What determines the size and form of redistributive programs the extent and type of public goods provision the burden of taxation across alternative tax bases the size of government deficits and the stance of monetary policy during the course of business and electoral cycles A large and rapidly growing literature in political economics attempts to answer these questions But so far there is little consensus on the answers and disagreement on the appropriate mode of analysis Combining the best of three separate traditions the theory of macroeconomic policy public choice and rational choice in political science Torsten Persson and Guido Tabellini suggest a unified approach to the field As in modern macroeconomics individual citizens behave rationally their preferences over economic outcomes inducing preferences over policy As in public choice the delegation of policy decisions to elected representatives may give rise to agency problems between voters and politicians And as in rational choice political institutions shape the procedures for setting policy and electing politicians The authors outline a common method of analysis establish several new results and identify the main outstanding problems Reducing World Tensions United States. President (1981-1989 : Reagan), 1984 Northern Territories, Asia-Pacific Regional Conflicts and the Aland Experience Kimie Hara, Geoffrey Jukes, 2009-05-07 Examining the origin and development of the Northern Territories Southern Kuriles sovereignty dispute this volume is the first to take inspiration from the multilaterally resolved land conflict to investigate the possibility of a solution Department of Defense Appropriations for 2000 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on Department of Defense, 2003 Department of Defense Appropriations for 2000: Secretary of Defense and Chairman, Joint Chiefs of Staff United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on Department of Defense, 2003 International Order in a Globalizing

World Yannis A. Stivachtis, 2016-04-22 There is a growing recognition that globalization is leading to fundamental changes in world order creating new imperatives and requiring new ways of understanding the international system Two of the most important actors in the contemporary international system are the United States and Europe and their relationship is fundamental in shaping international order International order shapes and is also being shaped by the forces of globalization whether cultural political or economic This volume examines issues that transcend national and cultural boundaries discussing international order from the perspective of the English School of International Relations It covers areas such as great powers foreign policy relations among great powers sovereignty democracy and legitimacy international terrorism and intelligence and institutions and international organizations Ultimately it analyzes what is to be done to assure a stable international order The volume is relevant to security studies foreign policy transatlantic relations and international organizations as well as international relations theory Institutional Designs for a Complex World Vinod K.

Aggarwal, 2019-06-07 How do established global institutions adapt to new circumstances And how are the formation and evolution of regional institutions constrained by global ones These questions especially relevant for today's transforming Europe are at the center of Institutional Designs for a Complex World In this volume respected scholars explore the possibilities for reconciling regional and global institutions by nesting one within the other or by creating parallel institutions that deal with separate but related activities The authors use an innovative theoretical framework to analyze the factors that lead to institutional bargaining games They show how institutional innovation and the use of linkages might alter such games Their essays published here for the first time examine the development of the Financial Support Fund the European Economic Area institutional competition and conflict in the Bosnian crisis and problems in the European Monetary System They reveal the advantages for international cooperation of both parallel and substantive institutional reconciliation and provide a model for understanding institution building and modification beyond the European experience Handbook of

Regional Conflict Resolution Initiatives in the Global South Jeronimo Delgado-Caicedo, 2022-07-28 During the first half of the twentieth century the international system was largely dominated by the USA and the colonial powers of western Europe After the two world wars the political and economic dominance of these states guaranteed them and their allies an almost complete control of world politics However as it is the norm in the international system power structures are not immutable After the end of the Cold War rapid changes to the existing international hierarchies took place as new countries from the so called developing world began to emerge as crucial actors capable of questioning and altering the power dynamics of the world It is therefore unthinkable to ignore emerging countries such as Russia the People's Republic of China India Brazil or South Africa in the decision making process in today's world order In addition there is a group of smaller yet increasingly important countries that while acknowledging their inability radically to change the rules of the international system are still eager to shift power relations and enhance their influence in the world Argentina Colombia Egypt Indonesia Iran South Korea

Mexico Nigeria Pakistan Saudi Arabia Turkey and Vietnam are generally recognised as part of this grouping of emerging powers from the Global South While there is a consensus amongst academics that emerging powers from the Global South must have a stabilising role within their own regions previous analyses have focused primarily on the impact that emerging powers have had in their own regions conflict resolution initiatives This volume instead aims to go beyond these analyses and provide new insights regarding the effect that this stabilising role has on the continental and global positioning of emerging powers In other words this book explores the relation between a country s involvement in conflict resolution initiatives and its positioning in the international system The volume will contribute to this approach using the perspective of academics and practitioners from countries of the Global South particularly from states that have strengthened or sometimes weakened their position in the international hierarchy of power through a leading role in regional conflict resolution initiatives

The Ashgate Research Companion to Secession Professor Peter Radan, Dr Aleksandar Pavkovic, 2013-04-28 This research companion has three complementary aims First to offer an overview of the current theoretical approaches to secession in the social sciences international relations legal theory political theory and applied ethics Second to outline the current practice of international recognition of secession and current domestic and international laws which regulate secession Third to offer an account of major secessionist movements past and present from a comparative perspective

Water, Power and Politics in the Middle East Jan Selby, 2003-10-24 This original analysis of the Middle East water problems highlights questions and issues which have so far only received minimal attention The author develops a multi layered account of the nature and causes of the conflict and the Palestinian water crisis Each chapter addresses a particular aspect of the Israeli Palestine water conflict and the author uses these to illustrate both the broader nature of Israeli Palestinian relations and factors that the existing water literature underplays or simply gets wrong The book should interest students scholars and practitioners in a wide range of disciplines including Middle East studies politics and international relations water policy geography environmental studies and environmental management
