

2. Understanding the criteria for selecting test cases

Two approaches for selecting test cases

1. Constant set of regression tests that are run for every build or change.
2. Selecting test cases dynamically

Selecting test cases requires knowledge of

1. Defect fixes and changes made in the current build
2. The way to test the current changes
3. The impact that the current changes may have on other parts of the system and
4. The ways of testing the other impacted parts.
