CABINETS:

All metal construction with joints and seams completely closed and sealed. The case front, door.

The case is internally supported, braced and assembled into a single rigid unit construction. All inside corner bends are rounded to a 1/4 inch radius for ease of cleaning and to conform to National Sanitation Foundation codes.

OPERATION:

When the door is shut the cabinet operates as a standard refrigerator for normal temperature storage. The cabinet is designed with air ducts on the left and right side of the interior. Each air duct has a series of strategically placed holes for proper air flow. When the door is opened, a curtain of cold air blows across the cabinet opening from left to right. This keeps hot air out and cold air in, assuring safe storage during peak service time. This is accomplished by means of three blower fans and motors that are activated by the door switch. This action triples the air velocity in the product zone.

It is recommended that the door be left open a maximum time of 45 minutes.

The actual time will depend on ambient temperatures, product temperatures, packaging and other factors. The cabinet is designed primarily for low profile product such as salads, pudding, desserts, milk, etc. Do not place large pans or containers inside that will block or hamper the air flow and the overall performance of the cabinet.

If the door is left open for a period of longer than one hour, the ambient temperature will rise, however the product temperature will lag considerably. The differential in ambient to product temperature could be as much as 15 degrees F.

The Air Curtain cabinet has a 20 amp cord and plug attached. The cabinet has a NEMA Plug 5-20-P and requires a NEMA 5-20-R receptacle

INTERIOR TEMPERATURE CONTROL:

Your Air Curtain has been preset at the factory and should not require any additional adjustment. However, if adjustment is necessary, locate the temperature control at the rear access panel. There are two adjustment screws on the control. TURN THE LOWER SCREW ONLY! Clockwise for colder interior temperatures, counter-clockwise for a warmer temperature.

The upper (cut-in) screw has been preset for defrosting the coil and should not be reset unless by a qualified refrigerator service company.

NOTE: Your Air Curtain is equipped with an electric condensate vaporizer. Excess condensate water flows from the evaporator cooling coil, down a drain tube in the back of the cabinet, to the vaporizer located in the bottom.

When this cold water enters the vaporizer, a thermostat is activated and the water is boiled off. The resulting steam is vented by an aluminum elbow and vapor may be seen at the bottom and/or front of the unit. This is part of
